Black Female Perspectives from Predominantly White Institutions Karen McLean Dade,2023-07-31 Black Female Perspectives from Predominantly White Institutions Strategies for Wellbeing in White Spaces and Beyond supports Black women working in predominantly White spaces and further educates their institutions non Black counterparts students and families in developing an understanding of the challenges and needs of Black women professionals In the face of world challenges the authors contend that anti Blackness continues to be an infectious pandemic that is devastating Black lives around the globe Black women professionals who are often at the forefront of racial and gender justice movements at their institutions have been especially burdened Such devotion is daunting and often drains the wellbeing of Black women Institutions frequently ignore the cry of racial battle fatigue that

Black employees and members of communities of color are experiencing on a large scale This has become a serious health risk for many Black people particularly Black women professionals The authors assert that it is important to use for us by us concepts when addressing racial battle fatigue Therefore this book is framed using several African descent centered knowledge systems It offers strategies to enhance the wellbeing of Black women such as ancestral wisdom addressing anti Blackness identities and female life cycles and planting seeds grounded in love Although the book focuses on Black women it is encouraged reading for all It is believed that greater awareness will spark greater change within our society Journey to Self: Journey to Love Raechel Rivers, 2011-07-08 Journey to Self Journey to Love is a collection of personal poems thoughts and blog entries from my journey through love In searching for love I ve continued to make a full circle back to myself and my Creator Some of the stories are sad and some funny but all are worth sharing It is my hope that lives will be touched and changed by seeing the authenticity of my experiences and perceptions I m not afraid of the truth it is what sets me free During my short 30 years of life I ve experienced so much about love and relationships I trust that we all have experienced our fair share What if your experiences and being healed from the lessons learned are a part of your assignment from God Now who signs up for heartache and pain Not one of us If these experiences can be used to help a younger generation or to help heal another I m ready to share What I ve learned about love is that it is a journey just like life Sure it hasn t all been roses and it hasn t all been heartache but it has been a road that has led me back to my first love God my Creator This is the refreshing part of the journey This is the part of the journey where all of Heaven and the Angels rejoice in knowing that we have remembered the One who first loved us There is no greater love So I say that love is a journey where you go searching and ultimately find yourself You find the God that is within and the God who created you You remember what you were born to do Thank you for taking the time out to travel this journey with me Down Home with the Neelys

Can a Sistah Get a Little Help? Teresa L Fry Brown, 2008-04-01 Can a Sistah Get a Little Help Encouragement for Black Women in Ministry focuses on how Black women can faithfully continue to navigate the internal and external challenges of ministry Drawing from experiences throughout her twenty-two years in ordained ministry and as a seminary professor Teresa L Fry Brown asserts she has learned that with a set of cultural coping mechanisms and values African American women can not only survive but thrive as leaders and mentors in spite of the brick ceiling These coping mechanisms and values include survival skills network and support systems a work ethic mentors and sponsors a sense of self-worth and self-confidence spiritual values a balance in life a leadership style and a cultural identity In preparation for the book Brown spoke with approximately 200 ordained and 450 laywomen in ministry about the issues most relevant to them Here in the form of remembrances vignettes and discussions and interwoven with common concerns raised by these women she shares the lessons learned and to be learned during a journey to self-empowerment in ministry

Letters to a Young Sister Hill Harper, 2008 A guide to becoming empowered in today's world addresses a wide range of topics from establishing a unique identity and confronting racism and sexism to engaging in responsible relationships with the opposite sex and managing finances

Being Black in the Ivory Shardé M. Davis, 2024-02-27 When Shard M Davis turned to social media during the summer of racial reckoning in 2020 she meant only to share how racism against Black people affects her personally But her hashtag BlackintheIvory went viral fostering a flood of Black scholars sharing similar stories Soon the posts were being quoted during summer institutes and workshops on social justice equity diversity and inclusion And in fall 2020 faculty assigned the tweets as material for course curriculum This curated collection of original personal narratives from Black scholars across the country seeks to continue the conversation that started with BlackintheIvory Put together the stories reveal how racism eats its way through higher education how academia systemically ejects Black scholars in overt and covert ways and how academic institutions and their individual members might make lasting change While anti-Black racism in academia is a behemoth with many entry points to the conversation this book marshals a diverse group of Black voices to bring to light what for too long has been hidden in the shadow of the ivory tower

Sisters in the Statehouse Nadia E. Brown, 2014 Theories of descriptive representation among female legislators consistently document the ways in which women are marginalized in office However they tend to treat identity as constant over time and context and so fail to account for the substantive work of legislators Sisters in the Statehouse looks at the situation from a different angle taking an in depth look at African American female state legislators to examine the impact of race and gender on Black women s political experiences policy preferences and legislative influence Brown links personal narratives to the political behavior of her interview subjects to understand how their experiences with racism and sexism have influenced their legislative decision making and policy preferences As such this is the first study that empirically examines how difference is recognized and put into practice among Black women legislators Brown demonstrates that identity influences political decision making in ways that distinguish the work of Black women from that of other state legislators Sisters in the Statehouse is a groundbreaking inquiry into how an intersectional approach can enhance our understanding of political representation
