Polar Bear Strategy Reflections On Risk In Modern Life:

The Polar Bear Strategy John Ross,1999-04-22 From cholesterol to cancer asteroids to AIDS we face more risks than our grandparents ever dreamed of But most of us are 200 years behind the curve when it comes to making intelligent risk based decisions We refuse to fly but don't wear seat belts in our far more dangerous cars We panic about toxic waste dumps but collectively smoke a billion cigarettes a year In this entertaining and enlightening look at risk in the modern age John Ross argues that the burgeoning science of risk assessment has given us powerful new tools to cope in a complex world if we could only learn how to speak the language Ross examines the building blocks of this new language and helps us identify and relinquish long held often pre set biological and psychological responses to risk Through vivid stories and compelling science Ross empowers us to take control of our lives and to exercise our most basic democratic freedom the power to make our own decisions both as individuals and as a society
