Point Last Seen A Woman Trackers Story:

Point Last Seen Hannah Nyala, 2002-10 THE ACCLAIMED MEMOIR FROM HANNAH NYALA A MOTHER A TRACKER AND A TRUE SURVIVOR POINT LAST SEEN Escaping an abusive marriage her children abducted by her violent husband Hannah Nyala was left alone to pick up the pieces of her life to heal physically and spiritually She wanted her children back but first she had to fight for her own future by teaching herself the skills of tracking in the Mojave Desert She became a search and rescue tracker dedicated to saving the lives of the lost and so attuned to nature's messages that she can read the history of a footprint the clues in stones and desert sand That's just the beginning of her incredible story For Hannah would soon make the most chilling discovery someone was tracking her on a vicious quest to do her harm Point Last Seen Hannah Nyala, 1997 Point Last Seen is a wholly original account of one woman's life and an intriguing glimpse at the meaning and power of following footprints Cry Last Heard Hannah Nyala, 2012-04-10 She thought she left her darkest nightmare worlds away in the Australian outback Now terror will push her to the edge Shut down by the grief of losing the man she loved Tally Nowata has come home to pursue the search and rescue work that is her passion When a crank phone call leads Tally and a friend to the top of a treacherous peak it is the start of a violent game that will force Tally not only to the heights of danger in Wyoming's Grand Tetons but to the brink of sanity in a race to the death A lethal predator is closing in on Tally He's dead set on revenge and he's targeted the one thing Tally can't survive without her child Hannah Nyala the real life tracker who introduced Tally Nowata in the electrifying novel Leave No Trace brilliantly defines a woman's determination to embrace life after her spirit is shattered and crafts a nail biting chase across a hazardous landscape where no one can rescue the rescuer Two in the Wild Susan Fox Rogers, 2007-12-18 Thelma and Louise get sporty and survive in this anthology of true stories about women whose idea of fun involves sharing adventures big and small in the great outdoors In essays that not only take you to mountains forests lakes and rivers but also explore the powerful and intimate bond of female companionship the editor of Solo On Her Own Adventure introduces sixteen daring women and their travel mates as they ski climb hike bike and drive all over the world Trudge through the muddied roads of Australia's outback with thirty something Sara Corbett and her childhood chum to find the legendary 80 year old woman rumored to split wood faster than any man who challenges her Go fishing with Holly Morris kick back with Pam Houston and a good friend at a Denver ranch or bike with Diane Ackerman and her friend through the aubergine drapery of the forest as they circumnavigate Otsego Lake Hop in the car with Mary Morris and her baby daughter to meet the eccentrics living in the California desert and climb the Himalayas with 54 year old Jean Gould and her 70 year old travel partner Whether you are an armchair adventurer or a thrill seeker in your own right these exhilarating essays will inspire you to dust off your bicycle lace up your hiking boots fill your gas tank and take your dearest friend along for the time of your lives Dark Writing Paul Carter, 2008-10-31 We do not see empty figures and outlines we do not move in straight lines Everywhere we are surrounded by dapple the geometry of our embodied lives is curviform meandering bi pedal Our personal worlds are timed interpositional and contingent But nowhere in the language of cartography and design do these ordinary experiences appear This Dark Writing argues is a serious omission because they are designs on the world architects and colonizers use their lines to construct the places where we will live But the rectilinear streets squares and public spaces produced in this way leave out people and the entire environmental history of their coming together How this book asks can we explain the omission of bodies from maps and plans And how can we redraw the lines maps and plans use so that the qualitative world of shadows footprints comings and goings and occasions all essential qualities of places that incubate sociality can be registered In short Dark Writing asks why we represent the world as static when our experience of it is mobile It traces this bias in Enlightenment cartography in inductive logic and in contemporary place design This is the negative critique Its positive argument is that when we look closely at these designs on the world we find traces of a repressed movement form Even the ideal lines of geometrical figures turn out to contain traces of earlier passages and there are many forms of graphic design that do engage with the dark environment that surrounds the light of reason How can this dark writing so important to reconfiguring our world as a place of meeting of co existence and sustaining diversity be represented And how therefore can our representations of the world embody more sensuously the mobile histories that have produced it Dark Writing answers these questions using case studies the exemplary case of the beginnings of the now world famous Papunya Tula Painting Movement Central Australia and three high profile public place making initiatives in which the author was involved as artist and thinker These case studies are nested inside historical chapters and philosophical discussions of the line and linear thinking that make Dark Writing both a highly personal book and a narrative with wide general appeal

Trigger, Gareth Griffiths, 2003-12-01 Disputed Territories investigates the significance of land for contesting cultural identities in comparable settler societies In the regions of Australasia and southern Africa European visions of landscape and nature have engaged with southern hemisphere environments and the cultures of indigenous peoples Amid conflicts over land as a material resource there has also been an intellectual contest over the aesthetic iconic and cultural meanings of natural forms and species Arising from a programme of seminars held at The University of Western Australia this collection of eminent international authors assembles contributions from anthropology geography history and literary studies The combination of diverse methods and theoretical approaches establishes the ways that land and nature constitute disputed territories in the mind as well as material resources subject to pragmatic negotiations

Material Thinking Paul Carter, 2014-05-27 Material Thinking is a ground breaking book for artists and for those who study or teach in the arts Author and artist Paul Carter provides an intimate first hand account of how ideas are turned into works and how the material thinking these artworks embody produces new understandings about ourselves our histories and the culture we inhabit Taking as his subject several artistic collaborations which resulted in performances exhibitions or videos Carter explores how each unfolded In the course of this analysis he constructs a philosophy of how the practice and theory of making art are interconnected a philosophy powerful enough to provide an intellectual underpinning for the new and still developing field of creative research Here is startling practical erudition Prodigious book learning is laced with real understanding of what it means to make art to infuse sullen matter with something rousing delicate and vital Ross Gibson Research Professor of New Media Digital Culture UTS For twenty years I have campaigned for and conducted research in the medium of architecture itself research that is not about architecture but of if Carter begins by drawing the same distinction but his ambition is greater he seeks to explore and define research in the zones where creative mediums shade into each other To work in a zone is to collaborate with practitioners who are centred on their medium of practice Carter posits a new role for the critic not outside looking in not about practice but inside of and pushing practitioners towards the liminal and thus toward the innovative Leon van Schaik Innovation Professor of Architecture RMIT

Contemporary Publics P. David Marshall, Glenn D'Cruz, Sharyn McDonald, Katja Lee, 2016-09-11 If the twentieth century has been dominated by discussions of the public public life and the public sphere Contemporary Publics argues that in the twenty first century we must complicate the singularity of that paradigm and start thinking of our world in terms of multiple overlapping and competing publics In three distinct streams art media and technology and the intimate life this volume offers up the intellectual and political significance of thinking through the plurality of our publics Countering Neoliberal Publics Screen and Space explores how different artistic practices articulate the challenges and desires of multiple publics Making and Shaping Publics Discourse and Technology showcases how media shape publics and how new and emerging publics use these technologies to construct identities Commodifying Public Intimacies examines what happens to the notion of the private when intimacies structure publics move into public spaces and develop value that can be exchanged and circulated

Ichnology Newsletter , 2001 Intimate Partner Violence Sana Loue, 2005-12-08 It is clear that physical abuse is an integral component of some intimate relationships This book addresses not the violence but our responses or lack of responses to that violation of personal integrity and the accompanying trauma How partner violence is responded to individually and collectively may well determine whether the violence can be prevented or will cease once begun This text is intended to serve as a basic resource for the student clinician and researcher It provides a summary of how we have responded to such violence in the past and presents potential future directions for research and prevention efforts

Seeing Children, Seeing God Pamela D. Couture, 2000 In Seeing Children Seeing God Pamela Couture explores the actual and potential relation of the church and the theological school to economically and socially relationally poor children She argues that the solution to the problem of child poverty requires the shared responsibility of individuals families neighborhoods congregations governments businesses and international organizations because children develop within these multiple systems With their unique access to these multiple systems churches and theological schools are in a wonderful position to transform the social ecology within which children develop and to assist in children s flourishing Concretely what would it mean for the caring ministries of the church and those who teach and learn about them in seminary to make the issue of children and poverty central to what we do How would this change the way we live Pamela Couture argues from a Wesleyan perspective that caring for poor children is a means of grace a grace that deepens our experience as the adopted children of God She draws explicitly on recent writings that have updated the Wesleyan theological tradition Seeing Children Seeing God will be of particular interest to everyone who is concerned about children and poverty especially from a Wesleyan perspective

Key Features Brief and accessible Offers a constructive theologically sound response to the problem of children and poverty Recognizes and shares responsibility for solutions across society but especially with the church and the seminary

Key Benefits Readers will understand the dynamics and extent of the problem of children living in poverty today Readers will understand ways in which theology has undergirded efforts to deal with this problem in the past Readers will understand and identify with the specifically Christian imperative to respond to this problem Readers will understand how various groups can contributed to a concerted effort to deal with the problem Readers will understand how the church has failed to deal with this problem in the past
