Policy Reforms and Agriculture Development in Central Asia Sandjar Djalalov, Suresh Chandra Babu, 2006-07-02 Achieving sustainable agricultural development is at the forefront of the poverty reduction objective of the Central Asian republics Kazakhstan the Kyrgyz Republic Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan Since independence the countries of the Central Asian region have undergone a series of transition from centrally planned economies to a more market oriented system Wide ranging policy reforms have been implemented although in varying degrees in the five Central Asian countries Despite great efforts by the countries and the external advice and efforts of international agencies to help them to follow a dynamic growth path the progress in policy reforms has been frustratingly slow Generating momentum to reorient the approach and the sequencing of policy reform packages will require rethinking of the policy reform process This is particularly so in the food agriculture and natural resource sectors This further requires improved understanding among the policymakers donors and international agencies of the impact of policy alternatives so that policy reforms and the speed with which they have been implemented are consistent with the objectives and the social and political realities of individual countries in the region Involving the local policy research community in identifying critical issues and challenges setting priorities among them for food and agricultural and natural resource policy research and analysis and implementing joint research studies is the best way to generate knowledge on the impact of policy reforms and to increase ownership of policy design and implementation Foreign Trade Reforms and Development Strategy Jean-Marc Fontaine, 2005-07-27 First published in 1992 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company WTO Negotiations and Agricultural Trade Liberalization Eugenio Díaz-Bonilla, Søren Elkjær Frandsen, Sherman Robinson, 2006-01-01 Based on original research by the Food and Resource Economic Institute in Denmark and the International Food Policy Research Institute in Washington DC this book addresses the controversial issue of the effects of developed countries agricultural policies on developing countries Written from the perspective of developing countries it addresses the main issues raised by developing countries governments politicians farmers organizations NGO s trade specialists and development specialists It focuses on the key issues of food security poverty regional agreements multifunctionality in agriculture and the trade of genetically modified products as an input to policy reform within the World Trade Organization trade negotiations Political Economy of Agricultural Development in India Akina Venkateswarlu, 2021-11-17 The book covers Indian agricultural development from the colonial to the present period It examines how ruling class political ideology determined the agricultural policies from colonial rule It considers both quantitative and qualitative aspects in all periods colonial period to pre green revolution phase post green revolution phase early and late stages and post globalisation phase after 1991 India has achieved the ability to maintain food security through enough food grain buffer stocks to meet the enormous public distribution system But with India s entry into WTO in 1994 euphoria has been created among all types of farmers to adopt commercial crops like cotton cost intensive inputs Even food grain crops are grown through use of costly irrigation and chemicalised inputs But they lacked remunerative prices and so farmers began to commit suicides which crossed 3 5 lakh Government of India attributed this agrarian crisis to the technology fatigue and gave scope for second green revolution GR II GR I was achieved by public sector enterprise whereas the GR II as gene revolution is a result of private sector enterprise MNCs There is fear that opening up of the sector may lead to handover of the family farms to big agri multinationals GOI s proposal to double farmers income by 2022 is feasible only when the problems being faced by small marginal and tenant farmers are addressed in agricultural marketing credit and extension services Now it is time to go for suitable forms of cooperative collective agriculture as 85 percent of total cultivators are the small and marginal farmers This book is co published with Aakar Books New Delhi Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the print versions of this book in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka
