Far from being solitary heroes, these explorers were in reality dependent on the bodies, senses, curiosity, and labor of subaltern people and animals. In On the Backs of Others, Edward Armston-Sheret offers new perspectives on British exploration in this era by focusing on the contributions of the people and animals ordinarily written out of the mainstream histories who made these journeys possible. He explores several well-known case studies of enduring popular and academic interest, such as Richard Francis Burton and John Hanning Speke's Nile expeditions (1856-59 and 1860-63), Isabella Bird's travels in North America, Persia, and East Asia (1872-c. 1900), and Captain

Robert Falcon Scott's two Antarctic expeditions 1901-4 and 1911-13. Armston Sheret argues that numerous previously ignored stories show the work and agency of subaltern groups. In rethinking the history of exploration On the Backs of Others offers the first book-length study of the relationship between exploration and empire and their legacies within academic geography.
