Policing the Media David D. Perlmutter,2000-02-15 Policing the Media is an investigation into one of the paradoxes of the mass media age Issues events and people that we see most on our television screens are often those that we understand the least David Perlmutter examined this issue as it relates to one of the most frequently portrayed groups of people on television police officers Policing the Media is a report on the ethnography of a police department derived from the author s experience riding on patrol with officers and joining the department as a reserve policeman Drawing upon interviews Perlmutter describes the lives and philosophies of street patrol officers He finds that cops hold ambiguous attitudes toward their television characters for much of TV copland is fantastic and unrealistic Moreover the officers perceive that the public s attitudes toward law enforcement and crime are directly influenced by mass media This in turn he suggests influences the way that they themselves behave and perform on the street and that unreal and surreal expectations of them are propagated by television cop shows This cycle of perceptual influence may itself profoundly impact the contemporary criminal justice system on the street in the courts and in the hearts and minds of ordinary people

Saturn 27 Dwight Fiscus,2001-02 Dr Carl Slagel is commissioned to design and supervise the building of a giant space station The reasons given to the world population by the super powers were lies It was the secret goal of a few to launch the station then create a nuclear holocaust to destroy the population then return and establish their own rule The world was nearly destroyed but Dr Slagel and a handful of people managed to endure

The Shaney Incidents Mike Ferguson,2021-12-29 John Thornton returns home from the war in Iraq being wounded suffering post traumatic stress disorder from his combat experiences and attending the United States Homeland Security School and returns to his job at the Center City Oklahoma Police Department as a detective When a very strange haunting of a local elderly ladies home and three suspicious deaths occur in Shaney

Oklahoma a suburb of Center City it becomes apparent the current investigation authority of the Center City Police Department cannot solve these cases John Thornton serves as a liaison between the US Department of Homeland Security and the Center City Police Department and makes a plea to a retired United States senator Nathaniel Andrews for help which brings him Robbie Jensen US DHS medical examiner Sofia Clark a CIA agent and Dr Lisa Wayne psychiatrist together to form a specialized US DHS Special Investigations Division into existence to work these cases under the authority of the United States Department of Homeland Security Although John does not believe in the paranormal what he experiences firsthand changes his mind However even with this group with the aid of the Oklahoma Paranormal Research Association the investigations are still very dangerous for all The tension is high for everyone as the tasks become much more dangerous both physically and psychologically The solving of these cases however makes the risks all that more important to the US DHS Special Investigations Division team members to save innocent lives
