Policy Regimes And Industrial Competitiveness:

Policy Regimes and Industrial Competitiveness P. Agrawal, S. Gokarn, V. Mishra, K. Parikh, K. Sen, 2000-10-10 This book looks at the economic performance of East Asia over the past three decades in a unified way The focus is on the common forces generated by each country's policies that jointly produced such successful outcomes The roles of macroeconomic and microeconomic factors are analysed For comparison the same framework is used to examine the less successful performance of the Indian economy The analysis emphasises the significance of the overall institutional context in which policies are implemented in determining their effectiveness European Union Competition Policy versus Industrial Competitiveness

Hikaru Yoshizawa, 2021-11-10 The book examines whether EU competition policy is applied fairly and consistently to EU and non EU firms despite persistent political pressure from member states for a relaxation of the rules and deals with the dilemma of regional organisations in the global political economy Focussing on the EU's desire to achieve balance between the promotion of market competition and the enhancement of international competitiveness the book explores the validity of its attempts successfully to ensure a stringent competition policy which is nationality blind and comparatively strict Finally it shows that the competition competitiveness dilemma remains unresolved because the EU's capability to set global regulatory standards is constrained by competition and the need to engage in multilateral forums such as the WTO and the International Competition Network This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of European Union studies EU competition law and policy EU external action and more broadly to global governance international political economy and international relations The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license The Global Development Of Policy

Regimes To Combat Climate Change Alex Bowen, Nicholas Stern, John Whalley, 2014-04-01 The year 2015 will be a landmark year for international climate change negotiations Governments have agreed to adopt a universal legal agreement on climate change at the 21st Conference of Parties COP21 to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC in Paris in 2015 The agreement will come into force no later than 2020 This book focuses on the prospects for global agreement how to encourage compliance with any such agreement and perspectives of key players in the negotiations the United States India China and the EU It finds that there is strong commitment to the established UN institutions and processes within which the search for further agreed actions will occur There are already a myriad of local and regional policies that are helping to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and build mutual confidence However the chapters in the book also highlight potential areas of discord For instance varying interpretations of the common but differentiated responsibilities of developing countries agreed as part of the UNFCCC could be a major sticking point for negotiators When combined with other issues such as the choice of consumption or production as the basis for mitigation commitments the appropriate time frame and base date for their measurement and whether level or intensity commitments are to be negotiated the challenges that need to be overcome are considerable The authors bring to bear insights from economics public finance and game theory

Competitiveness, Subsidiarity and Industrial Policy Pat J. Devine, Yannis S. Katsoulacos, Roger Sugden, 2005-08-18 Leading international economists examine the relationship between competitiveness and community objectives the co existence of diversity subsidiarity and EU industrial policy and the consequences of further European integration

Multinationals and Industrial Competitiveness John H. Dunning, Rajneesh Narula, 2005-01-01 This book provides an excellent overview of the changing relationship between multinationals and economic development as globalization has taken off and substantially altered the conditions for catching up as opposed to falling behind The authors move very effectively between the discussion of concepts that are crucial to understanding such changes and various empirical evidence on foreign direct investment trade inter firm relationships institutional settings and competitiveness John Cantwell Rutgers University US The globalisation of the world economy has undermined many of the old certainties regarding foreign direct investment flows Dunning and Narula use the concepts of alliance capitalism and technological evolution to analyse recent trends in international business They identify the challenges to government policymakers from regional integration and the consequent intensification of political competition to attract high technology investment This masterful and incisive analysis brings great clarity to perplexing issues and delineates a cogent industrial policy agenda for a globalised economy Mark Casson University of Reading UK This book offers an important contribution to the contemporary debate on the role of multinational enterprises MNEs in economic development in an increasingly globalizing knowledge intensive and alliance based world economy Each of the chapters touches upon critical issues now facing the global economy They also address the growing importance of innovative activities of firms in promoting economic development and industrial restructuring as well as the role of FDI and cooperative agreements in furthering this goal Emphasis is placed on the increasingly significant role of national governments in promoting the intellectual capital of their indigenous resources and capabilities and of inter firm collaborative alliances Globalization and technological advances are reconfiguring the ingredients of the competitiveness of firms and nation states They are emphasizing the increasingly important role of both private and social institutions as determinants of the success of corporations and of the economic development of societies Covering a range of issues from economic development alliance capitalism government policies regional integration and industrial development this authoritative book will greatly appeal to academics and economists especially those interested in international business and management

Structural Change, Competitiveness and Industrial Policy Aurora Teixeira, Ester Silva, Ricardo Mamede, 2014-06-20 The onset of the global crisis has emphasised the persistence of substantial differences in development and social progress within the euro area The specific case of countries located in the southern periphery region has come to the centre stage due to the harsh economic conditions that all these countries have experienced in the recent past In the aftermath of the American subprime credit bubble these countries high indebtedness raised doubts as to their ability to sustain public finances with the financial crisis developing and gaining momentum due to the fragilities presented in the economy To varying degrees of severity all of these economies have since been forced to introduce strong fiscal tightening programmes in order to achieve fiscal consolidation which have translated into recession and rising unemployment This book undertakes a comprehensive analysis of the causes of the crisis in southern European countries showing that the Achilles heel of these economies is rooted in the dismal evolution of productivity and in a specialisation pattern excessively based on the so called traditional low and low medium tech industries which yield low margins declining export shares and ultimately withering international competitiveness Such evidence suggests that the southern European periphery industrial growth model has reached its limits demanding a multidimensional policy approach capable of overcoming the magnitude and complexity of the present crisis Without denying the need to adjust public and private balance sheets it is argued that finding a sustainable path out of the present problems requires addressing the challenges of productivity growth and competitiveness in the long term

Industrial Competitiveness Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development. Directorate for Science, Technology, and Industry,1996 Country Competitiveness Bruce Kogut,1993-08-05 With the expansion of global competition through international trade agreements and heightened rivalry between firms in the domestic market it is easy to understand why a firm would seek to compete by lowering the wages paid to labor Yet this strategy is troubled not only by the efforts of other firms pursuing cheaper labor costs but also by the failure to adopt better ways of organizing work New products are copied within a short time after introduction What is difficult to imitate is the organizing of work as applied to the factory floor to the corporation and to relations among firms and other institutions This book explores detailed case studies of individual firms country comparisons and historical patterns of diffusion The authors emphasize that the speed by which a firm adopts and integrates new technologies and ways of organizing must be understood in the context of the strength of the regional and national network of firms and institutions The chapters in the book are written by world renowned scholars including Giovanni Dosi Horst Kern Michael Schumann and Eleanor D Westner and represent major schools of thought from Germany France the U S Japan and the United Kingdom The studies are international in nature and include in depth analyses of software systems automobile manufacturing e g the Toyota Production System and the machine tool industry

Evidence-Based Developmental Economics (UM Press) Carlo Pietrobelli,Rajah Rasiyah,2012 At a time when governments are looking for new approaches to promote economic development as the free markets paradigm has proved to be neither necessary nor adequate the pioneering work of Sanjaya Lall offers policy relevant insights Sharing his epistemological coordinates the contributors to this volume develop his ideas further by treating the theory methodology and evidence related to development issues inductively through a dynamic set of lenses

Competitive Industrial Development in the Age of Information Richard J. Braudo,Jeffrey Macintosh,2005-08-19 This book examines how transnational corporations small to medium enterprises and governments have emerged as the principal players in industrial development This valuable work examines this trend with particular reference to the role of the tax policy in technology development the financing of technology sector SMEs the role of government policy and the relationship between competition and co operation Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2010, Part 2, 111-1 Hearings, 2009 Commerce, Justice, Science, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2010 United States.
