how businesses compliance with environmental regulation in particular could be improved Routledge Library Editions: Social & Cultural Geography Various Authors, 2022-07-30 Re issuing books originally published between 1969 and 1990 this set of 15 volumes gives a 20 year perspective on the development of the discipline of social geography The books emphasize the increasingly important contribution of geographical theory to the understanding of social change values economic and political organization and ethical imperatives The volumes are authored by well known international geographers and discuss the philosophy and sociology of geography as well as key themes such as the geography of health crime space They also examine the cross over of geography with other disciplines such as literature and history Law and Ecology Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos, 2011-03-03 Law and Ecology New Environmental Foundations contains a series of theoretical and applied perspectives on the connection between law and ecology which together offer a radical and socially responsive foundation for environmental law While its legal corpus grows daily environmental law has not enjoyed the kind of jurisprudential underpinning generally found in other branches of law This book forges a new ecological jurisprudential foundation for environmental law where ecological is understood both in the narrow sense of a more ecosystemic perspective on law and in the broad sense of critical self reflection of the mechanisms of environmental law as they operate in a context where boundaries between the human and the non human are collapsing and where the traditional distinction between ecocentrism and anthropocentrism is recast Addressing current debates including the intellectual property of bioresources the protection of biodiversity in view of tribal land demands the ethics of genetically modified organisms the redefinition of the human through feminist and technological research the spatial geographical boundaries of environmental jurisdiction and the postcolonial geographies of pollution Law and Ecology redefines the way environmental law is perceived theorised and applied It also constitutes a radical challenge to the traditionally human centred frameworks and concerns of legal theory

Administrative Justice in the 21st Century Michael Harris, Martin Partington, 1999-04-01 The idea of administrative justice is central to the British system of public law more embracing than judicial review or even administrative law itself It embraces all the mechanisms designed to achieve a proper balance between the exercise of public and quasi public power and those affected by the exercise of that power This book contains revised versions of the papers given at the International Conference on Administrative Justice held in Bristol in 1997 Forty years after the publication of the Franks Committee report on Tribunals and Inquiries the conference reflected on developments since then and sought to provoke debate about how the future might unfold Participants included policy makers tribunal chairs and ombudsmen other decision takers as well as academics a formidable combination of expertise in the operation of the administrative justice system Among the themes addressed in the papers are the following the effect of the changing nature of the state on current institutions human rights and administrative justice the relationship between decision taking reviews of decisions and the adjudication of appeals and the overview of administrative justice taking into account lessons from abroad The new millenium provides an opportunity for the reappraisal of the British system of administrative justice this volume presents an indispenable repository of the ideas needed to understand how that system should develop over the coming years Contributors Michael Adler Margaret Allars Dame Elizabeth Anson Lord Archer of Sandwell Michael Barnes Julia Black Christa Christensen David Clark Gwynn Davis Godfrey Cole Suzanne Day Julian Farrand Tamara Goriely Michael Harris Ed Neville Harris Tony Holland Terence Ison Christine Lally Douglas Lewis Rosemary Lyster Aileen McHarg Walter Merricks Linda Mulcahy Stephen Oliver Alan Page Martin Partington Ed David Pearl Jane Pearson Paulyn Marrinan Quinn John Raine Andrew Rein Alan Robertson Roy Sainsbury John Scampion Chris Shepley Caroline Sheppard Patricia Thomas Brian Thompson Nick Wikeley Tom Williams Jane Worthington Richard Young

Environmental Regulation Through Financial Organisations: Comparative Perspectives on the Industrialised Nations Benjamin Richardson, 2002-02-13 This book takes a comparative perspective of practice in the European Union North America Japan and Australasia arguing that existing legal reforms to promote sustainable development are unlikely to be successful unless environmental policy can be diffused and embedded in the financial services sector This sector plays a crucial role in creating the financial conditions that allow much economic development to proceed Financial markets are already highly regulated in pursuance of various public policy objectives and there is scope to adapt existing regulation to incorporate environmental aspects into the financial services sector In terms of specific reforms the book focuses on the role of corporate environmental reporting economic instruments and liability rules to provide a proper context for engaging financial organisations with the environment as well as reforms to the system of prudential regulation that currently governs this sector Beyond the focus on the financial services sector the book raises complex questions regarding the relationship between the state and market institutions in environmental policy and will appeal to scholars from a wide range of disciplines interested in problems of environmental governance

Exercising Discretion Loraine Gelsthorpe, Nicola Padfield, 2012-12-06 Although the exercise of discretion often plays a key part in decisions which are made within the criminal justice system definitions of discretion are not clear and despite widespread recognition of its importance there is much controversy on its nature and legitimacy This book focuses on the core elements and contexts of discretion looking at the power ability authority and duties of individuals officials and organisations to decide select or interpret vague standards requirements or statutory uncertainties

Waste and Environmental Policy Massimiliano Mazzanti, Anna Montini, 2009-03-23 This research deals with the increasingly complex issues of waste generation waste management and waste disposal that in less developed industrialised countries present diverse but critical concerns It takes a socio economic and policy oriented perspective and provides empirical evidence at EU and regional level The EU and Italy are taken as relevant case studies given the disparities in environmental performances between less and more developed areas The rich and various empirical evidence shows that a robust delinking between waste generation and economic growth is still not present thus future policies should directly address the problem at the source by targeting waste generation in EU countries Some structural factors like population density and urbanisation present themselves as relevant drivers of both waste management and landfill diversion Nevertheless economic and structural factors alone are not sufficient to improve waste performances Though waste policies are to be redesigned by covering the entire area of waste management some first signals of policy effectiveness are arising This work will be of most interest to those students of environmental economics and environmental sciences as well as policy makers waste utility managers and companies in the waste management sector

Clay's Handbook of Environmental Health Stephen Battersby, 2013-03 Clay's Handbook of Environmental Health since its first publication in 1933 has provided a definitive guide for the environmental health practitioner or reference for the consultant or student This twentieth edition continues as a first point of reference reviewing the core principles techniques and competencies and then outlining the specialist subjects It has been refocused on the current curriculum of the UK's Chartered Institute of Environmental Health but should also readily suit the generalist or specialist working outside the UK
