River Road to China Milton E. Osborne, 1976 Narrative of the nineteenth century expedition along the Mekong River

River Road to China Milton Osborne, 1975 River Road to China Milton Osborne, 1976 River Road to China

Milton Osborne, 2007-12-01 A compelling finely researched account of an adventure that was hailed as one of the grandest explorations of the nineteenth century The Washington Post A New York Times Notable Book In 1866 six Frenchmen set out on a dangerous mission to seek a trade route up the Mekong During the two years that followed they would journey through more than four thousand miles of unmapped territory from the tropical heat of the swamps of Vietnam and Cambodia to the bitter cold of the mountain ranges of southwestern China Their historic expedition is the dramatic subject of River Road to China a story of courage endurance and determination in the face of unpredictable dangers and near insurmountable odds This edition has been updated to include a new postscript by the author and more than thirty full color illustrations by the expedition's artist The highest of high adventure Osborne's documentation is flawless The New Yorker As exciting as it is historically illuminating A tale of heroism that has seldom been duplicated spurred by the continuing fatal attraction of the Great River The New Republic River Road to China Milton E. Osborne, 1996 The Mekong: A Socio-legal Approach to River Basin Development Ben Boer, Philip Hirsch, Fleur Johns, Ben Saul, Natalia Scurrah, 2015-12-22 An international river basin is an ecological system an economic thoroughfare a geographical area a font of life and livelihoods a geopolitical network and often a cultural icon It is also a socio legal phenomenon This book is the first detailed study of an international river basin from a socio legal perspective The Mekong River Basin which sustains approximately 70 million people across Cambodia China Laos Myanmar Thailand and Vietnam provides a prime example of the socio legal complexities of governing a transboundary river and its tributaries The book applies its socio legal analysis to bring a fresh approach to understanding conflicts surrounding water governance in the Mekong River Basin The authors describe the wide range of uses being made of legal doctrine and legal argument in ongoing disputes surrounding hydropower development in the Basin putting to rest lingering caricatures of a single ASEAN way of navigating conflict They call into question some of the common assumptions concerning the relationship between law and development The book also sheds light on important questions concerning the global hybridization or crossover of public and private power and its ramifications for water governance With current debates and looming conflicts over water governance globally and over shared rivers in particular these issues could not be more pressing River Road Through Laos James A. Hafner, Joel Martin Halpern, Barbara Kerewsky- Halpern, 1986

Negotiated Power in Late Imperial China Jennifer Rudolph, 2010-02-28 Negotiated Power in Late Imperial China The Zongli Yamen and the Politics of Reform explores the nature and functioning of reform during the nineteenth century of China's Qing dynasty 1644 1911 By analyzing the bureaucratic modes of management that developed around the creation and evolution of the Zongli Yamen or Foreign Office 1861 1901 the book demonstrates the vitality of not only the Chinese

State but also the institutional traditions of its Manchu rulers Drawing on precedent and the flexibility of the administrative system in their efforts to manage the conduct of foreign affairs high Qing ministers transformed opportunities for institutional dynamism into the reality of a functioning central Zongli Yamen with a foreign affairs field administration supporting it in the provinces In the process they altered the governmental hierarchy and changed the definition of institutional power in the multi faceted area of foreign affairs and more generally for the Qing bureaucracy As the most significant example of institutional development in China s critical period of the nineteenth century the Zongli Yamen s experience serves as valuable background for understanding reform efforts in late imperial China and beyond Asian

Borderlands Charles Patterson Giersch,2006 With comparative frontier history and pioneering use of indigenous sources Giersch provides a groundbreaking challenge to the China centered narrative of the Qing conquest He focuses on the Tai domains of the Yunnan frontier on the politically fluid borderlands where local indigenous leaders were crucial actors in an arena of imperial rivalry Anderson's Travel Companion Compiled by Sarah Anderson,2016-12-05 A selection of the best in travel writing with both fiction and non fiction presented together this companion is for all those who like travelling like to think about travelling and who take an interest in their destination It covers guidebooks as well as books about food history art and architecture religion outdoor activities illustrated books autobiographies biographies and fiction and lists books both in and out of print Anderson s Travel Companion is arranged first by continent then alphabetically by country and then by subject cross referenced where necessary There is a separate section for guidebooks and comprehensive indexes Sarah Anderson founded the Travel Bookshop in 1979 and is also a journalist and writer on travel subjects She is known by well known travel writers such as Michael Palin and Colin Thubron Michael Palin chose her bookshop as his favourite shop and Colin Thubron and Geoffrey Moorhouse among others made suggestions for titles to include in the Travel Companion

The Vietnamese American 1.5 Generation Sucheng Chan,2006 Riveting stories by refugees who fled Vietnam Before the Killing Fields Leslie Fielding,2007-10-24 This is a gripping portrait of a country poised between peace and war In the mid 1960s Cambodia s position within South East Asia was highly vulnerable The Americans were embroiled in war in Vietnam the Viet Cong were gaining clandestine control over Cambodian frontier areas while the Cambodian government under the leadership of a charming but difficult Head of State Prince Norodom Sihanouk wanted nothing more than to preserve their neutrality and keep out of the war Highly distrustful of any perceived foreign interference the Cambodians had even rioted and attacked the American and British Embassies in Phnom Penh and their debris was still strewn on the streets when Leslie Fielding arrived in the city Yet against this grim and dramatic backdrop the daily round of international foreign policy somehow had to continue and Before the Killing Fields offers a compelling and fascinating account of how this was achieved As well as a political history this is also a portrait of an exotic but overlooked country at a critical stage in its development Violence intrigue and even the supernatural mingle with issues of day to day management and office morale

From diplomatic meetings conducted in opium dens and dancing lessons with beautiful princesses at the Royal Palace to candid portraits of the rest of the international community of Phnom Penh Before the Killing Fields is an illuminating insight into a lost world

Colonial Cambodia's 'Bad Frenchmen' Gregor Muller, 2006-04-07 Colonial Cambodia's Bad Frenchmen provides a captivating analysis of the gradual establishment of French colonialism in the late nineteenth century Drawing on new materials from French Vietnamese and Cambodian archives it reconstructs a time during which France struggled to give meaning and substance to its Protectorate over Cambodia It traces the lives of failed colonists most notably Thomas Caramen who all constituted a challenge to the colonial enterprise by muddling its social cultural and racial boundaries In its consideration of the critical role played by these colonists this compelling book shifts away from governor generals grand discourses and the simple view of colonialism as colonizers versus colonized to explore how things actually worked themselves out on the ground It examines in particular the civilizing mission and educational initiatives the slow destruction of the indigenous justice system the policing of sexual relations between colonisers and colonized the theft of Cambodian land and taxes by the colonizing power and the brutal repression of resistance wherever and whenever it appeared Overall Muller reveals the crucial role played by indigenous middlemen and marginal Europeans in the rise of the colonial state and tells the fascinating tale of a Frenchman who came to represent everything that the colonial state dreaded

Regionalism in China-Vietnam Relations Oliver Hensengerth, 2009-09-10 This book analyses collaboration in the Greater Mekong Subregion It explores inter state cooperation and the role of subnational units provincial and local governments and transnational actors NGOs firms in building and maintaining the subregion It also considers the relationships between actors on the three levels their influences within the structures of decision making in the GMS their policy pronouncements and roles in the GMS After exploring the historical background of cooperation in the GMS the author discusses how far cooperation in the GMS has developed from the mere promotion of the national interest of individual states towards an institution as an independent actor able to influence relationships between its member states instead of only being influenced by them Hensengerth scrutinises the nature of GMS cooperation and the character and capabilities of the institution of the GMS exemplified by the bilateral relations between China and Vietnam Here the study will combine the analysis of subregionalism and institution building in the GMS with an analysis of China Vietnam relations by combining theoretical approaches to regional integration in the form of the regime approach with foreign policy analysis This book will appeal to academics within international relations Southeast Asian regional and China or Vietnam country specialists

The Range of the River Iftekhar Iqbal, 2025-12-02 Spanning nearly 4 million square kilometers the Tibetan river system including the Brahmaputra Irrawaddy Salween Mekong Red and Yangzi forms the largest contiguous network of rivers on the planet stretching across eastern South Asia mainland Southeast Asia and southern China The Range of the River uncovers the entwined histories of these vast waterways and the empires human actors and other than human forces that have shaped

Asia since the 1850s Both ethnodiverse and biodiverse these rivers were more than contested imperial spaces they were also channels of communal and material exchange linking near and distant contact zones They fostered connections across Asia driving commerce mobility and cultural encounters that transformed them into shared living commons bridging societies political powers and economic interests Tracing six major rivers across eight countries Iftekhar Iqbal argues that these river systems formed the core of a discursive space where empires regional political forces ethnic groups boaters peddlers explorers merchants and mules encountered each other in layered meanings and movements This groundbreaking book reimagines the river not as merely a tool of empire but as a dynamic force in itself shaping a truly transregional Asia By weaving together diverse riverine life worlds The Range of the River invites us to rethink Asia's spatial history Critical Landscape Planning during the Belt and Road Initiative Ashley Scott Kelly, Xiaoxuan Lu, 2021-09-29 This open access book traces the development of landscapes along the 414 kilometer China Laos Railway one of the first infrastructure projects implemented under China's Belt and Road Initiative BRI and which is due for completion at the end of 2021 Written from the perspective of landscape architecture and intended for planners and related professionals engaged in the development and conservation of these landscapes this book provides history planning pedagogy and interdisciplinary framing for working alongside the often opaque planning design and implementation processes of large scale infrastructure It complicates simplistic notions of development and urbanization frequently reproduced in the Laos China frontier region Many of the projects and sites investigated in this book are recent firsts in Laos Laos's first wildlife sanctuary for trafficked endangered species its first botanical garden and its first planting plan for a community forest Most often the agents and accomplices of neoliberal development the planning and design professions including landscape architecture have little dialogue with either the mainstream natural sciences or critical social sciences that form the discourse of projects in Laos and comparable contexts Covering diverse conceptions and issues of development including cultural and scientific knowledge exchanges between Laos and China nature tourism connectivity and new town planning this book also features nine planning proposals for Laos generated through this research initiative since the railway's groundbreaking in 2016 Each proposal promotes a wider landscape approach to development and deploys landscape architecture's spatial and ecological acumen to synthesize critical development studies with the planner's capacity if not naive predilection to intervene on the ground Ultimately this book advocates the cautious engagement of the professionally oriented built environment disciplines such as regional planning civil engineering and landscape architecture with the landscapes of development institutions and environmental NGOs The Archaeology of Mainland Southeast Asia Charles Higham, 1991 This important new synthesis focuses on the social world of early mainland Southeast Asia Cambodia and the West, 1500-2000 T. O. Smith, 2018-03-19 This volume brings together an interdisciplinary team of established and emerging scholars from the disciplines of history political science and communication studies to provide a historical reappraisal of Cambodia's relationships with the West

Contributors to the volume examine moments of historical import in Cambodia's history from the sixteenth to the twenty first century. These include Cambodia's first contacts with European mercantilism, the establishment of formal French colonialism and commercialism, British peace enforcement and diplomacy after the Second World War, independence, modernisation and the onset of the Cold War, and the United Nations peace process and the Khmer Rouge genocide tribunal of more recent times. The result is a unique and significant new analysis of some of Cambodia's most controversial interactions with the West, demonstrating how far the West has shaped the development of Cambodia in the contemporary epoch. Vietnamese

Ngaosrivathana, Mayoury, 2001 The Bronze Age of Southeast Asia Charles Higham, 1996-06-13 This book addresses the controversy over the origins of the Bronze Age of Southeast Asia. Charles Higham provides a systematic and regional presentation of the current evidence. He suggests that the adoption of metallurgy in the region followed a period of growing exchange with China. Higham then traces the development of Bronze Age cultures, identifying regionality and innovation and suggesting how and why distinct cultures developed. This book is the first comprehensive study of the period placed within a broader comparative framework.
