There is no Supreme Constitution Koos Malan, 2019-10-04 None of the articles of faith of the South African Constitution is plausible The Constitution is not supreme and entrenched Subject to potent socio political forces it changes continuously and often profoundly regardless of stringent amendment requirements The trite threefold separation of powers is more metaphorical than real and therefore unable to secure effective checks and balances Though institutionally separated with their own personnel and functions the three powers are ordinarily integrated in a single dominant political leadership committed to achieving the same ideological goals The bill of individual rights cannot guarantee justice because rights are subject to the ideologically driven exercise of judicial interpretation often with damaging consequences for those relying on the bill of rights This situation does not only apply to South Africa but to all Constitutions premised on the same articles of faith in this book described as the doctrine of statist individualist constitutionalism An improved mode of constitutionalism is called for one which is equipped with a sounder system of checks and balances and better endowed towards the achievement of justice through a balanced constitution
