Sachar, 2013-10-30 When this encyclopedic history of the Jews was first published in 1958 it was hailed as one of the great works of its kind a study that not only chronicled an assailed and enduring people but assessed its astonishing impact on the modern world Now this scholarly and comprehensive book has been massively revised and updated by its author a professor

Race and U.S. Foreign Policy from Colonial Times Through the Age of Jackson E. Nathaniel Gates, 2021-12-24 First published in 1998 Explores the concept of race The term race which originally denoted genealogical or class identity has in the comparatively brief span of 300 years taken on an entirely new meaning In the wake of the Enlightenment it came to be applied to social groups This ideological transformation coupled with a dogmatic insistence that the groups so designated were natural and not socially created gave birth to the modern notion of races as genetically distinct entities The results of this view were the encoding of race and racial hierarchies in law literature and culture How racial categories facilitate social control The articles in the series demonstrate that the classification of humans according to selected physical characteristics was an arbitrary decision that was not based on valid scientific method They also examine the impact of colonialism on the propagation of the concept and note that racial categorization is a powerful social force that is often used to promote the interests of dominant social groups Finally the collection surveys how laws based on race have been enacted around the world to deny power to minority groups A multidisciplinary resource This collection of outstanding articles brings multiple perspectives to bear on race theory and draws on a wider range of periodicals than even the largest library usually holds Even if all the articles were available on campus chances are that a student would have to track them down in several libraries and microfilm collections Providing of course that no journals were reserved for graduate students out for binding or simply missing This convenient set saves students substantial time and effort by making available all the key articles in one reliable source

Civil War in Central Europe, 1918-1921 Jochen Böhrer, 2018 Civil War in Central Europe argues that Polish independence after the First World War was forged in the fires of the post war conflicts which should be collectively referred to as the Central European Civil War 1918 1921 The ensuing violence forced those living in European border regions to decide on their national identity German or Polish

Race and the Colour-Line Bolaji Balogun, 2023-08-11 Race and the Colour Line addresses the foundational ideas about race and colonialism in Central and Eastern Europe CEE and reconnects them to the global manifestations that influenced them Focusing on race and colonialism this book indicates a shift in the global racial discourse an understanding of the specificity of Polish racism that can transform and add to our understandings of race in the West Drawing on archival resources manuscripts documents and records from Poland and other parts of Europe the book offers a compelling theoretical and historical context of race making in the so called peripheral sphere while outlining the ways in which colonialism has been framed specifically within the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth and its empire in the Atlantic world Following a race conscious social analysis the significance and originality of this work lie in tracing the specificity of blackness in Europe and the very particular but often neglected case of black people in CEE To chart all this commendably premised on critical race studies the author uniquely explores the everyday racialized experiences of people of colour from Sub Saharan African descent living in contemporary Poland and brings to the fore the obscurities of race and racism in the country Through ethnographic research the author shows how these particular people perform multiple identities in their daily lives as part of the configuration of a racially complex society The demonstration of the globality of racism in this book examines the phenomenon of race beyond its usual context in the West and as such will appeal to scholars from a range of disciplines including Sociology Geography Anthropology Postcolonial Polish and Slavic Studies     Library Journal Melvil Dewey,Karl Brown,Bertine Emma Weston,Helen E.
