

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Baltimore Police Department will implement this Community Policing Plan by executing the following roles and responsibilities on a daily basis.

PATROL OFFICERS

As the front line of BPD's daily engagement with Baltimore communities, patrol officers play the most critical role in BPD's engagement and POP strategies. Patrol Officers will:

1. Maximize positive interactions with the public throughout the shift.
2. Serve in their assigned geographies on a daily basis and build relationships with residents, community groups, and businesses in those geographies.
3. Conduct Informal Engagements during each shift, prioritizing engagements in their assigned geographies. Officers should conduct foot patrols when practical based on call volume, weather conditions, and opportunities for community involvement. Officers will document these Informal Engagement activities with the most appropriate Community Policing CAD signal.
4. Conduct Daily Problem-Solving by:
  - Reporting environmental issues in the 311 App, available on their assigned mobile device.
  - Connecting residents to helpful services known to the officer or listed on the District Profile.
  - Officers will document these Daily Problem-Solving activities with the most appropriate Community Policing CAD signal.
5. Notify a supervisor and the NCO regarding recurring problems that may require a more in-depth, Problem-Oriented Policing approach through sustained action or inter-agency collaboration.

In The Challenge of Community Policing Dennis P Rosenbaum has made an important and timely contribution to policing in America Important because he has assembled the work of a group of the nation's most thoughtful and respected researchers on policing that provides a current assessment of the field's progress toward reframing the way America's cities are policed Timely because it comes on the threshold of the greatest infusion of federal dollars into local policing in the history of our nation The greatest portion of those dollars are dedicated to putting officers on the street to engage in community policing The Challenge offers considerable insight into the experience of police agencies in America Canada and England that have had the courage to move into uncharted waters with the hope of having greater impact on crime violence and fear The complexity of the issues are acknowledged while appropriate cautions and important questions are raised This book will become a useful tool for researchers and practitioners as more police agencies make serious attempts to work with members of their community in a partnership to solve problems Chief Darrel W Stephens St Petersburg Florida I recently had the opportunity to review The Challenge of Community Policing by Dennis P Rosenbaum and found the book to be an excellent resource for both the academic and practitioner The information is current presented in a well balanced manner and relies on respected scholars who understand the concept of community policing Given the importance of this movement in police practices not to mention the central role community policing has in the
