Political Landscape The Art History Of Nature:

Political Landscape Martin Warnke, 1995 Whether considering the role of landscape in battle depictions or investigating monumental figures from the Colossus of Rhodes to Mount Rushmore or asking why gold backgrounds in paintings gave way to mountains topped with castles Political Landscape reconfigures our idea of landscape its significance and its representations

Landscapes of Memory and Experience Jan Birksted, 2012-12-06 It has been argued that the history of landscape and of gardens has been marginalized from the mainstream of art history and visual studies because of a lack of engagement with the theories methods and concepts of these disciplines This book explores possible ways out of this impasse in such a way that landscape studies would become pivotal through its theoretical advances since landscape studies would challenge the underlying assumptions of traditional phenomenological theory Thus the history and theory of twentieth century landscape might not only once again share concepts and methods with contemporary art and design history but might in turn influence them A complementary sequel to Relating Architecture to Landscape this volume of essays explores further areas of interest and discussion in the landscape architecture debate and offers contributions from a team of well known researchers teachers and writers The choice of topics is wide ranging and features case studies of modern and contemporary schemes from the USA Far East and Australasia

Landscape into Eco Art Mark Cheetham, 2018-02-14 Dedicated to an articulation of the earth from broadly ecological perspectives eco art is a vibrant subset of contemporary art that addresses the widespread public concern with rapid climate change and related environmental issues In Landscape into Eco Art Mark Cheetham systematically examines connections and divergences between contemporary eco art land art of the 1960s and 1970s and the historical genre of landscape painting Through eight thematic case studies that illuminate what eco art means in practice reception and history Cheetham places the form in a longer and broader art historical context He considers a wide range of media from painting sculpture and photography to artists films video sound work animation and installation and analyzes the work of internationally prominent artists such as Olafur Eliasson Nancy Holt Mark Dion and Robert Smithson In doing so Cheetham reveals eco art to be a dynamic extension of a long tradition of landscape depiction in the West that boldly enters into today's debates on climate science government policy and our collective and individual responsibility to the planet An ambitious intervention into eco criticism and the environmental humanities this volume provides original ways to understand the issues and practices of eco art in the Anthropocene Art historians humanities scholars and lay readers interested in contemporary art and the environment will find Cheetham's work valuable and invigorating

Eyewitnessing Peter Burke, 2006-01-27 Eyewitnessing evaluates the place of images among other kinds of historical evidence

Art in Ukraine Between Identity Construction and Anti-Colonial Resistance Svitlana Biedarieva, 2024-11-29 This edited volume traces the development of art practices in Ukraine from the 2004 Orange Revolution through the 2013-2014 Revolution of Dignity to the ongoing Russian war of aggression Contributors explore how transformations of identity the emergence of participatory democracy relevant changes to cultural institutions and the realization of the necessity of decolonial release have influenced the focus and themes of contemporary art practices in Ukraine The chapters analyze such important topics as the postcolonial retrieval of the past the deconstruction of post Soviet visualities representations of violence and atrocities in the ongoing Russian war against Ukraine and the notion of art as a mechanism of civic resistance and identity building The book will be of interest to scholars of art history Eastern European studies cultural studies decolonial studies and postcolonial studies Allan Kaprow, Robert Smithson, and the Limits to Art Philip Ursprung, Fiona Elliott, 2013-05-10 This innovative study of two of the most important artists of the twentieth century links the art practices of Allan Kaprow and Robert Smithson in their attempts to test the limits of art both what it is and where it is Ursprung provides a sophisticated yet accessible analysis placing the two artists firmly in the art world of the 1960s as well as in the art historical discourse of the following decades Although their practices were quite different they both extended the studio and gallery into desert landscapes abandoned warehouses industrial sites train stations and other spaces Ursprung bolsters his argument with substantial archival research and sociological and economic models of expansion and limits "Landscape Imagery, Politics, and Identity in a Divided Germany, 1968-1989 " Catherine Wilkins, 2017-07-05 Landscape Imagery Politics and Identity in a Divided Germany 1968 1989 explores the communicative relationship between German landscape painting and the viewing public that developed in the wake of the student revolutions of the late 1960s The book demonstrates that contrary to some historical thinking more similarities than differences characterized the sociopolitical concerns of East and West Germans during the late Cold War Era and that it was these shared issues that were reflected in the revival of the Romantic painting genre Catherine Wilkins focuses on recovering the agency of the individual artist and in revising historiography with sensitivity to narration from below Interdisciplinary in nature art historians can benefit from the study's analysis of images and artists not widely known outside of Germany Additionally the consolidation of statistics and data regarding German postwar cultural policy are relevant for political and cultural historians The author contributes to the ongoing multidisciplinary debates regarding Histoire Crois in arguing that a clear dichotomy between East Germany and West Germany did not exist but rather that the residents of both nations shared a concern over some of the same issues of the period and memory studies by using images as primary historical sources able to be employed in the recovery of potentially subversive memory and identity Issues related to gender relations environmentalism and spiritual belief are addressed by Wilkins with appeal for scholars working with those particular themes Poststructuralist and literary theorists as well can find arguments supporting an alternative means of writing history through artworks and private memories Natural Beauty Ronald Moore, 2007-08-28 Natural Beauty was selected for the Choice Outstanding Academic Title list for 2008 Natural Beauty presents a bold new philosophical account of the principles involved in making aesthetic judgments about natural objects It surveys historical and modern accounts of natural beauty and weaves

elements derived from those accounts into a syncretic theory that centers on key features of aesthetic experience specifically features that sustain and reward attention In this way Moore s theory sets itself apart from both the purely cognitive and the purely emotive approaches that have dominated natural aesthetics until now Natural Beauty shows why aesthetic appreciation of works of art and aesthetic appreciation of nature can be mutually reinforcing that is how they are cooperative rather than rival enterprises Moore also makes a compelling case for how and why the experience of natural beauty can contribute to the larger project of living a good life

Washed with Sun Jeremy A. Foster, 2008 Looking mainly at the years following the British victory in the second Boer War from 1902 to 1930 Foster examines the influence of painting writing architecture and photography on the construction of a shared romanticized landscape subjectivity that was perceived as inseparable from being South African and thus helped forge the imagined community of white South Africa

Water and Human Societies David A. Pietz, Dorothy Zeisler-Vralsted, 2021-08-18 This book explores the historical relationships between human communities and water Bringing together for the first time key texts from across the literature it discusses how the past has shaped our contemporary challenges with equitable access to clean and ample water supplies The book is organized into chapters that explore thematic issues in water history including Water and Civilizations Water and Health Water and Equity and Water and Sustainability Each chapter is introduced by a critical overview of the theme followed by four primary and secondary readings that discuss critical nodes in the historical and contemporary development of each chapter theme Further readings at the end of each chapter invite the reader to further explore the dynamics of each theme The foundational premise of the book is that in order to comprehend the complexity of global water challenges we need to understand the history of cultural forces that have shaped our water practices These historical patterns shape the range of choices available to us as we formulate responses to water challenges The book will be a valuable resource to all students interested in understanding the challenges of water use today

Patriotism, Cosmopolitanism, and National Culture Peter Uwe Hohendahl, 2003 The essays assembled in this volume grew out of a conference held at Cornell University in November 2001 The goal of the conference was to examine the claim that the city state of Hamburg had a unique status in the cultural landscape of eighteenth and nineteenth century Germany a status based upon the city s republican political constitution Hamburg s independence and its tolerant and cosmopolitan political traditions made it a focal point for progressive cultural developments during the period of the Enlightenment and after The contributions collected here transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries by giving equal attention to literature music and theater as well as to architecture and city planning Key essays address the role that figures as diverse as C P E Bach Lessing Klopstock Heine Brahms and Thomas Mann played in shaping Hamburg s exceptional quality as a center of culture This volume will be of interest not only to scholars doing research on Hamburg but also to anyone with an interest in the cultural history of eighteenth nineteenth and early twentieth century Germany called America's first serious playwright exhibit an imagining of the natural world that enlivens the plays and marks the boundaries of the characters' fates. O'Neill's figures move within purposefully animated natural environments: ocean, dense forest, desert plains, the rocky soil of New England. This new approach to O'Neill's dramas explores these ecological settings as crucial to his characters' ability to carry out their conscious and unconscious desires. O'Neill's career is covered from his youthful one acts to the middle years' experimental dramas to the mature tragedies of his late period. Special attention is paid to the connection of ecology and theological quest and to O'Neill's persistent evocation of an exotic natural other. Combining an ecocritical approach with an examination of Classical and philosophical influences on the playwright's creative process, the author reveals a new, less hermetic O'Neill.

Material Culture in Modern Diplomacy from the 15th to the 20th Century Harriet Rudolph, Gregor M. Metzger, 2016-12-05 The present volume aims at outlining a new field of research with regard to the history of diplomacy: the material culture of diplomatic interaction in early modern and modern times. The material culture of diplomacy includes all practices in foreign policy communication in which single artifacts, samples of artifacts, or else the whole material setting of diplomatic interaction is supposed to be constitutive for creating an intended effect in terms of diplomatic objectives. The chapters of this volume focus on intercultural diplomacy in different regions of the world wherein diplomatic actors of various kinds might have been confronted by a whole universe of unfamiliar artifacts and artifact-related practices. Most of them concentrate on gift giving as a diplomatic practice that offers multiple insights in the complex dynamics of diplomatic relations between representatives of culturally highly diverse political entities. In doing so, they gainfully apply different theoretical approaches of material culture as an interdisciplinary field of study to the investigation of diplomatic cultures across the globe. As a result, it becomes obvious that future research into the history of diplomacy should take into account material practices much more thoroughly than has been done before.

Landscape and Western Art Malcolm Andrews, 1999 This book explores many issues raised by the range of ideas and images of the natural world in Western art since the Renaissance. The whole concept of landscape is examined as a representation of the relationship between the human and natural worlds. Featured artists include Claude, Friedrich, Turner, Cole, and Ruisdael, and many different forms of landscape art are addressed, such as land art, painting, photography, garden design, panorama, and cartography.

Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography Henrik Gustafsson, 2019-05-24 This book offers a rare and innovative consideration of an enduring tendency in postwar art to explore places devoid of human agents in the wake of violent encounters. To see the scenery together with the crime elicits a double interrogation, not merely of a physical site but also of its formation as an aesthetic artefact and ultimately of our own acts of looking and imagining. Closely engaging with a vast array of works made by artists, filmmakers, and photographers, each who has forged a distinct vantage point on the aftermath of crime and conflict, the study selectively maps the afterlife of landscape in search of the political and ethical agency of the image. By way of a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach, Crime Scenery in Postwar Film and Photography

brings landscape studies into close dialogue with contemporary theory by paying sustained attention to how the gesture of retracing past events facilitates new configurations of the present and future      Handbook of Cultural Geography Kay Anderson, 2003 Presenting a state of the art assessment of the key questions informing cultural geography in the 21st century this handbook emphasises the intellectual diversity of the discipline and is cross referenced throughout      Late Godard and the Possibilities of Cinema Daniel Morgan, 2013 Late Godard and the Possibilities of Cinema is an exhilarating and extremely lucid analysis of the way Godard thinks in and through cinema Drawing on his extensive knowledge of French culture politics and theory Morgan skillfully illustrates the complex relations between history aesthetics and nature in the director's later works Defying criticism of Godard's alleged retreat from politics this book provides compelling detailed and erudite analyses of his later films and illuminates the auteur's political and aesthetic response to the so called death of cinema Mary Ann Doane author of The Emergence of Cinematic Time Modernity Contingency the Archive Daniel Morgan charts a sensible route into the impenetrable Jean Luc Godard Posing clear yet insistent questions he burrows to the center of both parts of this book's formidable title finding in late Godard an aesthetic fusion that generates the light and heat of a trenchant and powerful political critique Anyone who feels drawn or licensed to write about Godard should read Morgan before setting out Dudley Andrew author of What Cinema Is Daniel Morgan's Late Godard and the Possibilities of Cinema signals a major breakthrough in the international study of the cinema of Jean Luc Godard Reconciling the filmmaker's peculiarly Romantic sense of aesthetics to which the book pays scrupulous material attention with the thorny political histories that Godard's cinema has always probed Morgan gives us new compelling synthetic tools with which to understand an artist who is at once the most cryptic and the most sensuous of all living filmmakers Adrian Martin Monash University co editor of lolajournal.com      Geography and Vision Denis Cosgrove, 2012-11-25 Leading geographer Denis Cosgrove provides a series of personal reflections on the complex connections between seeing imagining and representing the world geographically In a series of eloquent essays he draws upon pictorial images including maps sketches cartoons paintings and photographs to explore and elaborate upon the many and varied ways in which the vast and varied earth and at times the heavens beyond have been both imagined and represented as a place of human habitation The essays include reflections upon geographical discovery urban cartography and utopian visions ideas of landscape and the shaping of America wilderness and masculinity conceptions of the Pacific and the imaginative grip of the Equator Extensively illustrated this engaging work reveals the richness of the geographical imagination as expressed over the past five centuries      National Visions, National Blindness Leslie Dawn, 2011-11-01 In the early decades of the twentieth century Canada sought to define itself as an independent dominion with allegiance to the British Empire The visual arts were considered central to the formation of a distinct national identity and the Group of Seven's landscapes became part of a larger program to unify the nation and assert its uniqueness National Visions National Blindness traces the development of this program and illuminates its conflicted history Using newly discovered archival evidence Leslie Dawn revises common interpretations of several well known events and rescues others from obscurity He problematizes conventional perceptions of the Group as a national school and underscores the contradictions inherent in international exhibitions showing unpeopled landscapes alongside Northwest Coast Native arts and the Indian paintings of Langdon Kihn and Emily Carr Dawn examines how this dichotomy forced a re evaluation of the place of First Nations in both Canadian art and nationalism National Visions National Blindness is an elegantly written work offering new and insightful analysis and will be of great interest to readers and researchers of Canadian art history First Nations art and history tourism cultural politics museum studies and ethnographic practices

Medieval Art Veronica Sekules, 2001-04-26 This refreshing new look at Medieval art conveys a very real sense of the impact of art on everyday life in Europe from 1000 to 1500 It examines the importance of art in the expression and spread of knowledge and ideas including notions of the heroism and justice of war and the dominant view of Christianity Taking its starting point from issues of contemporary relevance such as the environment the identity of the artist and the position of women the book also highlights the attitudes and events specific to the sophisticated visual culture of the Middle Ages and goes on to link this period to the Renaissance The fascinating question of whether commercial and social activities between countries encouraged similar artistic taste and patronage or contributed to the defining of cultural difference in Europe is fully explored
