Politics Of Mining What They Dont Teach You In School:

Politics of Mining Deepak Malhotra, 2001 Social Justification and Political Legitimacy Luis Antonio Vila-Henninger, 2020-10-16 This volume explores voters political rationalizations The author analyzes semi structured interview data from 120 American voters collected from 2013 2015 about their positions on three economic referenda or direct democratic economic policies DDEPs on the Arizona state ballot from 2008 2012 Building on the literature on voter reasoning and rationalization the author firstly probes how the intersection of economic position and partisan affiliation shape partisan voters rationalizations of their DDEP positions Secondly he investigates the political and economic discourses that voters use to justify their DDEP positions This book extends classic sociological theories of individual level and collective legitimacy along with contemporary theories of voter rationalization The findings also help to build theories of American political ideology and values neoliberalism moral economy and norms of self interest Coal Miners' Wives Carol A.B. Giesen, 2021-12-14 Few people in America today live with the dangers and deprivations that Appalachian coal mining families experience But to the eighteen West Virginia women Carol Giesen interviewed for this book hard times are just everyday life These coal miners wives ranging in age from late teens to eighty five tell of a way of life dominated by coal mining and shadowed by a constant fear of death or injury to a loved one From birth to old age they experience the social and economic pressures of the coal mining industry Few families in these communities earn their living in any job outside a coal mine and most young men and women find no advantage in completing their education Women whose stresses and strengths have seldom been disclosed reveal here their personal stories their understanding of the dangers of coal mining their domestic concerns the place of friends and faith in their lives and their expectations of the future What emerges is a deeply moving story of determination in the face of adversity Over and over these women deal with the frustrations caused by strikes layoffs and mine closings often taking any jobs they can find while their husbands are out of work Endlessly their home concerns revolve around protecting their husbands from additional work or worry Always there is fear for their husbands lives and the pervasive anger they feel toward the mining companies For some there is also the pain of losing a loved one to the mines Behind these women s acceptance of their circumstances lies a pragmatic understanding of the politics of mining and of the communities in which they live Giesen s insights into the experiences of miners wives contribute much to our understanding of the impact of industry economics and politics on women s lives HEARINGS BEFORE A SUBCOMMITTEE OF THE COMMITTEE ON MINES AND MINING ,1914 Congressional Record United States.
