Survival of the fittest is a tautology because those that are fit are the ones that survive but to survive a species must be fit Modern evolutionary theory avoids the problem by defining fitness as reproductive success but the complexity of life that we see today could not have evolved based on selection that favors only reproductive ability There is nothing inherent in reproductive success alone that could result in higher forms of life Evolution from a Thermodynamic Perspective presents a non circular definition of fitness and a thermodynamic definition of evolution Fitness means maximization of power output necessary to survive in a competitive world Evolution is the storage of entropy Entropy storage means that solar energy instead of dissipating as heat in the Earth is stored in the structure of living organisms and ecosystems Part one explains this in terms comprehensible to a scientific audience beyond biophysicists and ecosystem modelers Part two applies thermodynamic theory in non esoteric language to sustainability of agriculture and to conservation of endangered species While natural systems are stabilized by feedback agricultural systems remain in a mode of perpetual growth pressured by balance of trade and by a swelling population The constraints imposed by thermodynamic laws are being increasingly felt as economic expansion destabilizes resource systems on which expansion depends The New Bryant & Stratton Counting-House Book-Keeping Silas Sadler Packard, Henry Beadman Bryant,2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant Rural Development Strategies for Poverty Reduction and Environmental Protection in Sub-Saharan Africa Kevin M.
