Political Parties in French-speaking West Africa Ruth Schachter Morgenthau, 1964      Political Parties in Africa Sebastian Elischer, 2013-09-09 This book examines the effects of ethnicity on party politics in ten African countries Sebastian Elischer finds that five party types exist the mono ethnic the ethnic alliance the catch all the programmatic and the personalistic party He uses these party types to show that the African political landscape is considerably more diverse than conventionally assumed      The African Affairs Reader Nic Cheeseman, Lindsay Whitfield, Carl Death, 2017-05-19 African Affairs is the top journal in African Studies and has been for some time This book draws together some of the most influential important and thought provoking articles published in its pages over the last decade In doing so it collates essential cutting edge research on Africa and makes it easily available for students teachers and researchers alike The African Affairs Reader is broken down into four sections that cover some of the biggest themes and questions facing the continent today including the African State the Political Economy of Development Africa's Relationship with the World and Elections Representation Democracy Within each section articles deal with some of the most significant recent trends and events such as the prospects for democratization in Ghana and Nigeria the factors underpinning Rwanda's economic success the rise of political corruption in South Africa the spread of the drugs trade the struggle against gender based violence and the growing influence of China Each section is introduced by a new purpose written essay by the journal's editors that explains the evolution of the wider debate highlights key contributions and suggests new ways in which the discussion can be taken forward Taken together the essays and articles included in the volume provide both a coherent introduction to the study of Africa and a compelling commentary on the current state of play on the continent      African Politics Gus Liebenow, 1986-09-22 A well balanced presentation especially notable for its succinct review of the factors currently controlling the South African political situation The Nation authoritative work Foreign Affairs broad enough in its reach to be useful to teaching in interdisciplinary African studies courses for undergraduates Perspective Gus Liebenow has produced a winner eminently suitable for classroom use with enough substance to be of interest to both teachers and students Africa Today A sympathetic but hardheaded analysis of the crisis issues common to the continent as a whole the struggle for national identity poverty the unresolved festering issue of white supremacy in Southern Africa the problem of political community in the African urban setting and the struggle for popular control over government      Political Parties and National Integration in Tropical Africa ,      The Cambridge History of Africa J. D. Fage, Roland Anthony Oliver, Michael Crowder, 1975 The eighth and final volume of The Cambridge History of Africa covers the period 1940-75 It begins with a discussion of the role of the Second World War in the political decolonisation of Africa Its terminal date of 1975 coincides with the retreat of Portugal the last European colonial power in Africa from its possessions and their accession to independence The fifteen chapters which make up this volume examine on both a continental and regional scale the extent to which formal transfer of political power by the European colonial rulers also involved economic social and cultural decolonisation A major theme of the volume is the way the African successors to the colonial rulers dealt with their inheritance and how far they benefited particular economic groups and disadvantaged others The contributors to this volume represent different disciplinary traditions and do not share a single theoretical perspective on the recent history of the continent a subject that is still the occasion for passionate debate

Political Parties and National Integration in Tropical Africa James S. Coleman, Carl G. Rosberg, 2023-04-28 The essays in this book focus attention on the role of political groups in the new functioning and development of the new African societies and the political systems of which they are a part The authors all recognized authorities have sought to identify and compare the manifestations of the general tendency among the new states of Tropical Africa toward the establishment and consolidation of one party political systems and to examine in the light of this general trend the different dimensions of the problem of integration This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1964

Institutions and Democracy in Africa Nic Cheeseman, 2018-02-22 Historically African political institutions such as constitutions legislatures and judiciaries have been seen as weak and vulnerable to manipulation leading some to claim that the continent is institutionless However recent developments including the consolidation of presidential term limits in a number of countries demonstrate that this depiction is no longer tenable By drawing attention to how institutions can shape the practice of politics this book demonstrates that electoral commissions economic regulations and systems of land tenure are vital to our understanding of contemporary Africa A series of cutting edge contributions from leading scholars explain how the rules of the game shape political developments across the continent from Kenya to Nigeria and from Benin to South Africa In chapters that cover bureaucracies constitutions elections political parties the police and more the authors argue that a new research agenda is required if we are to better understand the process of democratisation

"Deluxe" Sirleaf Ph. D.,2010-03 Conflict is an increasing threat to national and international security and a major challenge to development It is significant to acknowledge that civil conflict has impoverished countries in every major region of the world with specific emphasis on Africa Civil Conflict has wiped out the achievements of decades of economic and social development In case of Liberia which is the main objective of this study the 25 years civil conflict not only wiped out the achievements of decades of economic and social development but destroyed thousands of lives the physical assets of the country and disrupted trade links which devastated the fabrics of the Liberian society The Liberian violent conflict leaves a legacy of militarized guerilla warfare leadership culture divided societies widespread displacement and decimated institutional capacity For many Liberians dealing with devastation of war is a bitter experience that will never be forgotten The present Liberian political context is extremely imperative in any transition from post conflict situation to a more stable and secured environment that will facilitate the national reconciliation of former political adversaries and combatants and lead to a more stable and secured environment that will enable refugees to return to their homes areas and permit the commencement of urgent rehabilitation effort such as the rebuilding of the administrative infrastructure of the country such as the core ministries legal system especially the courts and the opening and operation of ports air ports harbors telecommunication facilities and electricity For these urgent post conflict rehabilitation actions to take place however it was necessary for an elected government to be in place with the clear mandate to govern especially where as in Liberia the conflict originated from a struggle for political power between contending ethnic groups and their armed supporters This scenario has not been a reality for the Liberian people The greatest challenge to the Liberian people however is the post civil conflict reconstruction rehabilitation and recovery indeed for countries emerging from prolong violent conflict This study will be focusing on new system which will require the United States the International Community The European Union The EEC and other Non Governmental Organizations social political and economic cohesion as a pre condition for reconstruction rehabilitation reconciliation and recovery As a practitioner specialist and a 21st century student of politics of life Post independence Black Africa political and historic cultural and Liberian political scientist international political systems comparative international political problems and global political cultural diversity I am cognizant and I do indeed care about Liberia Africa in global conflicts that have profound effects on Africa and implications which lead to war instability and international tension as well as about events which lead to equitable interdependence integration peace improvement of quality of life reduction of exploitation imperialism human rights violation perpetrated by post independence African leadership Because I am a Black African Liberian I do care about these national international regional state of affairs that specifically affect Africa in general and Liberia in particular I have tried over the years to make some life time attempt to make some scholastic decisions as it reflects on my research to advance procedures in conflict management and resolution theories about systematizing my observations and improving my knowledge and skills of pre conflict analysis of Africa in general and post conflict analysis of Liberia in particular

An Economic History of West Africa A. G.

and Decolonization in Guinea, 1946-1958 Elizabeth Schmidt, 2007-09-25 In September 1958 Guinea claimed its independence rejecting a constitution that would have relegated it to junior partnership in the French Community In all the French empire Guinea was the only territory to vote No Orchestrating the No vote was the Guinean branch of the Rassemblement D mocratique Africain RDA an alliance of political parties with affiliates in French West and Equatorial Africa and the United Nations trusts of Togo and Cameroon Although Guinea s stance vis vis the 1958 constitution has been recognized as unique until now the historical roots of this phenomenon have not been adequately explained Clearly written and free of jargon Cold War and Decolonization in Guinea argues that Guinea s vote for independence was the culmination of a decade long struggle between local militants and political leaders for control of the political agenda Since 1950 when RDA representatives in the French parliament severed their ties to the French Communist Party conservative elements had dominated the RDA In Guinea local cadres had opposed the break Victimized by the administration and sidelined by their own leaders they quietly rebuilt the party from the base Leftist militants their voices muted throughout most of the decade gained preeminence in 1958 when trade unionists students the party s women s and youth wings and other grassroots actors pushed the Guinean RDA to endorse a No vote Thus Guinea s rejection of the proposed constitution in favor of immediate independence was not an isolated aberration Rather it was the outcome of years of political mobilization by activists who despite Cold War repression ultimately pushed the Guinean RDA to the left The significance of this highly original book based on previously unexamined archival records and oral interviews with grassroots activists extends far beyond its primary subject In illuminating the Guinean case Elizabeth Schmidt helps us understand the dynamics of decolonization and its legacy for postindependence nation building in many parts of the developing world Examining Guinean history from the bottom up Schmidt considers local politics within the larger context of the Cold War making her book suitable for courses in African history and politics diplomatic history and Cold War history
