Policing The Elephant:

Policing the Elephant John Phillip Reid, 1997 This volume makes as significant a contribution to scholarship as did the first book Law for the Elephant and will I predict force scholars to reassess the role of law in nineteenth century America Walter Nugent Notre Dame University We the Miners Andrea G. McDowell, 2022-06-28 The California Gold Rush is thought to exemplify the Wild West yet miners were expert organizers Driven by property interests they enacted mining codes held criminal trials and decided claim disputes But democracy and law did not extend to foreigners and Indians and miners were hesitant to yield power to the state that formed around them Rural Policing and Policing the Rural Rob I. Mawby, 2016-04-08 Policing reveals much about rural society It refers to the way that the police the public and other agencies regulate themselves and each other according to the dominant ideals of society This can be formally through the ever growing spectrum of policing partnerships in neo liberal countries or informally through the performance and enforcement of moral codes and values This book draws on international inter disciplinary perspectives to examine the range and consequences of policing across different rural localities Rural Policing and Policing the Rural is organised into two sections the first examines who is policing rural areas while the second examines the nature of rural policing by considering on the one hand the policing of rural space and on the other how ideas of rurality are regulated In doing so this book provides a survey of rural policing that will be valuable to academics students policy makers and those policing rural places

Invitation to an Execution Gordon Morris Bakken, 2010-11-16 Until the early twentieth century printed invitations to executions issued by lawmen were a vital part of the ritual of death concluding a criminal proceeding in the United States In this study Gordon Morris Bakken invites readers to an understanding of the death penalty in America with a collection of essays that trace the history and politics of this highly charged moral legal and cultural issue Bakken has solicited essays from historians political scientists and lawyers to ensure a broad treatment of the evolution of American cultural attitudes about crime and capital punishment Part one of this extensive analysis focuses on politics legal history multicultural issues and the international aspects of the death penalty Part two offers a regional analysis with essays that put death penalty issues into a geographic and cultural context Part three focuses on specific states with emphasis on the need to understand capital punishment in terms of state law development particularly because states determine on whom the death penalty will be imposed Part four examines the various means of death from hanging to lethal injection in state law case studies And finally part five focuses on the portrayal of capital punishment in popular culture Tides and Currents in Police

Theories Elke Devroe, Paul Ponsaers, Lodewijk Gunther Moor, Jack Greene, Lieselot Bisschop, Layla Skinns, Antoinette Verhage, Matthew Bacon, 2012 This volume of the Journal of Police Studies reflects on theoretical developments concerning police The book is focused on a paper by Jack R Greene titled The Tides and Currents Eddies and Whirlpools and Riptides of Modern Policing Connecting Thoughts The paper was the outcome of a seminar organized at Ghent University in the framework of the working group on policing of the European Society of Criminology ESC held in September 2010 Greene's contribution refers to original background papers which were published earlier This book pushes the analysis further starting from the observations Greene makes in his provocative roundup The book's themes include collective action and crime policing and social democracy the role of the law in policing violence and police the militarization and demilitarization of police politics and policing the transformation of policing the evaluation of research methodology buzz words and basics in policing the history of theory the emerging new policing role and its implications police education and training the erosion of community policing the complexity of policing dirty crime global crime and policing the central tasks of the police democratic policing on key areas of criminal justice practice such as policing probation and crime prevention this book examines the actual extent of this change and reviews the case for a new risk based penology The book combines a review of current theories on actuarial justice with a detailed examination of current practices in key frontline agencies The result is an essential text for criminology students and trainee professionals in criminal justice
