Novels Of The Eighteen Forties:

Novels on the Eighteen-forties Kathleen Tillotson,1961 Novels of the Eighteen-forties. Kathleen Tillotson
Kathleen Mary Tillotson,1954 Novels of the Eighteen-forties Kathleen Tillotson,1961 The Cambridge Companion to the Eighteenth-Century Novel John Richetti,1996-09-05 In the past twenty years our understanding of the novel's emergence in eighteenth century Britain has drastically changed Drawing on new research in social and political history the twelve contributors to this Companion challenge and refine the traditional view of the novel's origins and purposes In various ways each seeks to show that the novel is not defined primarily by its realism of representation but by the new ideological and cultural functions it serves in the emerging modern world of print culture Sentimental and Gothic fiction and fiction by women are discussed alongside detailed readings of work by Defoe Swift Richardson Henry Fielding Sterne Smollett and Burney This multifaceted picture of the novel in its formative decades provides a comprehensive and indispensable guide for students of the eighteenth century British novel and its place within the culture of its time Novels of the Eighteen-forties Kathleen Tillotson,1983 Novels of the Eighteen-forties ,1961 Working-class families in novels of the eighteen-forties Cornelia Kuster,1988 The Reenchantment of Nineteenth-Century Fiction D. Payne,2005-05-23 An ambitious weave of ideological literary and commodity history The Reenchantment of Nineteenth Century Fiction shows how Dickens Thackeray and George Eliot sacralized Victorian modernity in two contradictory ways by incarnating their moment as one of transcendent development and by reenacting bloody rituals from a fading Protestant past Both the magnitude and the brevity of their success make these works exemplary for our own era caught between the archaic gods of traditional religion and the still mysterious ones of market society Modes of Production of Victorian Novels N. N. Feltes,1989-05-15 In this sophisticated application of modern Marxist thought N N Feltes demonstrates the determining influence of nineteenth century publishing practices on the Victorian novel His dialectical analysis leads to a comprehensive explanation of the development of capitalist novel production into the twentieth century Feltes focuses on five English novels Dickens's Pickwick Papers Thackeray's Henry Esmond Eliot's Middlemarch Hardy's Tess of the d'Urbervilles and Forster's Howards End Published at approximately twenty year intervals between 1836 and 1920 they each represent a different first publication format part issue three volume bimonthly magazine serial and single volume Drawing on publishing economic and literary history Feltes offers a broad synthetic explanation of the relationship between the production and format of each novel and the way in which these determine in the last instance the ideology of the text Modes of Production in Victorian Novels provides a Marxist structuralist analysis of historical events and practices described elsewhere only empirically and traces their relationship to literary texts which have been analyzed only idealistically thus setting these familiar works firmly and perhaps permanently into a framework of historic materialism A Guide to the Best Historical Novels and Tales Jonathan Nield,1929 The Victorian Novel Harold Bloom,2004 Victorian England produces some the the greatest novelists

in Western history including Charles Dickens Thomas Hardy and George Eliot Critical analysis focuses on the development of the Victorian novel through the second half of the 19th century

The Victorian Social-Problem Novel Josephine M. Guy,1996-09-18 This book describes various accounts of the Victorian social problem novel examining their strengths and limitations in the light of the historiographical assumptions which underlie them An alternative historical account is offered which focuses on the novels intellectual milieu specifically on mid Victorian concepts of the social and of what was understood by the term social problem In detailed readings of individual works the book argues that an appreciation of these concepts permits new ways of understanding the contradictions identified in these works together with their apparently conservative politics

Scenes of Sympathy Audrey Jaffe, 2018-03-15 In Scenes of Sympathy Audrey Jaffe argues that representations of sympathy in Victorian fiction both reveal and unsettle Victorian ideologies of identity Situating these representations within the context of Victorian visual culture and offering new readings of key works by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell Ellen Wood George Eliot Oscar Wilde and Arthur Conan Doyle Jaffe shows how mid Victorian spectacles of social difference construct the middle class self and how late Victorian narratives of feeling pave the way for the sympathetic affinities of contemporary identity politics Perceptive and elegantly written Scenes of Sympathy is the first detailed examination of the place of sympathy in Victorian fiction and ideology It will redirect the current critical conversation about sympathy and refocus discussions of late Victorian fictions of identity
