Policing Chinese Politics A History Asia Pacific:

Policing Chinese Politics Michael Robert Dutton, 2005 Beginning with the bloody communist purges of the Jiangxi era of the late 1920s and early 1930s and moving forward to the wild excesses of the Cultural Revolution Policing Chinese Politics explores the question of revolutionary violence and the political passion that propels it Who are our enemies who are our friends that is a question germane to the revolution wrote Mao Zedong in 1926 Michael Dutton shows just how powerful this one line was to become It would establish the binary division of life in revolutionary China and lead to both passionate commitment and revolutionary excess The political history of revolutionary China he argues is largely framed by the attempts of Mao and the Party to harness these passions The economic reform period that followed Mao Zedong's rule contained a hint as to how the magic spell of political faith and commitment could be broken but the cost of such disenchantment was considerable This detailed empirical tale of Chinese socialist policing is therefore more than simply a police story It is a parable that offers a cogent analysis of Chinese politics generally while radically redrafting our understanding of what politics is all about Breaking away from the traditional elite modes of political analysis that focus on personalities factions and betrayals and from rational accounts of politics and government Dutton provides a highly original understanding of the far reaching consequences of acts of faith and commitment in the realm of politics

Critical Security and Chinese Politics Juha A. Vuori, 2014-10-24 This book examines how critical approaches to security developed in Europe can be used to investigate a Chinese security issue the case of the Falungong The past few decades have produced a rich field of theoretical approaches to security in Europe In this book the security specific notions of securitization the politics of insecurity and emancipation are used as analytical approaches to investigate the anti Falungong campaign in the People's Republic of China This campaign launched in 1999 was the largest security related propaganda campaign since 1989 and was directed against a group of qigong practitioners who were presented as a grave threat to society The campaign had major impacts as new security legislation was established and human rights organizations reported severe mistreatment of practitioners This book approaches one empirical case with three approaches in order to transcend the tendency to pit one approach against another It shows how they highlight different aspects in investigation and how they can be combined to gain more comprehensive insights and thereby invigorate renewed debate in the field Furthermore this is used as a vehicle to discuss more general philosophical issues of theory development and theory development and will assist students to comprehend the effects research framework selection has on a piece of research Such discussions are necessary in order to apply the frameworks in investigations that go beyond the socio political context they were originally developed in This book will be of interest to students of critical security studies Chinese politics research methods and IR in general and Divided Landscapes Anoma Pieris, 2009-02-26 During the nineteenth century the colonial Straits Settlements of Singapore Penang and Melaka were established as free ports of British trade in Southeast Asia and proved attractive to large numbers of regional migrants Following the abolishment of slavery in 1833 the Straits government transported convicts from the East India Company's Indian presidencies to the settlements as a source of inexpensive labor The prison became the primary experimental site for the colonial plural society and convicts were graduated by race and the labor needed for urban construction Hidden Hands and Divided Landscapes investigates how a political system aimed at managing ethnic communities in the larger material context of the colonial urban project was first imagined and tested through the physical segregation of the colonial prison It relates the story of a city Singapore and a contemporary city state whose plural society has its origins in these historical divisions A description of the evolution of the ideal plan for a plural city across the three settlements is followed by a detailed look at Singapore's colonial prison Chapters trace the prison's development and its dissolution across the urban landscape through the penal labor system The author demonstrates the way in which racial politics were inscribed spatially in the division of penal facilities and how the map of the city was reconfigured through convict labor Later chapters describe penal resistance first through intimate stories of penal life and then through a discussion of organized resistance in festival riots Eventually the plural city ideal collapsed into the hegemonic urban form of the citadel where a quite different military vision of the city became evident Hidden Hands and Divided Landscapes is a fascinating and thoroughly original study in urban history and the making of multiethnic society in Singapore It will compel readers to rethink the ways in which colonial urban history postcolonial urbanism and governance have been theorized by scholars and represented by governments Handbook of China's Governance and Domestic Politics Chris

Ogden, 2013-01-03 This Handbook provides an in depth overview of how China is governed how its domestic political system functions and the critical issues that it currently faces Governed by the world's largest political party in the world's longest ruling Communist regime China is undergoing a transitional period of rapid economic and social development How this period is managed will have significant implications for the Chinese state and its population concerning China's governance structures and economy as well as the country's justice public health education and internal external security concerns This transition to a modern state is not without its challenges particularly in terms of how the Chinese state deals with diverse issues such as social inequality corruption separatism increasing individualism and political reform China's governance and

The Battle For China's Past Mobo Gao, 2008-02-20 Shows that the Mao era was beneficial for most Chinese citizens A powerful mixture of political passion and original research a brave polemic against the fashionable view on China Aims a knockout blow at Jung Chang's recent book on Mao which Bush and the conservatives rave reviewed Gregor Benton Professor of Chinese History University of Cardiff This important book opens a much needed window onto Chinese perceptions of the country's post Mao direction Highlights the renewal of popular support for socialism and the growing opposition to contemporary state policies Martin Hart Landsberg Professor of Economics Lewis Clark College Portland Oregon Mao and his policies have long been demonised in the West with the Cultural Revolution considered a fundamental violation of human rights As China embraces capitalism the Mao era is being surgically denigrated by the Chinese political and intellectual elite This book tackles the extremely negative depiction of China under Mao in recent publications and argues most people in China including the rural poor and the urban working class actually benefited from Mao's policy of a comprehensive welfare system for the urban and basic health and education provision for the rural which is being reversed in the current rush towards capitalism By a critical analysis of the mainstream account of the Mao era and the Cultural Revolution and by revealing what is offered in the unofficial e media debates this book sets the record straight making a convincing argument for the positive effects of Mao's policies on the well being of the Chinese people

World History and National Identity in China Xin Fan, 2021-02-25 Focuses on individual lived experiences to trace the development of world historical studies in China's long twentieth century

Chinese Macrosecuritization Juha A. Vuori, 2023-11-10 This book provides a holistic picture of Chinese global security discourses with a focus on macrosecritizations The work

examines how the People's Republic of China (PRC) has aligned itself within global security discourses. This is approached through the theory of securitization specifically by using the notion of macrosecuritization as the lens for its analysis. The book offers the first full account of Chinese macrosecuritization discourses and alignments and it aims to discern what security speech with referent objects such as humanity, civilization or nature has done in the domestic and international politics of China. Specifically, the work focuses on the discourses of the Cold War, anti-nuclear weapons, climate change and the Global War on Terror which have all been postulated in the literature as macrosecuritizations. In addition, it examines discourses with global referent objects that have been put forth by the PRC so that we can see whether its proposals for global security governance take the form of or are legitimated through macrosecuritization. The overall argument in the book is that the way contemporary China uses macrosecuritization discourses provides for ontological security as its position in relation to other major powers is undergoing transformation by allowing it to maintain a consistent narrative of its international self that abides by its own set of moral values and sense of worth. This book will be of interest to students of critical security studies, Chinese politics and International Relations. A History of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Adelaide 1876-2012 Nick Harvey, Jean Fornasiero, Greg McCarthy, Clem Macintyre, Carl Crossin, 2012. The Bachelor of Arts (BA) was the first recognised degree at the University of Adelaide. Although informal classes for some subjects were held at the University between 1873 and 1875, the first official University lecture was a Latin lecture at 10 am on Monday 28 March 1876. This was followed by lectures in Greek, English and Mental Philosophy. By 1878, the first BA student, Thomas Ainslie Caterer, completed his studies for the BA degree and in 1879 became the first graduate of the University of Adelaide. Even though the BA was the first degree, it was not until eight years later, in 1887, that the Faculty of Arts was inaugurated, after the Faculty of Law in 1884, a Board of Studies in Music in 1885 and the Faculty of Medicine in 1885. Following the creation of a separate science degree in 1882, many scientific subjects were removed from the BA. For the next five years, the subjects were Latin, Greek, Mathematics, Natural Philosophy, Logic, English, History and Comparative Philology. Later, other subjects such as French, German and Political Economy were added toward the end of the nineteenth century. In 1897, the Elder Conservatorium of Music was created as the first music school of its type in Australia, although at that time it was not part of the Faculty of Arts. In the first 50 years of the University's existence, less than ten BA students graduated each year. At the start of the 21st century, this figure had climbed to over 300 BA graduates per year, but what is interesting is that by 2010, the number of BA graduates was equalled by the number of graduates from separate named degrees within the Faculty, plus 70 Music graduates. In addition, during the first decade of the twenty-first century, there were over 60 coursework postgraduates plus more than 40 research postgraduates graduating each year.

Understanding Securitisation Theory Thierry Balzacq,2010-09-13 This volume aims to provide a new framework for the analysis of securitization processes increasing our understanding of how security issues emerge evolve and dissolve Securitisation theory has become one of the key components of security studies and IR courses in recent years and this book represents the first attempt to provide an integrated and rigorous overview of securitization practices within a coherent framework To do so it organizes securitization around three core assumptions which make the theory applicable to empirical studies the centrality of audience the co dependency of agency and context and the structuring force of the dispositif These assumptions are then investigated through discourse analysis process tracing ethnographic research and content analysis and discussed in relation to extensive case studies This innovative new book will be of much interest to students of securitisation and critical security studies as well as IR theory and sociology Thierry Balzacq is holder of the Tocqueville Chair on Security Policies and Professor at the University of Namur He is Research Director at the University of Louvain and Associate Researcher at the Centre for European Studies at Sciences Po Paris

21st Century China Mary Farquhar,2009-10-02 Australian Prime Minister Kevin

Rudd famously said that China issues are part of 21st century Australia's very life blood. This brings short term challenges to the Australia China relationship from Chinese investments in our resources to visits to Australia by expatriate regional political and religious leaders labelled splittists or terrorists by the Chinese government. Our long term relationship includes robust scholarship on China as an emerging superpower. In this book leading Australian academics comment on the arts law politics and society in China today. The book opens with Geremie Barm's essay on re-orienting Beijing city for the Olympics and closes with restaurateur Kylie Kwong's reminiscences and recipes from a Chinese childhood in Sydney's suburbs. Readers will discover a rich engagement with China in the twelve chapters of this volume ranging from Confucianism to green Australian Chinese cuisine.

Comparative Law and Regulation Francesca Bignami, David Zaring, 2016-09-30 Governance by regulation rules propounded and enforced by bureaucracies is taking a growing share of the sum total of governance. Once thought to be an American phenomenon it is now a central form of state action in every part of the world including Europe Latin America and Asia and it is at the core of much international lawmaking. In Comparative Law and Regulation original contributions by leading scholars in the field focus both on the legal dimension of regulation and on how this dimension operates in those places that have turned to regulation to meet their obligations.

Colonialism and Male Domestic Service across the Asia Pacific Julia Martínez, Claire Lowrie, Frances Steel, Victoria Haskins, 2018-11-29 Examining the role of Asian and indigenous male servants across the Asia Pacific from the late 19th century to the 1930s this study shows how their ubiquitous presence in these purportedly humble jobs gave them a degree of cultural influence that has been largely overlooked in the literature on labour mobility in the age of empire. With case studies from British Hong Kong Singapore Northern Australia Fiji and British Columbia French Indochina the American Philippines and the Dutch East Indies the book delves into the intimate and often conflicted relationships between European and American colonists and their servants It explores the lives of houseboys cooks and gardeners in the colonial home considers the bell boys and waiters in the grand colonial hotels and follows the stewards and cabin boys on steamships travelling across the Indian and Pacific Oceans This broad conception of service allows Colonialism and Male Domestic Service to illuminate trans colonial or cross border influences through the mobility of servants and their employers This path breaking study is an important book for students and scholars of colonialism labour history and the Asia Pacific region

China's Frontier Regions Doug Smith, Michael E. Clarke, 2016-03-08 China has traditionally viewed her frontier regions Xinjiang Tibet Inner Mongolia and Yunnan as buffer zones Yet their importance as commercial and cosmopolitan hubs intimately involved in the transmission of goods peoples and ideas between China and the west and southwest has meant they are crucial for China's ongoing development The resurgence of China under Deng Xiaoping's policy of reform and opening has therefore led to a focus on integrating these regions into the PRC People's Republic of China This has important implications not only for the frontier regions themselves but also for the neighbouring states with which they have strong cultural religious linguistic and economic ties China's Frontier Regions explores the challenges presented by this integrationist policy both for domestic relations and for diplomatic and foreign policy relations with the countries abutting their frontier regions
