Political Roles in a New State Raymond F. Hopkins, The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States Anne Gordon Drabek, Wilfrid Knapp, 2013-10-22 The Politics of African and Middle Eastern States An Annotated Bibliography is a record of books written about the politics history and the lives of the leaders of Africa and the Middle East The book is divided per chapter according to the geographical area being discussed Each chapter contains a list of books that fall under the following categories Political History Political Systems and Government Biographies Memoirs Speeches and Writings and External Relations Chapters I to VII cover different regions of Africa while Chapters VIII to XI cover the Middle East The text is a recommended for historians and political scientists especially those interested in the areas mentioned in the book The selection also serves a guide to those who plan to have further readings or make a paper about the political history government and development of the areas mentioned An Introduction to the Politics of Tropical Africa Richard Hodder-Williams, 2010-11-26 This wide ranging and informative introduction to politics in tropical Africa first published in 1984 is essential reading to students businessmen government officials and economic advisers alike Situating the contemporary scene firmly in its historical context which stresses both pre colonial and colonial heritages he emphasizes how politicians are constrained by the past the physical environment and the world s economy yet still retain freedom of choice on a wide range of issues The book is thematically organised and provides both an overview of the general similarities of the continent and also enough detail to flesh out the realities of tribalism and corruption as well as illustrating the variations that inevitably occur in a continent of sovereign states Race, Nation, and Citizenship in Post-Colonial Africa Ronald Aminzade, 2013-10-31 Introduction Part I The struggle for independence and birth of a nation Colonialism racism and modernity Foreigners and nation building Race and the nation building project Part II The socialist experiment African socialism the challenges of nation building Socialism self reliance and foreigners Nationalism state socialism and the politics of race Part III Neoliberalism global capitalism and the nation state Neoliberalism and the transition from state socialism to capitalism Neoliberalism foreigners and globalization Neoliberalism race and the global economy Conclusion race nation and citizenship in historical and comparative perspective African Foreign Policies Stephen Wright, 2018-02-22 This volume of thirteen original essays provides a timely analysis of African foreign policies in a post Cold War environment where African marginalization from the global economy appears to be increasing Three thematic essays give an overview of critical changes occurring in African foreign policies and ten country by country case studies provide specific analyses of decisionmaking intraregional relations and the struggles over policy with external agencies including the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund African Foreign Policies offers explanations for how African states are adapting to the international challenges of the late twentieth century Revolutionary State-Making in Dar es Salaam George Roberts, 2022-12-22 Tracing Dar es Salaam s rise and fall as an epicentre of Third World revolution George Roberts explores the connections between the global Cold War African liberation struggles and Tanzania's efforts to build a socialist state Roberts introduces a vibrant cast of politicians guerrilla leaders diplomats journalists and intellectuals whose trajectories collided in the city In its cosmopolitan and rumour filled hotel bars embassy receptions and newspaper offices they grappled with challenges of remaking a world after empire Yet Dar es Salaam's role on the frontline of the African revolution and its provocative stance towards global geopolitics came at considerable cost Roberts explains how Tanzania's strident anti imperialism ultimately drove an authoritarian turn in its socialist project and tighter control over the city's public sphere This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Tanzania, Post Report, 1984 The Rise of a Party-State in Kenya Jennifer A. Widner, 2023-04-28 Although Kenya is often considered an African success story its political climate became increasingly repressive under its second president Daniel arap Moi Widner charts the transformation of the Kenya African National Union KANU from a weak loosely organized political party under Jomo Kenyatta into an arm of the president's office with watchdog youth wings and strong surveillance and control functions under Moi She suggests that single party systems have an inherent tendency to become party states or single party regimes in which the head of state uses the party as a means of control The speed and extent of these changes depend on the countervailing power of independent interest groups such as business associations farmers or professionals Widner's study offers important insights into the dynamics of party systems in Africa Although Kenya is often considered an African success story its political climate became increasingly repressive under its second president Daniel arap Moi Widner charts the transformation of the Kenya African National Union KANU from a weak loosely

Wealth, Power, and Authoritarian Institutions Michaela Collord, 2024-07-12 Through an analysis of the recent political history of Tanzania and Uganda Wealth Power and Authoritarian Institutions offers a novel explanation of why authoritarian parties and legislatures vary in strength and why this variation matters Michaela Collord elaborates a view of authoritarian political institutions as both reflecting and magnifying elite power dynamics While there are many sources of elite power the book centres on material power It outlines how diverse trajectories of state led capitalist development engender differing patterns of wealth accumulation and elite contestation across regimes These differences in turn influence institutional landscapes Where accumulation is more closely controlled by state and party leaders as was true in Tanzania until economic liberalization in the 1980s rival factions remain subdued Ruling parties can then consolidate relatively strong institutional structures and parliament remains marginal Conversely where a class of private wealth accumulators expands as occurred in Tanzania after the 1980s and in Uganda after the National Resistance Movement took power in 1986 rival factions can more easily form simultaneously eroding party institutions and encouraging greater legislative strength Collord uses this analysis to reassess the significance of a stronger legislature She considers its influence on distributive politics both regressive and progressive She also considers its relation to democratization particularly in a context of broader liberalizing reforms The book ultimately encourages a closer examination of how would be democratic institutions interact with an underlying power distribution shaping in whose interests they operate Oxford Studies in African Politics and International Relations is a series for scholars and students working on African politics and International Relations and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on contemporary developments in African political science political economy and International Relations such as electoral politics democratization decentralization gender and political representation the political impact of natural resources the dynamics and consequences of conflict comparative political thought and the nature of the continent's engagement with the East and West Comparative and mixed methods work is particularly encouraged Case studies are welcomed but should demonstrate the broader theoretical and empirical implications of the study and its wider relevance to contemporary debates The focus of the series is on sub Saharan Africa although proposals that explain how the region engages with North Africa and other parts of the world are of interest General Editors Nic Cheeseman Peace Medie and Ricardo Soares de Oliveira
