

The book cover features a dark, textured background with a collage of several portraits of Polish men, likely historical figures, arranged in a cluster. The portraits are rendered in a style that suggests oil or pastel, with warm tones of brown, gold, and blue. The men are shown in profile or three-quarter view, looking towards the left. The title is written in a white, elegant script font at the bottom right of the cover.

Jan K. Ostrowski, Thomas DaCosta Kaufmann, 1999-01-01 In the golden years of the baroque era Poland expressed creative ties to East and West in extraordinary works of fine and decorative art This illustrated book displays more than 150 pieces that celebrate the cross cultural richness of Poland s creative output during this period From the dramatic uniform of the winged hussar complete with feathered wings and leopard skin to traditional portraits of royalty to a Turkish style beverage service these splendid objects represent Poland s diversity and breadth at a time when it was the largest land empire in Europe stretching from the Baltic to the Black Sea This book is the catalogue for a major exhibition at The Walters Art Gallery in Baltimore The Art Institute of Chicago Huntsville Museum of Art The San Diego Museum of Art The Philbrook Museum of Art and the Royal Castle in Warsaw Visual Cultures of Death in Central Europe Aleksandra Koutny-Jones, 2015-09-17 In Visual Cultures of Death in Central Europe Aleksandra Koutny Jones explores the emergence of a remarkable cultural preoccupation with death in Poland Lithuania 1569 1795 Examining why such interests resonated so strongly in the Baroque art of this Commonwealth she argues that the printing revolution the impact of the Counter Reformation and multiple afflictions suffered by Poland Lithuania all contributed to a deep cultural concern with mortality Introducing readers to a range of art architecture and material culture this study considers various visual evocations of death including Dance of Death imagery funerary decorations coffin portraiture tomb chapels and religious landscapes These Koutny Jones argues engaged with wider European cultures of contemplation and commemoration while also being critically adapted to the specific context of Poland Lithuania *Na ulicy i przy urnie. National Survival in Dependent Societies R. Breton, 1990-11-15 Both Quebec and Poland have undergone considerable change in the past few decades change that can be described as a quiet revolution This collection of essays by Polish and Canadian sociologists provides comparative analyses of the two societies and highlights institutional political cultural and socio economic changes

Totalitarian Experience and Knowledge Production Svetla Koleva, 2017-11-20 Totalitarian Experience and Knowledge Production examines in a comparative perspective sociology as practiced in six European Communist countries marked by various forms of totalitarianism in the period 1945 1989 In contrast to normative sociology s view that such coexistence is essentially impossible the author argues that sociology could function in these undemocratic societies insofar as sociologists succeeded in establishing relatively autonomous institutional and cognitive zones Based on the self reflection of scholars who had practiced their profession during that period the book reveals the tribulations of the scientific identity of sociology under the specific social political conditions of totalitarian societies It becomes evident that the basic principle that made sociological knowledge possible was freedom of thought in search for scientific truth despite the truth imposed by political authority

The Social Direction of the Public Sciences Stuart Blume, Joske Bunders, Loet Leydesdorff, Richard P. Whitley, 2012-12-06 This volume of the Sociology of the Sciences Yearbooks stems from our experience that collaborations between non scientists and scientists often initiated by scientists seeking greater social relevance for science can be of major importance for cognitive development It seemed to us that it would be useful to explore the conditions under which such collaborations affect scientific change and the nature of the processes involved This book therefore focuses on a number of instances in which scientists and non scientists were jointly involved in the genera tion of scientific results at the interface of science and society Despite the considerable variety of cases reported here a number of questions are central Under what conditions do such cooperative processes occur What perceptions of social relevance and what sorts of collaborations with non scientific groups are involved How is this collaboration achieved and through what forums How can insights into its conditions and mechanisms stabilize such cooperations over a longer period of time If they are stabilized do they really affect science or do they mainly function to shield the rest of the science system against external influences These questions are pertinent both to intellectual problems in the sociology of science and to the practical concerns of modern science policies The significance of relations between knowledge producers and knowledge consumers and interest in how these relations affect science and society have changed considerably in recent decades

Women and Democracy Jane S. Jaquette, Sharon L. Wolchik, 1998-10-07 A unique look at the political experiences of women in two regions of the world Latin American and Eastern and Central Europe which have moved from authoritarian to democratic regimes By examining various political attitudes and efforts of women as they learn to participate in the political process contributors offer important new insights into democratic consolidation
