The Bioregional Imagination Tom Lynch, Cheryl

Glotfelty, Karla Armbruster, 2012 Bioregionalism is an innovative way of thinking about place and planet from an ecological perspective. Although bioregional ideas occur regularly in ecocritical writing until now no systematic effort has been made to outline the principles of bioregional literary criticism and to use it as a way to read, write, understand and teach literature. The twenty-four original essays here are written by an outstanding selection of international scholars. The range of bioregions covered is global and includes such diverse places as British Columbia's Meldrum Creek and Italy's Po River Valley, the Arctic and the Outback. There are even forays into cyberspace and outer space. In their comprehensive introduction the editors map the terrain of the bioregional movement including its history and potential to inspire and invigorate place-based and environmental literary criticism. Responding to bioregional tenets, this volume is divided into four sections. The essays in the Reinhabiting section narrate experiments in living in place and restoring damaged environments. The Rereading essays practice bioregional literary criticism both by examining texts with strong ties to bioregional paradigms and by opening other, less obvious texts to bioregional analysis. In Reimagining the essays push bioregionalism to evolve by expanding its corpus of texts, coupling its perspectives with other approaches or challenging its core constructs. Essays in the Renewal section address bioregional pedagogy beginning with local habitat studies and concluding with musings about the Internet. In response to the environmental crisis we must reimagine our relationship to the places we inhabit. This volume shows how literature and literary studies are fundamental tools to such a reimagining.
