

THE GENDER DIMENSION OF INFORMAL CARE

ABSTRACT

Across the EU, 80% of care is provided by informal carers. A majority of them are women as informal carers are typically spouses, middle-aged daughters or daughters-in-law, aged 45 to 75. A redistribution of care responsibilities between men and women, as well as between the family and the State has become more critical and urgent than ever before.

Care Loops and Mobilities in Nordic, Central, and Eastern European Welfare States Lena Näre, Lise Widding Isaksen, 2022-03-03 This edited volume discusses and analyses the impact of neoliberal policies and ideologies on public and private care practices in Nordic Central and East European welfare states Through new conceptualizations of care practices chapters take the reader directly into the homes workplaces and everyday life of urban and rural residents throughout Europe The book argues that common neoliberal responses to care crises are not about revaluing care but rather a normalization of precarious work as expressed in moving care from public institutions to families within private homes Featuring contributions from eight countries chapters contribute to research on gender care migration and welfare policies by discussing how recent developments in global capitalism and neoliberal policies influence welfare policies and care arrangements in post egalitarian and post socialist societies in Europe

Gender Issues and Nursing Practice Margaret Miers, 2000-02-15 The relevance of gender to nursing as an activity and as a profession has already been discussed extensively in the sociological literature and gender is recognised as a relevant variable by social policy analysts interested in community care Furthermore there is a growing awareness of the sociological aspects of women s and increasingly men s health issues This book demonstrates the relevance of theoretical approaches to the understanding of gender issues within nursing practice

Basic Income in Japan Y. Vanderborght, T. Yamamori, 2014-10-09 Basic Income in Japan is the first collective volume in English entirely devoted to the discussion of Japan s potential for a basic income program in the context of the country s changing welfare state Vanderborght and Yamamori bring together over a dozen contributors to provide a general overview of the scholarly debate on universal and unconditional basic income including a foreword by Ronald Dore Drawing on empirical data on poverty and inequality as well as normative arguments this balanced approach to a radical idea is essential reading for the study of contemporary Japan

Mancini, Karen A. Roberto, 2009-08-20 Pathways of Human Development uses theoretical perspectives from developmental social and behavioral sciences to examine the many ways that individuals families and communities intersect and interface Focusing on the impact of change on human development including its antecedents processes and consequences the chapters examine a range of topics such as health and adaptation social anxiety disorder protective factors and risk behaviors parent child relationships adolescent sexuality intergenerational relationships family stress and adaptation and community resilience By extending human development theorizing across these pivotal life changing issues this volume offers a comprehensive map of the trajectories of development among individuals families and communities Women and Career Julia Evetts, 2014-09-19 Addresses the difficulties faced by women who embark on careers in the professions and considers the future of equal opportunities policies at a time of recession and high unemployment It also explores the need to de gender the concept of career in order to encompass women s expectations Gender And The Professional Predicament In Nursing Davies, Celia, 1995-02-01 Gender and the Professional Predicament in Nursing examines the ways in which our understanding of nursing is gendered and how our notion of nursing is connected to our idea of what it is to be a woman It explores the implications this connection has for the status of nursing as a profession and re examines some of the fundamental questions that the nursing profession has tried to address such as what is nursing care who should do it why is it so difficult to manage the provision of nursing care Gender and the Professional Predicament in Nursing demonstrates that once nurses try to define and shape the nature of their work they are marginalized or silenced Frequent descriptions of them as sentimental divided or incompetent highlight the need to understand nurses exclusion from policy debates and why their voices are so seldom heard Celia Davies contends that in a society divided by gender defining nursing as women s work is deeply contradictory We value nurses but devalue nursing She suggests that alongside the debates about managerial efficiency in the NHS we need another kind of debate about how we organize health and social care about what we mean by professionalism and about the worth of caring work This book is important reading for students of women s studies nursing allied professions in health and medicine policy makers and human resource managers Prostitution, Women and

Misuse of the Law Helen J. Self,2004-08-02 This is an examination from a feminist historian s standpoint of the background to the present system of regulating prostitution in Britain which is generally admitted to be not only unjust and discriminatory but ineffective even in achieving its stated aims Concentrating on the 1950s and especially on the Wolfenden Report and the 1959 Street Offences Act it is a thorough exposure of the sexual double standard and general misogynist assumptions underlying legislation relating to prostitution In addition to the detailed analysis of the 1950s legislation and the background to it there is an exposition of the subsequent workings of the Act and of attempts to amend or repeal it Social
