Cross-Media Service Delivery Diomidis Spinellis, 2012-12-06 The digitisation of traditional media formats such as text images video and sound provides us with the ability to store process and transport content in a uniform way This has led the formerly distinct industries of media telecommunications and information technology to converge Cross media publishing and service delivery are important new trends emerging in the content industry landscape Mass media organizations and content providers traditionally targeted content production towards a single delivery channel However recent economic and technological changes in the industry led content providers to extend their brands to cover multiple delivery channels Following the content industry trend to create once and publish everywhere COPE a number of architectures technologies and tools are currently being developed and deployed to facilitate the automatic conversion of content to multiple formats and the creation of innovative multi platform services This new approach enables the seamless access to information over different network infrastructures and client platforms This work aims to bring together a cross disciplinary core of contributors to address the technical and business issues of cross media publishing and service delivery The volume is based on papers presented at the conference on Cross Media Service Delivery CMSD 2003 that took place in Santorini Greece in May 2003 Each contribution was reviewed by at least two reviewers typically three From the 30 papers that were submitted 20 were selected for presentation at the conference Those were further shepherded by programme committee members to be improved according to the review suggestions

Challenges of Expanding Internet: E-Commerce, E-Business, and E-Government Matohisa Funabashi, Adam Grzech, 2006-06-08 2 1 E Government e Governance and e Democracy The term Electronic Government e Government as an expression was coined after the example of Electronic Commerce In spite of being a relatively recent expression e Government designates a field of activity that has been with us for several decades and which has attained a high level of penetration in many countries² What has been observed over the recent years is a shift on the broadness of the e Government concept The ideas inside e Governance and e Democracy are to some extent promising big changes in public administration The demand now is not only simply delivering a service line It is to deliver complex and new services which are all citizen centric Another important demand is related to the improvement of citizen s participation in governmental processes and decisions so that the governments transparency and legitimacy are enforced In order to fulfill these new demands a lot of research has been done over the recent years see Section 3 but many challenges are still to be faced not only in the technological field but also in the political and social aspects
