Witold Rybczynski, 2001 A bestselling author offers a highly entertaining and insightful look at the meaning and importance of style to architecture This is a book brimming with sharp observations as it shows the connection between architecture interior decoration and fashion 10 line illustrations For the Record Joan Grierson, 2008-03-31 When Marjorie Hill graduated in 1920 as Canada's first girl architect she was entering a profession that had been established in Canada just 30 years earlier For the Record the first history of women architects in Canada provides a fascinating introduction to early women architects presented within the context of developments in both Europe and North America Profiles of the women who graduated from the School of Architecture at the University of Toronto between 1920 and 1960 are illustrated with photographs of their work and include archival material that has never before been published The final chapter on contemporary women in architecture showcases contributions by leading women architects across the country from Halifax to Vancouver to Iqaluit For the Record also provides current information on schools of architecture in Canada and includes a list of other resources to encourage young women who are thinking of pursuing careers in architecture Linking Architecture and Education

Anne Taylor, 2009-05-16 For the past forty years Anne Taylor has studied how schools classrooms playgrounds homes museums and parks affect children and how they learn As a result she has developed a holistic sustainable philosophy of learning environment design She argues persuasively that architects must integrate their design knowledge with an understanding of the developmental needs of learners while at the same time educators parents and students must broaden their awareness of the built natural and cultural environment to maximize the learning experience In other words schools and other environments can themselves become three dimensional textbooks When architects are cognizant of newer models of education and educators view the environment as more than a box in which to teach prescribed lessons the result is an informed architecture that enables children to discover the power of their own learning The book presents numerous examples of dynamic designs that are the result of interdisciplinary understanding of place Taylor includes designer perspectives forums derived from commentary by outside contributors involved in school planning and a wealth of photographs of thoughtful and effective solutions to create learning environments from comprehensive design criteria Because the concept of school is enlarged to a community campus the book also spawns a new model of teaching and learning This book is essential reading for educators architects and community members who are anxious to transform education in America and elsewhere Anne Taylor is the most outstanding educator leading proponent and practitioner in the three dimensional textbook field Her work is the finest resource available for connecting students young and old to their learning environments and visa versa Edward E Kirkbride NCARB REFP Before Western man divided the universe into discrete subject matter areas the order in the universe was and still is both interdisciplinary and holistic The branching of trees spiraling of shells meandering of streams and the radial designs of flowers for example represent an analogy of mathematics biology and art The current artificial separation of subject matter is in contrast to the way the world is constructed and the way children perceive it Architecture and the study of the built natural and cultural environment synthesize the world of material things and the world of ideas Further more it helps us to realize that we are a part of not apart from the environment This book is a tool and a gift to designers educators and students everywhere to assist them in seeing the meaning behind all that we view and use for living on earth To know our precious relationship to our surroundings is the intent of this book In this way life is a work of art and each of us is an artist Anne Taylor Need to Know John G. Stackhouse Jr.,2014-05-30 If a serious Christian wants to think seriously about a serious subject what does he or she do Grounded in the best of the Christian theological tradition Need to Know sets out a comprehensive coherent and clear model of responsible Christian thinking An Architect's Journey Rafique Islam,2011-03-25 Travelogue about architecture covering Bauhaus Florence Paris Stockholm Copenhagen and Quito William C. Mastering API Architecture

James Gough, Daniel Bryant, Matthew Auburn, 2021-03-19. Most organizations with a web presence build and operate APIs: the doorway for customers to interact with the company's services. Designing, building, and managing these critical programs affect everyone in the organization, from engineers and product owners to C-suite executives. But the real challenge for developers and solution architects is creating an API platform from the ground up. With this practical book, you'll learn strategies for building and testing REST APIs that use API gateways to combine offerings at the microservice level. Authors James Gough, Daniel Bryant, and Matthew Auburn demonstrate how simple additions to this infrastructure can help engineers and organizations migrate to the cloud and open the opportunity to connect internal services using technologies like a service mesh. Learn API fundamentals and architectural patterns for building an API platform. Use practical examples to understand how to design, build, and test API-based systems. Deploy, operate, and configure key components of an API platform. Use API gateways and service meshes appropriately based on case studies. Understand core security and common vulnerabilities in API architecture. Secure data and APIs using threat modeling and technologies like OAuth2 and TLS. Learn how to evolve existing systems toward API and cloud-based architectures.
