Political Economy Of African Famine:

The Political Economy of African Famine R. E. Downs, Donna O. Kerner, Stephen P. Reyna, 2019-07-19 Originally published in 1991 This volume explores the combination of political and economic forces that influence different levels of food supply The book begins with a discussion of famine theories ranging from cultural ecology to neo Marxism Following this survey is a series of essays by anthropologists geographers economists and development practitioners that explores the role of Western institutions in African famine analyzes famine in particular countries and documents the relationship between famine and gender This book takes an unusually broad look at famine by including analyses of countries where hunger has rarely been studied and by examining African famine from both African and Western perspectives Its concluding proposals for eradicating famine make innovative and provocative contributions to current global debates on food and nutrition

The Political Economy of African Famine R. E. Downs, Donna O. Kerner, Stephen P. Reyna, 1991 Political Economy of Hunger Jean Drèze, Amartya Sen, 1991-02-21 This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 3.0 IGO licence It is free to read at Oxford Scholarship Online and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations WIDER The World Institute for Development Economics Research established in 1984 started work in Helsinki in 1985 with the financial support of the Government of Finland The principal purpose of the Institute is to help identify and meet the need for policy oriented socio economic research on pressing global and development problems and their inter relationships WIDER s research projects are grouped into three main themes hunger and poverty money finance and trade and development and technological transformation Volume II deals with famine prevention paying particular attention to sub Saharan Africa The topics covered include the problems of early warning and early action the politics of famine prevention the influence of market responses the role of cash support and employment provision in protecting threatened food entitlements and long term issues of reduction of famine vulnerability In addition to general analyses the book contains a number of case studies of failures and successes in famine prevention both in South Asia and in sub Saharan Africa The Political Economy of Hunger: Volume 2: Famine Prevention Jean Drèze, Amartya Sen, 1990 Part of a major report on world hunger instigated by the World Institute for Development Economics Research this volume deals with possible solutions to the problem of regular outbreaks of famine in various parts of the world The Political Economy of Hunger: Volume 1: Entitlement and Well-being Jean Dreze (ed), Amartya Sen, 1990 Part of a major report on world hunger instigated by the World Institute for Development Economics Research this volume deals with possible solutions to the problem of regular outbreaks of famine in various parts of the world The Political Economy of Hunger: Volume 3: Endemic Hunger Jean Drèze, Amartya Sen, 1990 Part of a major report on world hunger instigated by the World Institute for Development Economics Research this volume deals with possible solutions to the problem of regular outbreaks of famine in various parts of the world Food and nutrition emergencies in East Africa: Political, economic and environmental associations Ruth Oniang'o, Handbook of Land and Water Grabs in Africa John Anthony Allan, 2013 Four other themes will address politics, economics, the environment, and the history of land investments in sub-Saharan Africa The Cambridge World History of Food Kenneth F. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations, 2003 Oil for Food Eckart Woertz, 2013-04-25 In Oil for Food Eckart Woertz analyzes the geopolitical implications behind the current investment drive of Arab Gulf countries in food insecure countries like Sudan or Pakistan. Having lived in Dubai for seven years and drawing on extensive archival sources and interviews, he gives the inside story of how regional food security concerns have developed historically, how domestic agro-lobbies shape policy making, and how the failed attempt to develop Sudan as an Arab bread basket in the 1970s carries important lessons for today's investment drive.

Whose Hunger? Jenny Edkins, 2000 We see famine and look for the likely causes: poor food distribution, unstable regimes, caprices of weather. A technical problem, we tell ourselves, one that modern social and natural science will someday resolve. To the contrary, Jenny Edkins responds in this book: Famine in the contemporary world is not the antithesis of modernity but its symptom. A critical investigation of hunger, famine, and aid practices in international politics, Whose Hunger? shows how the forms and ideas of modernity frame our understanding of famine and consequently shape our responses. The Horn of Africa Peter Woodward, 1996-12-31 Nowhere is the crumbling of state structures more self-evident than in Somalia, the Sudan, and Ethiopia. Drawing on a wide range of little-known material, this book presents an overview of structural disintegration in the Horn of Africa from the dual perspectives of domestic and international political developments. The breakdown of these three major states is due, according to Woodward, to the ravages of civil war. He argues that while all three conflicts arise from domestic issues, their scale has been magnified by international involvement, which has also linked the three countries together with Ethiopia as the crux. The Horn of Africa is a study of the national and international dimensions of these conflicts, examining not only the relations between the three countries but also their relations with a variety of regional actors as well as with the superpowers. Poverty and Famines Amartya Sen, 1983-01-20 The main focus of this book is on the causation of starvation in general and of famines in particular. The author develops the alternative method of analysis, the entitlement approach, concentrating on ownership and exchange, not on food supply. The book also provides a general analysis of the characterization and measurement of poverty. Various approaches used in economics, sociology, and political theory are critically examined. The predominance of distributional issues, including distribution between different occupation groups, links up the problem of conceptualizing poverty with that of analyzing starvation. The Moral Economy of the State William A. Munro, 1998 The Moral Economy of the State examines state formation in Zimbabwe from the colonial period through the first decade of independence. Drawing on the works of Gramsci, E. P. Thompson, and James Scott, William Munro develops a theory of moral economy that explores negotiations between rural citizens and state agents over legitimate state incursions in social life This analysis demonstrates how states try to shape the meanings of citizenship for agrarian populations by redefining conceptions of the public good property rights and community membership The book's focus on the moral economy of the state offers a refreshing perspective on the difficulties experienced by postcolonial African states in building stronger state and rural institutions

How the World Hunger Problem Was not Solved Christian Gerlach, 2024-02-14 The world food crisis 1972-1975 gave rise to new development concepts To eradicate world hunger small peasants were supposed to use modern inputs like high yielding seeds fertilizer pesticides and irrigation This would turn subsistence producers into business owners transform rural areas invigorate national economies and the crisis stricken world economy and thus stabilize capitalism Together with an in depth account of the world food crisis this book analyses how this global scheme largely failed It shows its diverse initiators their reasoning and motives its political breakthrough the degrees to which it was implemented globally and nationally in the following decades and its socioeconomic effects in rural areas Despite internationally coordinated policies and coercive means the scheme failed on all levels situation analysis design policies incapable institutions including big business implementation and peasants responses Selective realization in certain regions and for certain crops and the appropriation of funds by local elites often aggravated inequality and hunger Case studies are about Bangladesh Indonesia Tanzania and Mali The book shows limits to global social engineering imperialism and state control It is aimed at students scholars activists and non specialists interested in development and the world food problem The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Hunger and Postcolonial Writing Muzna Rahman, 2022-08-17 Hunger and Postcolonial Writing explores contemporary postcolonial fiction and life writing from various geo political contexts The focus of this work is hunger individuated in the self imposed starvation of the hunger protester and on a mass scale in the form of famine and food insecurity It considers the hungry colonial and postcolonial body examines its textual forms and historical trajectories and situates it within the food security context of imperialism and its legacies This book is the first monograph length study of hunger within a postcolonial world literary context Its transcolonial focus produces comparative readings across postcolonial writings facilitating productive analyses of the operations of imperialism and its aftereffects across heterogeneous zones of colonialism This project reads hunger as defined by the social cultural historical and economic engagements produced by colonial and postcolonial encounters Examining the starving colonialized body through Cartesian models of somatic subjectivity and considering how this body is mediated by post Enlightenment discourses of Modernity and progress this work interrogates the contradictions produced by the starving colonial body as it is positioned between the possibility of radical protest and prescriptive colonial discourse This book will be of interest to Gastrocritical and Postcolonial scholars and students and to Food scholars more broadly
