Carl Goerdeler and the Jewish Question, 1933-1942 Peter Hoffmann, 2011-07-11 In the 1930s Carl Goerdeler the mayor of Leipzig and as prices commissioner a cabinet level official engaged in active opposition against the persecution of the Jews in Germany and in Eastern Europe He did this openly until 1938 and then secretly in contact with the British Foreign Office Having failed to change Hitler s policy against the Jews Goerdeler joined forces with military and civil conspirators against the regime He was hanged for treason on 2 February 1945 This book describes the actions of Carl Goerdeler the German resistance leader who consistently engaged in efforts to protect the Jews against persecution Using new evidence and thus far under researched documents including a memorandum written by Goerdeler at the end of 1941 with a proposal for the status of the Jews in the world the book fundamentally changes our understanding of Goerdeler s plan and presents a new view of the German resistance to Hitler The Jews in Poland and Russia Antony Polonsky, 2012-02-09 A comprehensive socio political economic and religious history an important story whose relevance extends beyond the Jewish world or the bounds of east central Europe Jews and Heretics in Catholic Poland Magda Teter, 2005-12-26 Jews and Heretics in Catholic Poland takes issue with historians common contention that the Catholic Church triumphed in Counter reformation Poland In fact the Church s own sources show that the story is far more complex From the rise of the Reformation and the rapid dissemination of these new ideas through printing the Catholic Church was overcome with a strong sense of insecurity The infidel Jews enemies of Christianity became symbols of the Church s weakness and simultaneously instruments of its defence against all of its other adversaries This process helped form a Polish identity that led in the case of Jews to racial anti Semitism and to the exclusion of Jews from the category of Poles This book portrays Jews not only as victims of Church persecution but as active participants in Polish society who as allies of the nobles placed in positions of power had more influence than has been recognised A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps Barbara Rylko-Bauer, 2014-02-24 Jadwiga Lenartowicz Rylko known as Jadzia Yah jah was a young Polish Catholic physician in d at the start of World War II Suspected of resistance activities she was arrested in January 1944 For the next fifteen months she endured three Nazi concentration camps and a forty two day death march spending part of this time working as a prisoner doctor to Jewish slave laborers A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps follows Jadzia from her childhood and medical training through her wartime experiences to her struggles to create a new life in the postwar world Jadzia s daughter anthropologist Barbara Rylko Bauer constructs an intimate ethnography that weaves a personal family narrative against a twentieth century historical backdrop As Rylko Bauer travels back in time with her mother we learn of the particular hardships that female concentration camp prisoners faced The struggle continued after the war as Jadzia attempted to rebuild her life first as a refugee doctor in Germany and later as an immigrant to the United States Like many postwar immigrants Jadzia had high hopes of making new connections and continuing her career Unable to surmount personal economic and social obstacles to medical licensure however she had to settle for work as a nurse's aide As a contribution to accounts of wartime experiences Jadzia's story stands out for its sensitivity to the complexities of the Polish memory of war Built upon both historical research and conversations between mother and daughter the story combines Jadzia's voice and Rylko Bauer's own journey of rediscovering her family's past The result is a powerful narrative about struggle survival displacement and memory augmenting our understanding of a horrific period in human history and the struggle of Polish immigrants in its aftermath

Scriptural Authority and Biblical Criticism in the Dutch Golden Age Henk Nellen, 2017-10-06 Scriptural Authority and Biblical Criticism in the Dutch Golden Age explores the hypothesis that in the long seventeenth century humanist inspired biblical criticism contributed significantly to the decline of ecclesiastical truth claims Historiography pictures this era as one in which the dominant position of religion and church began to show signs of erosion under the influence of vehement debates on the sacrosanct status of the Bible Until quite recently this gradual but decisive shift has been attributed to the rise of the sciences in particular astronomy and physics This authoritative volume looks at biblical criticism as an innovative force and as the outcome of developments in philology that had started much earlier than scientific experimentalism or the New Philosophy Scholars began to situate the Bible in its historical context The contributors show that even in the hands of pious orthodox scholars philological research not only failed to solve all the textual problems that had surfaced but even brought to light countless new incongruities This supplied those who sought to play down the authority of the Bible with ammunition The conviction that God's Word had been preserved as a pure and sacred source gave way to an awareness of a complicated transmission in a plurality of divergent ambiguous historically determined and heavily corrupted texts This shift took place primarily in the Dutch Protestant world of the seventeenth century The Rise and Fall of Belarusian Nationalism, 1906-1931 Per Anders Rudling, 2015-02-27 Modern Belarusian nationalism emerged in the early twentieth century during a dramatic period that included a mass exodus multiple occupations seven years of warfare and the partition of the Belarusian lands In this original history Per Anders Rudling traces the evolution of modern Belarusian nationalism from its origins in late imperial Russia to the early 1930s The revolution of 1905 opened a window of opportunity and debates swirled around definitions of ethnic racial or cultural belonging By March of 1918 a small group of nationalists had declared the formation of a Belarusian People's Republic BNR with territories based on ethnographic claims Less than a year later the Soviets claimed roughly the same area for a Belarusian Soviet Socialist Republic BSSR Belarusian statehood was declared no less than six times between 1918 and 1920 In 1921 the treaty of Riga officially divided the Belarusian lands between Poland and the Soviet Union Polish authorities subjected Western Belarus to policies of assimilation alienating much of the population At the same time the Soviet establishment of Belarusian language cultural and educational institutions in Eastern Belarus stimulated national activism in Western Belarus Sporadic partisan warfare against Polish authorities occurred until the mid 1920s with Lithuanian and Soviet support On both sides of the border Belarusian activists engaged in a process of mythmaking and national mobilization By 1926 Belarusian political activism had peaked but then waned when coups d'etats brought authoritarian rule to Poland and Lithuania The year 1927 saw a crackdown on the Western Belarusian national movement and in Eastern Belarus Stalin's consolidation of power led to a brutal transformation of society and the uprooting of Belarusian national communists As a small group of elites Belarusian nationalists had been dependent on German Lithuanian Polish and Soviet sponsors since 1915 The geopolitical rivalry provided opportunities but also liabilities After 1926 maneuvering this complex and progressively hostile landscape became difficult Support from Kaunas and Moscow for the Western Belarusian nationalists attracted the interest of the Polish authorities and the increasingly autonomous republican institutions in Minsk became a concern for the central government in the Kremlin As Rudling shows Belarus was a historic battleground that served as a political tool borderland and buffer zone between greater powers Nationalism arrived late was limited to a relatively small elite and was suppressed in its early stages The tumultuous process however established the idea of Belarusian statehood left behind a modern foundation myth and bequeathed the institutional framework of a proto state all of which resurfaced as building blocks for national consolidation when Belarus gained independence in 1991
