Leonardo da Vinci and Durer viewed symmetry This is followed by an explanation on how the concept of symmetry developed The author further discusses symmetry as it appears in art and science as well as in the modern age Later he expounds the view of symmetry as an evolutionary concept which can lead to a new unity of science In Part II he covers the points of contact between the form developing process in nature and art He deals with biological questions in particular evolution The collection of new and precise data on perception and knowledge with regard to the postulated reality of symmetry leads to further development of the evolutionary theory of symmetry in Part III The author traces the enormous treasure of observations made in nature and culture back to a few underlying structural principles He demonstrates symmetry as a far reaching leading structuring causal element of evolution as the idea lying behind nature and culture Numerous controllable reproducible double mirror experiments on a new stereoscopic vision verify a symmetrization theory of perception After underlie cultural invention Could there be a single logical factor that makes the invention of the distinction between self and other possible much as specific human genes allow for language Wagner explores what he calls the reciprocity of perspectives through a journey between Euro American bodies of knowledge and his in depth knowledge of Melanesian modes of thought This logic grounds variants of the subject object transformation as Wagner works through examples such as the figure ground reversal in Gestalt psychology Lacan s theory of the mirror stage formation of the Ego and even the self recursive structure of the aphorism and the joke Juxtaposing Wittgenstein s and Leibniz s philosophy with Melanesian social logic Wagner explores the cosmological dimensions of the ways in which different societies develop models of self and the subject object distinction The result is a philosophical tour de force by one of anthropology s greatest mavericks
