Planning Canadian Communities An Introduction To The Principles Practice And Participants:

Planning Canadian Communities Gerald Hodge, 1986      Planning Canadian Communities Gerald Hodge, David L. A. Gordon, 2014      Planning Canadian communities Gerald Hodge, David L. A. Gordon, Pamela Shaw, Planning Canadian Communities is the nation's standard survey textbook on community planning. It provides a comprehensive view of the needs, origins, contemporary practices, and future challenges in planning Canadian cities, towns, and regions. The text describes the history of community planning in Canada, how it works today, and who participates in it. This edition, as with its predecessors, remains a personal view of how community planning started, how it works today, and who participates in it. A primary aim of this book is to examine community planning in diverse settings across this country and to reveal its Canadianness. In pursuit of this goal, the authors make the often bewildering array of activities and institutions that occur under the rubric of community planning more understandable to students of planning, practising professionals, and not least citizens.

Canadian History: Confederation to the present Martin Brook Taylor, Doug O'Wram, 1994-01-01. In these two volumes which replace the Reader's Guide to Canadian History, experts provide a select and critical guide to historical writing about pre and post Confederation Canada with an emphasis on the most recent scholarship. Cover      Planning Canadian Regions Gerald Hodge, Ira M. Robinson, 2007-10-01. Planning Canadian Regions is the first book to consolidate the history, evolution, current practice, and future prospects for regional planning in Canada. As planners grapple with challenges wrought by globalization, the evolution of massive new city regions, and the pressures of sustainable and community development, a deeper understanding of Canada's approaches is invaluable. Hodge and Robinson identify the conceptual and historical foundations of regional planning and propose a new planning paradigm that emphasizes regional governance and greater inclusiveness and integration of physical planning with planning for economic sustainability and natural ecosystems.      "I Was the Only Woman" Sue Hendler, 2017-03-15. I was the only woman. These words appear again and again in the stories of women planners working in Canada from the 1940s to the 1970s. Despite their small numbers, women were active in the Community Planning Association of Canada and the Town Planning Institute of Canada, later called the Canadian Institute of Planners, during those years. This book tells their stories, expanding our understanding of what constitutes planning and who counts as planners. It challenges us to re-evaluate not only the profession's past but also its role in creating a more inclusive and equitable future.      Governing Ourselves? Mary Louise McAllister, 2011-11-01. Popular rhetoric suggests that the twenty-first century has ushered in an era of homogeneity. Urbanization, globalization, amalgamation, media conglomeration, and technological convergence have become familiar terms. Given the pressures of integration and assimilation, how are people within communities able to make decisions about their own environment, whether individually or collectively? To what extent can they govern themselves? Governing Ourselves explores issues of influence and power within local institutions and decision-making processes using numerous illustrations from municipalities across Canada. It shows how communities large and small from Toronto to Iqaluit have distinctive political cultures and therefore respond differently to changing global and domestic environments Case studies of Prince George Sherbrooke Saint John and Kitchener Waterloo are used to illuminate historical and contemporary challenges to local governance This stimulating book covers traditional topics such as government structures and institutions and intergovernmental relations It also reaches more broadly into areas of inquiry relevant to geography urban planning environmental studies public administration sociology and Canadian studies The Changing Social Geography of Canadian Cities Larry S. Bourne, David Ley, 1993 The contributors to this volume demonstrate the richness and diversity of the social landscapes and communities in Canadian urban centres emphasizing changes which occurred in the period from the mid 1960s to the early 1990s The nineteen non technical and integrative essays include reviews of the literature empirical studies and discussions of policy issues CONTENTS Introduction The Social Context and Diversity of Urban Canada David F Ley and Larry S Bourne Part One Patterns People and Place in Urban Canada Evolving Urban Landscapes D W Holdsworth Measuring the Social Ecology of Cities W K D Davies and R A Murdie Demography Living Arrangement and Residential Geography J R Miron Urban Social Behaviour in Time and Space D G Janelle Part Two Contexts Social Structure and Urban Space Migration Mobility and Population Redistribution E G Moore and M W Rosenberg The Emerging Ethnocultural Mosaic S H Olson and A L Kobayashi Work Labour Markets and Households in Transition D Rose and P Villeneuve Housing Markets Community Development and Neighbourhood Change Larry S Bourne and T Bunting Part Three Places Selected Locales Integrating Production and Consumption Industry Class Ethnicity and the Jews of Toronto D Hiebert Past Elites and Present Gentry Neighbourhoods of Privilege in the Inner City David F Ley From Periphery to Centre The Changing Geography of the Suburbs L J Evenden and G E Walker The Social Geography of Small Towns J C Everitt and A M Gill Part Four Needs Social Well being and Public Policy Social Planning and the Welfare State J T Lemon The Meaning of Home Home Ownership and Public Policy R Harris and G J Pratt Homelessness M J Dear and J Wolch Geography of Urban Health S M Taylor Changing Access to Public and Private Services Non family Childcare S Mackenzie and M Truelove Cities as a Social Responsibility Planning and Urban Form P J Smith and P W Moore Paradise Planned Robert A.M.
