Dobrowolski,1981-01-01 War in the Age of the Enlightenment, 1700-1789 Armstrong Starkey,2003-10-30 War in the 18th century war was a complex operation including popular as well as conventional conflict between Europeans and with non Europeans These conflicts influenced European intellectuals and contributed to the complexity of Enlightenment thought While Enlightenment writers regarded war as the greatest evil confronting mankind they had little hope that it could be eliminated thus peace proposals of the day were joined by more realistic discussion of the means by which war might be limited or rendered more humane In this book the author considers the influence of ideas and values on the actions of Enlightenment military personnel and how the rational spirit of the time influenced military thought producing a military enlightenment that applied rational analysis to military tactics and to the composition of armies In the late Enlightenment military writers explored the psychological foundations of war as a means of stimulating a new military spirit among the troops The Enlightenment was however not the only cultural influence upon war during this century Religion the traditional values of the ancien regime and local values all contributed to the culture of force When Europeans engaged in military encounters with peoples in other parts of the globe cultural interchange inevitably occurred as well Further there is a revolutionary element that one must consider when defining the military culture The result of all these factors was a creative tension in 18th century warfare and an extraordinarily complex military culture

Poland's Last King and English Culture Richard Butterwick,1998 In Poland's Last King Richard Butterwick reassesses the achievement of Poland's most controversial king He shows how Stanislaw August's radical plans for constitutional reform and the renewal of Polish culture were profoundly influenced by his admiration of England and examines the successes and limitations of the Polish Enlightenment

Public Knowledge in Cold War Poland Alexej Lochmatow,2023-09-22 This book explores the public debates among scholars that took place in Early Cold War Poland The author challenges the traditional narrative on the Sovietisation of Central and Eastern European countries and proposes to see this process not as a spread of Marxist ideology or a Soviet institutional model but as an attempt to force scholars to rapidly adopt new academic and civic virtues This book argues that this project failed to succeed in Poland and shows how the struggle against these new virtues united both Marxist and non Marxist scholars While covering the arc of Polish scholarly debates the author invites the reader to go beyond Poland and to use virtues as a framework for reflections on both the foundations of scholarly practice and the nature of authoritarian regimes with their ambition to teach scholars how to be virtuous

Book Review Index Gary C. Tarbert, Barbara Beach, 1985-04 Art and Labour Dave Beech, 2020-06-22 This book provides a new history of the changing relationship between art craft and industry focusing on the transition from workshop to studio apprentice to pupil guild to gallery and artisan to artist Responding to the question whether the artist is a relic of the feudal mode of production or is a commodity producer corresponding to the capitalist mode of cultural production this inquiry reveals instead that the history of the formation of art as distinct from handicraft commerce and industry can be traced back to the dissolution of the dual system of guild and court This history needs to be revisited in order to rethink the categories of aesthetic labour attractive labour alienated labour nonalienated labour and unwaged labour that shape the modern and contemporary politics of work in art

Victimhood Nationalism Jie-Hyun Lim, 2025-04-01 Nationalism today depends on the perception of victimhood The historical memory of past suffering endows nationalist movements with political legitimacy and a sense of moral superiority Koreans recall Japanese colonial atrocities while Japan commemorates the atomic bombings of Hiroshima and Nagasaki Israel sanctifies the Holocaust and Poland trumpets the Nazi and Soviet occupations Even Germany and Russia perpetrators of historical crimes today cast themselves as victims by pointing to national suffering In this theoretically sophisticated and empirically rich book Jie Hyun Lim offers a new way to understand nationalism and its political instrumentalization of suffering developing the concept of victimhood nationalism and exploring it in a range of global settings He examines relations among Poland Germany Israel Korea and Japan focusing on how memories of colonialism the Holocaust and Stalinist terror have converged and intertwined in transnational spaces With an emphasis on memory formation Lim scrutinizes how perpetrators in Germany and Japan transformed themselves into victims as well as how nationalists in Poland Korea and Israel portray themselves as hereditary victims in order to rebut external criticism He considers the construction of nations as victims and perpetrators tracing the interaction of history and memory Ultimately the book contends challenging victimhood nationalism is necessary to overcome the endless competition over national suffering and instead promote reconciliation mutual understanding and transnational solidarity
