The Marginal Woman Shirley White Pearl, 2016-09-30 Shirley White Pearl was raised in an era when women stayed home and raised children took care of the house and husband But Shirley is anything but typical In 1952 she set out to start her adult life at the University of Iowa She marched in protests and diligently studied the science of the mind She also got married and had a child Young and in love she suddenly finds herself doing battle with what it means to be a mother and wife when her heart is telling her she wants to be so much more Shirley abandons the simple life for a life of academia meeting new friends expanding her mind and eventually divorcing As a single mother she pursues a doctorate in psychology and specializes in special education With a new marriage under her belt she and her husband move to St Paul Minnesota where Shirley develops and directs a groundbreaking school for children with learning disabilities As she watches her third marriage crumble Shirley soon finds the life she always wanted A whirlwind romance turns into a lifetime of travel with a new love named Fred who takes her to places she only dreamed of Middle age descends upon Shirley and she grapples for what it means to be a woman on her own a mother who could have done better and an aging human who continually reinvents herself as her loved ones die The Marginal Woman Loving Living and Breaking Boundaries in a Pre Feminist World is a study in the human spirit and what it means to find new life when the odds are stacked against you Feminisms

Robyn R. Warhol, Diane Price Herndl, 1997 In the landmark 1991 edition of Feminisms Robyn Warhol and Diane Price Herndl assembled the most comprehensive collection of American and British feminist literary criticism ever to be published In this revised edition the editors have updated the volume in keeping with the expanded parameters of feminist literary discourse With the inclusion of more than two dozen new essays along with a major reorganization of the sections in which they appear Warhol and Price Herndl have again established the measure for representing the latest developments in the field of feminist literary theory Believing that the feminist movement can only move forward where difference commands attention not dismissal or negativism they have continued the original collection's mission of providing a multiplicity of perspectives and approaches This anthology contains three new sections Conflict Gaze and Practice and includes more selections by and about women of color and lesbians Aimed at academics and the general public alike this collection is an indispensable guide to the range of practice on campus today in the field of feminist literary criticism Girls, Autobiography, Media Emma Maguire, 2018-04-05 This book investigates how girls automediate selves are constituted and consumed as literary or media products in a digital landscape dominated by intimate though quite public modes of self disclosure and pervaded by broader practices of self branding In thinking about how girlhood as a potentially vulnerable subject position circulates as a commodity Girls Autobiography Media argues that by using digital technologies to write themselves into culture girls and young women are staking a claim on public space and asserting the right to create and distribute their own representations of girlhood Their texts in the form of blogs vlogs photo sharing platforms online diaries and fangirl identities show how they navigate the sometimes hostile conditions of online spaces in order to become narrators of their own lives and stories By examining case studies across different digital forms of self presentation by girls and young women this book considers how mediation and autobiographical practices are deeply interlinked and it highlights the significant contribution girls and young women have made to contemporary digital forms of life narrative

Women's Life Writing, 1700-1850 D. Cook,A. Culley,2016-04-13 This collection discusses British and Irish life writings by women in the period 1700 1850 It argues for the importance of women s life writing as part of the culture and practice of eighteenth century and Romantic auto biography exploring the complex relationships between constructions of femininity life writing forms and models of authorship Holy Boldness Susie C. Stanley,2004-05 From its inception in the nineteenth century the Wesleyan Holiness religious tradition has offered an alternative construction of gender and supported the equality of the sexes In Holy Boldness Susie C Stanley provides a comprehensive analysis of spiritual autobiographies by thirty four American Wesleyan Holiness women preachers published between the mid nineteenth and mid twentieth centuries While a few of these women primarily African Americans have been added to the canon of American women s autobiography Stanley argues for the expansion of the canon to incorporate the majority of the women in her study She reveals how these empowered women carried out public ministries on behalf of evangelism and social justice The defining doctrine of the Wesleyan Holiness tradition is the belief in sanctification or experiencing a state of holiness Stanley s analysis illuminates how the concept of the sanctified self inspired women to break out of the narrow confines of the traditional women s sphere and engage in public ministries from preaching at camp meetings and revivals to ministering in prisons and tenements Moreover as a result of the Wesleyan Holiness emphasis on experience as a valid source of theology many women preachers turned to autobiography as a way to share their spiritual quest and religiously motivated activities with others In such writings these preachers focused on the events that shaped their spiritual growth and their calling to ministry often giving only the barest details of their personal lives Thus Holy Boldness is not a collective biography of these women but rather an exploration of how sanctification influenced their evangelistic and social ministries Using the tools of feminist theory and autobiographical analysis in addition to historical and theological interpretation Stanley traces a trajectory of Christian women s autobiographies and introduces many previously unknown spiritual autobiographies that will expand our understanding of Christian spirituality in nineteenth and twentieth century America The Author Susie C Stanley is professor of historical theology at Messiah College She is the author of Feminist Pillar of Fire The Life of Alma White

Dreams of Archives Unfolded Jocelyn Fenton Stitt, 2021-06-18 The first book on pan Caribbean life writing Dreams of Archives Unfolded reveals the innovative formal practices used to write about historical absences within contemporary personal narratives Although the premier genres of writing postcoloniality in the Caribbean have been understood to be fiction and poetry established figures such as Erna Brodber Maryse Condé Lorna Goodison Edwidge Danticat Saidiya Hartmann Ruth Behar and Dionne Brand and emerging writers such as Yvonne Shorter Brown and Gaiutra Bahadur use life writing to question the relationship between the past and the present Stitt theorizes that the remarkable flowering of life writing by Caribbean women since 2000 is not an imitation of the memoir boom in North America and Europe instead it marks a different use of the genre born out of encountering gendered absences in archives and ancestral memory that cannot be filled with more research Dreams of Archives makes a significant contribution to studies of Caribbean literature by demonstrating that women s autobiographical narratives published in the past twenty years are feminist epistemological projects that rework Caribbean studies longstanding commitment to creating counter archives
