Politics Of Survival In Academia Narratives Of Inequity Resilience And Success:

The Politics of Survival in Academia Lila Jacobs, José Cintrón, Cecil E. Canton, 2002-11-19 This volume presents the personal accounts of African American Asian American and Latino faculty who use narratives of struggles to describe the challenges they faced in order to become bona fide members of the U S Academy These narratives show how survival and success require a sophisticated knowledge of the politics of academia insider knowledge of the requirements of legitimacy in scholarly efforts and resourceful approach to facing dilemmas between cultural values traditional racist practices and academic resilience The book also explores the empowerment process of these individuals who have created a new self without rejecting their enduring self the self strongly connected to their ethno racial cultures and groups Within the process of self redefinition this new faculty confronted racism sexism rejection the clash of cultural values and structural indifference to cultural diversity The faculty recounts how they ultimately learned the skillful accommodation to all of these issues It is through the analysis of survival and self definition that women and faculty of color will establish a powerful foothold in the new academy of the twenty first century Taboo, 2004 Taboo, 2004 Critical Readings on Latinos and Education Enrique G Murillo Jr, 2019-01-14 This critical anthology showcases an interdisciplinary forum of scholars sharing a common interest in the analysis discussion critique and dissemination of educational issues impacting Latinos Drawing on the best of the past 20 years of the Journal of Latinos and Education the collection highlights work that has been seminal in addressing complex educational issues affecting and influencing the growing Latina and Latino population Chapters discuss the production and application of wisdom and knowledge to real world problems while engaging and collaborating with the interests of key stakeholders in other sectors outside the traditional academy Organized thematically around issues related to policy research practice and creative and literary works the collection is sure to extend and encourage novel ways of thinking about the ongoing and emerging questions around the unifying thread of Latinos and education The New Americans Enrique T. Trueba, 2004 American society is changing in front of our eyes with the presence of new Americans immigrants and transnationals whose experiences have prepared them to play key leadership roles in our country The paradox of having the poorest of the new Americans rising to important social economic and academic roles is explained in these pages

"Strangers" of the Academy Guofang Li, Gulbahar H. Beckett, 2023-07-12 No less than other minorities Asian women scholars are confronted with racial discrimination and stereotyping as well as disrespect for their research teaching and leadership and are underrepresented in academia In the face of such barriers many Asian female scholars have developed strategies to survive and thrive This book is among the first to examine their lived experience in Western academic discourses It addresses the socio cultural political academic and personal issues that Asian female scholars encounter in higher education The contributors to this book include first and second generation immigrants who are teachers and researchers in higher education and who come from a wide range of Asian nations and backgrounds They here combine new research and personal narratives to explore the intersecting layers of relationships that impact their lives language culture academic discourses gender class generation and race The book is replete with the richness and complexity of these scholars struggles and triumphs in their professional and personal realms This powerful and engaging volume Examines and celebrates the struggles and triumphs that Asian female scholars experience as they try to make it in academic environments that may differ sharply from the culture of their countries of origin Highlights the unique contributions the authors have made to research theory and the profession Establishes the authors claim to visibility and a voice for themselves and more generally for Asian women in the academy Opens a dialogue on these critical issues by sharing the academic and personal experiences of senior and junior scholars alike and Contributes to the on going discussion on issues pertinent to the status of minority female scholars in higher education

Air & Light & Time & Space Helen Sword, 2017-04-17 From the author of Stylish Academic Writing comes an essential new guide for writers aspiring to become more productive and take greater pleasure in their craft Helen Sword interviewed 100 academics worldwide about their writing background and practices and shows how they find or create the conditions to get their writing done

Navigating the American Education System Manuel P. Vargas, 2020-05-01 Navigating the American Education System Four Latino Success Stories showcases the educational journey of four Latino a men and women who navigated the American education system successfully Their success is significant given the multiple and varied challenges that most Latinos as encounter throughout the K 20 educational continuum The purpose of this book is not only to show and tell but to describe ordinary people attaining extraordinary results who might also stand as good role models for the youngest and fastest growing group Latinos as in this country Researchers of this topic offer compelling statistics such as the following projection Out of 100 Latino a students a few more than 50 will finish high school out of this number five will enroll in college and out of the original 100 less than one percent will complete a doctorate While the causes of low academic attainment for Latinos may vary including limited financial resources and cultural differences the lack of Latino role models in K 20 education may be a significant contributing factor The expression You can t be what you don t see is especially applicable to Latino a students who seldom see people like them in positions of prominence and power in educational environments Across the country and in particular in states with high numbers of Latino a students as the K 20 student body becomes darker the teaching and decision making personnel remain light skinned Consequently the absence of role models for an increasing number of students of color may contribute to low levels of aspiration Many attempts and existing literature regarding the achievement gap of students of color especially Latinos as seem to have had modest or no impact even when statistical analysis and sound rationales are provided On the other hand the stories included in this book offer an alternative that may have an impact and long lasting effect in the lives of students of color Story messages tend to stay longer with us and enable us to make sense of complex situations such as education culture and personality traits persistence motivation resilience Consequently the stories in this book become vehicles to learn from real life examples the abstractions of education home and school culture and other factors that contribute to academic success Furthermore the stories encourage people to write tell and share experiences to address ongoing problems invite change where change is needed organize thoughts and seek meaningful solutions invite us to become cognizant about how our emotions direct our thoughts and move mountains enable us to discover undercurrents that hinder organizational communication direct us to pay attention to the little things that matter and build trust awaken the good in people through an invitational approach as opposed to one that is mandated push us to avoid playing it safe and stick out our emotional necks when dealing with people seek authentic voices to make room for new thinking make time for people and allow our voices to define the values we embrace Doing Diversity in Higher Education Winnifred R. Brown-Glaude, 2008-11-14 Using case studies from universities throughout the nation Doing Diversity in Higher Education examines the role faculty play in improving diversity on their campuses The power of professors to enhance diversity has long been underestimated their initiatives often hidden from view Winnifred Brown Glaude and her contributors uncover major themes and offer faculty and administrators a blueprint for conquering issues facing campuses across the country Topics include how to dismantle hostile microclimates sustain and enhance accomplishments deal with incomplete institutionalization and collaborate with administrators The contributors essays portray working on behalf of diversity as a genuine intellectual project rather than a faculty service The rich variety of colleges and universities included provides a wide array of models that faculty can draw upon to inspire institutional change Qualitative Researcher Vulnerability Bryan C. Clift, Ioannis Costas Batlle, Sheree Bekker, Katharina Chudzikowski, 2023-06-28 Qualitative Researcher Vulnerability provides conceptual experiential and practical insights into the vulnerability of the qualitative researcher Compared to participants vulnerability researcher vulnerability has seen limited attention in the qualitative research process but yet it is an important consideration Drawing on an interdisciplinary group of authors across criminology education feminisms geography health kinesiology nursing management and organisation policy political science psychology sociology and qualitative inquiry writ broad the book explores the ways in which we might understand and work with researcher vulnerability most notably in relation to ethics risk empathy emotion and power Ultimately the authors suggest researcher vulnerability is a vital component of our research practices throughout the research process for emerging as well as experienced researchers Whilst researcher vulnerability can be something to protect against it is also something to be aware of explore learn from work with and at times and with care and consideration embrace This book is suitable for undergraduate postgraduate students and emerging and established researchers who are utilising qualitative research It will be especially useful for researchers examining potentially sensitive topics or for those who wish to develop more responsive responsible ethical or reciprocal approaches to qualitative practices Chapter 4 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No

Latino Education Pedro Pedraza, Melissa Rivera, 2006-04-21 This landmark volume represents the work of the National Latino a Education Research Agenda Project NLERAP an initiative focused on school reform and educational research with and for Latino communities NLERAP s goal is to bring together various constituencies within the broad Latino community who are concerned with public education to articulate a Latino perspective on research based school reform and to use research as a guide to improving the public school systems that serve Latino students and to maximizing their opportunities to participate fully and equally in all social economic and political contexts of society Latino Education An Agenda for Community Action Research conceptualizes and illustrates the theoretical framework for the NLERAP agenda and its projects This framework is grounded in three overlapping areas of scholarship and activism which are reflected within the chapters in this volume critical studies illuminating and analyzing the status of people of color in the United States Latino a educational research capturing the sociohistorical cultural and political schooling experiences of U S Latino a communities and participatory action research exemplifying a liberation oriented methodology for truly transformative education The volume includes both descriptive educational research and critical analyses of previous research and educational agendas related to Latino a communities in the United States According to current U S Census data Latinos now comprise the largest minority group in the total U S population Historically reflecting larger sociohistorical and economic inequalities in U S society the Latino community has not been well served by U S public school systems More attention to the Latino students educational issues is needed to redress this problem especially given the tremendous population increase and projected growth of Latino communities in the U S Latino Education An Agenda for Community Action Research is a major contribution toward this goal

Prioritizing Urban Children, Teachers, and Schools through Professional Development Schools Pia Lindquist Wong, Ronald David Glass, 2009-03-17 How can we better educate disadvantaged urban students Drawing on over five years experience in a broad partnership involving twelve urban professional development schools in five districts a teachers union a comprehensive public university and several community based organizations the contributors to this volume describe how they worked together to help disadvantaged urban students through an innovative professional development program By networking with educators at different levels and coordinating curriculum projects they were able to begin overcoming rigid and ineffective mandates and curricula tied to standardized test scores and get through to their students on more meaningful and productive levels The contributors share their successes and failures with these efforts as well as insights related to the ethical political and academic challenges faced by professional development schools

Tedious Journeys Cynthia Cole Robinson, Pauline Clardy, 2010 Tedious Journeys Autoethnography by Women of Color in Academe lends voice to the experiences of women of color in predominantly White institutions Its purpose is to create dialogue and develop support networks for faculty members who may have similar experiences and to increase institutions awareness of how faculty of color experience life within the academy which can then lead to increasing their attraction and retention This book will be useful in education classes that deal with diversity and administration in higher education College Curriculum at the Crossroads Kirsten T. Edwards, Maria del Guadalupe Davidson, 2017-11-22 College Curriculum at the Crossroads explores the ways in which college curriculum is complicated informed understood resisted and enriched by women of color This text challenges the canon of curriculum development which foregrounds the experiences of white people men and other dominant subject positions By drawing on Black Latina Queer and Transnational feminism the text disrupts hegemonic curricular practices in post secondary education This collection is relevant to current conversation within higher education which looks to curriculum to aid in the development of a more tolerant and just citizenry Women of color have long theorized the failures of injustice and the promise of inclusion as such this text rightly positions women of color as true experts in the field Across a variety of approaches from reflections on personal experience to application of critical scholarship the authors in this collection explore the potency of women of color s presence with in college curriculum and emphasize a dire need for women of color s voices at the center of the academic process Sociology of Higher Education Patricia J. Gumpert, 2021-04-27 Outstanding it presents a comprehensive state of the field and it explores the role of sociological research in guiding higher education practice Choice In this volume Patricia Gumpert and other leading scholars examine the sociology of higher education as it has evolved since the publication of Burton Clark s foundational article in 1973 They trace diverse conceptual and empirical developments along several major lines of specialization and analyze the ways in which wider societal and institutional changes in higher education have influenced this vital field of study In her own chapters Gumpert identifies the factors that constrain or facilitate the field s development including different intellectual legacies and professional contexts for faculty in sociology and in education She also considers prospects for the future legitimacy and vitality of the field Featuring extensive reviews of the literature this volume will be invaluable for scholars and students of sociology and higher education Cultivating Dialogue, Language, and Literacy for Social Justice in Teacher Education Adam Devitt, 2025-07-22 Within sociocultural traditions language dialogue and social literacies play an institutional role in learning and human development Discourse practices however go far beyond the traditional focus of using speaking and listening to support the learning of content knowledge Teacher discourse practices ought to promote critical literacies and linguistic practices and promote anti racism and social and environmental justice Classroom discourse however is missing from teacher education programs on a large scale in these significant ways Teacher educators need to understand the social and political policies pedagogical role and multitude of practices for helping pre service teachers and teacher practitioners learn to acquire and facilitate quality discursive practices in K 12 schools and understand related pedagogy This book Cultivating Dialogue Language and Literacy for Social Justice in Teacher Education offers a variety of models for integrating discourse practices and pedagogies into the field of teacher education including pre service teaching professional development and even critiques on policy and subsequent affordances and consequences that inhibit or promote the quality of teacher discourse and the purposes for which teachers utilize classroom discourse I would recommend this book for teacher education programs as well as professional developers who work with pre and in service teachers Additionally I recommend this book for researchers committed not only to classroom discourse analysis but to promote speaking and listening among teachers and students in ways that enhance learning and development

Human Rights in Higher Education Lindsey N. Kingston, 2018-08-04 This book focuses on human rights education HRE in higher education with an emphasis on supporting undergraduate education for social justice and global citizenship at the institutional classroom and community levels Drawing from the work of human rights scholars and advocates at Webster University Kingston begins a critical discussion about the potential of HRE on college campuses and beyond Chapter contributors address the institutional issues inherent to building a human rights campus promoting just governance models facilitating student research and fostering inclusive campus communities They further explore opportunities within the classroom by highlighting dynamic courses on global sustainable development and post genocide reconciliation as well as considering how to create trauma sensitive learning spaces and utilize photography as a human rights teaching tool Finally scholar advocates detail how HRE can be expanded to include the broader community including teaching critical criminology to aspiring police officers facilitating community dialogue through academic conferences and engaging in social justice work related to access to justice domestic violence and human trafficking

Faculty Identities and the Challenge of Diversity Mark A Chesler, Alford A Young Jr, 2015-11-17 This book focuses on understanding the experiences of faculty members of various races ethnicities and genders and their classroom encounters with students in the United States It illustrates some of the dynamics for faculty members facing the challenges and opportunities the diversity presents

Teacher Identity and the Struggle for Recognition Patrick M. Jenlink, 2014-04-09 Teacher identity is shaped by recognition or its absence often by misrecognition of others Recognition as a teacher or the strong and complex identification with one's professional culture and community is necessary for a positive sense of self Increasingly teachers are entering educational settings where difference connotes not equal better worse or having more less power over resources Differences between discourses of identity are braided at many points with a discourse of racism both interpersonal and structural Teacher Identity and the Struggle for Recognition examines the nature of identity and recognition as social cultural and political constructs In particular the contributing authors to the book present discussions of the professional work necessary in teacher preparation programs concerned with preparing teachers for the complexities of teaching in schools that mirror an increasingly diverse society Importantly the authors illuminate many of the often problematic structures of schooling and the cultural politics that work to define one's identity drawing into specific relief the nature of the struggle for recognition that all face who choose to enter teaching as a profession

The

Racial Crisis in American Higher Education William A. Smith, Philip G. Altbach, Kofi Lomotey, 2012-02-01 Why is it that as we enter the twenty first century the nation's predominantly white colleges and universities continue to be settings where people of color feel unwelcome and marginalized? The contributors to this volume dissect a variety of structural and attitudinal factors that are prevalent in the higher education community: organizational constructs and value orientations which seem to hark more to the past than to the future. They comment on the political, social and economic factors that have shaped academic culture and buttressed its quietly efficient maintenance of racially discriminatory practices. The American system of higher education is often regarded as the best in the world. Smith, Altbach and Lomotey have edited a volume that implicitly asks how much better still it could be if it embraced people of color and provided them with a supportive and nurturing environment one which encouraged them to reach their fullest creative and intellectual potential. Indeed, this will probably be the most significant challenge that the academy faces in the twenty first century. William B. Harvey, Vice President and Director, Office of Minorities in Higher Education, American Council on Education, Washington, D.C.
