Margins in European Integration Noel Parker, Bill Armstrong, 2000 This book explores a new important perspective for an expanding Europe As integration attempts to accommodate an even greater kaleidoscope of economic interests and political positions margins and marginality become visible as perpetual features of the integrated Europe and permanent elements in the dynamics shaping it The essays here examine forces which create margins and shape core periphery relations Remaking Europe in the Margins Christopher S. Browning, 2019-06-04 Originally published in 2005 This comprehensive volume examines the issue of Europe making related to the post EU NATO enlargement and the post 9 11 situation Dual enlargement and the War on Terrorism are raising important questions for various actors in Europe in particular what these developments will mean for the future of regional cooperation and the development of a regional subjectivity Such concerns have been further compounded by America's distinction between New Europe and Old Europe The volume analyzes at both policy and conceptual levels how the dual enlargement and the War on Terrorism will impact on regional cooperation in northern Europe It examines how events in northern Europe have helped shape the nature of European space borders and governance including how the EU the US and Russia have each highlighted northern Europe as a special case to be utilized and learnt from in dealing with problems elsewhere in Europe and globally Presenting original articles the volume will appeal to scholars of regional politics as well as security international relations theory and geopolitics

Margins for Manoeuvre in Cold War Europe Laurien Crump, Susanna Erlandsson, 2019-11-28 The Cold War is conventionally regarded as a superpower conflict that dominated the shape of international relations between World War II and the fall of the Berlin Wall Smaller powers had to adapt to a role as pawns in a strategic game of the superpowers its course beyond their control This edited volume offers a fresh interpretation of twentieth century smaller European powers East West neutral and non aligned and argues that their position vis vis the superpowers often provided them with an opportunity rather than merely representing a constraint Analysing the margins for manoeuvre of these smaller powers the volume covers a wide array of themes ranging from cultural to economic issues energy to diplomacy and Bulgaria to Belgium Given its holistic and nuanced intervention in studies of the Cold War this book will be instrumental for students of history international relations and political science

Parker, 2008-02-04 This book pursues an original perspective on Europe's shifting extent and geopolitical standing how countries and spaces marginal to it impact on Europe as a center A theoretical discussion of borders and margins is developed and set against nine studies of countries regions and identities seen as marginal to Europe

Judicial Authority in EU Internal Market Law Vilija

Velyvyte, 2022-11-17 This book examines the role of the European Court of Justice in the regulation of the internal market from a competence perspective However rather than focusing on the Court's role in enforcing the limits of EU competence in the EU's political decision making it explores a related albeit understudied question to what extent does the Court observe the constitutional limits of EU competence and its own institutional powers in the interpretation of EU internal market law laid down in the Treaties The book provides an answer to this question through the analysis of EU free movement case law in light of the constitutional principles that govern the allocation of competences and powers in the EU conferral subsidiarity and proportionality on the vertical level and institutional balance on the horizontal level Why should the Court be bound by these principles What do they mean when applied to judicial practice To what extent are they observed in the free movement case law The book argues that the Court's observance of the four principles has been inconsistent thereby creating substantive and constitutional tensions in the EU's relationship with the Member States and upsetting the institutional balance of powers between the EU legislature and judiciary Shortlisted for the UACES Best Book Prize 2023 Runner up of the 2024 Peter Birks Prize for Outstanding Legal Scholarship EU enlargement, the clash of capitalisms and the European social dimension Paul Copeland, 2015-11-01 At the heart of the European integration process is the political economy debate over whether the EU should be a market making project or if it should combine this with integration in employment and social policy What has been the impact of the 2004 and 2007 rounds of enlargement upon the political economy of European integration EU enlargement the clash of capitalisms and the European social dimension analyses the impact of the 2004 and 2007 enlargements upon the politics of European integration within EU employment and social policy This book analyses the main policy negotiations in the field and analyses the political positions and contributions of the Central and Eastern European Member States Through analyses of the negotiations of the Services Directive the revision of the Working Time Directive and the Europe 2020 poverty target the book argues that the addition of the Central and Eastern European states has strengthened liberal forces at the EU level and undermined integration with EU employment and social policy The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels European Access ,2002 Annuaire Europeen 2000/European Yearbook 2000 Francis Rosensteel, 2001-07-01 The year 2000 s most significant international event was almost certainly neither political nor military but scientific the announcement in June that the human genome had been almost totally decoded Future generations may well see this as a major turning point opening the way to radical changes in diagnosis prognosis and medical treatment Often compared with the space programme this vast enterprise still generates misgivings this new power which human beings now have to modify the genetic heritage of living creatures raises fundamentally new ethical questions and society as a whole will have to find the answers In fact the accelerating pace of scientific and technical progress seems to be reviving atavistic anxieties some rational others less so Recent public health crises including the mad cow disease scare which lasted into 2000 have fuelled these fears The public s rejection of GMOs Genetically Modified Organisms verging on a crusade in some countries tells its own story As regards conflict 2000 saw the Middle East peace process grind to a halt and the Intifada resume In Europe the situation in Kosovo and Chechnya both the scenes of fighting in 1999 stayed precarious Peace and democracy did score some successes however particularly in Europe the centre left s victory in Croatia sweeping former President Tudjman s party off the scene the democratic party s triumph in Bosnia and the fall of the Milosevic regime in Serbia Europe's Passive Virtues Jan Zgliniski, 2020 This book investigates the Court of Justice's practice of deferring to Member State authorities in free movement law examining the decision making latitude accorded to national institutions by means of two deference doctrines the margin of appreciation and decentralised judicial review Europe at the Margins Costis Hadjimichalis, David Sadler, 1995-08-29 Looks at the emergence of new forms of marginality as part of the new map of Europe The contributors focus on regions cities and social groups which at first sight are missing out the people and places on the edge of dominant economic political and cultural systems which carry the stigma of marginality Modern European Borders in Fiction Andrew Hammond, 2025-09-18 There are few features of the contemporary world more significant than national and regional borders In modern Europe the practices of human division have defined the continent from the early years of the Cold War to the present barriers of Fortress Europe whose exposure of irregular migrants to trafficking discrimination and deportation is rarely absent from the daily news Modern European Borders in Fiction offers a comprehensive study of literary responses to the topic Through reference to over 600 novels and short stories Andrew Hammond analyses the wide ranging engagement of post 1945 novelists with the ideologies processes and effects of territorialisation as well as the related issues of military conflict migration populism nationalism and regionalism Among the topics under study are the ideological divisions of the Cold War the closed societies of totalitarian communism the labour migrations of the 1950s and 1960s the tightening of border controls from the 1970s the twenty first century war on migration the official restrictions on borderland communities the conflicts in Bosnia Georgia and Ukraine and the patterns of social segregation that have marked the continent from the Second World War to the present Drawing on theoretical work in the social sciences and the humanities this is a ground breaking contribution to European literary studies establishing the importance of continental border writing and opening up fresh avenues for decolonised teaching and research The Margin of Appreciation in International Human Rights Law Andrew Legg, 2012-07-05 International human rights courts accord their member states a margin of appreciation in relation to the implementation and interpretation of human rights law This book argues that a degree of deference is justified because although human rights standards are universal in practice they inevitably look different from place to place The Essence and the Margin, 2009-01-01 With the expansion of the EU and calls for a European constitution the question of a common European identity has become increasingly pressing in recent times However in the face of diverse national and regional traditions and the absence of an obvious European cultural imaginary the forging of a strong sense of European identity proves problematic This volume brings together case studies of national and regional images from across Europe which together suggest emerging patterns of identification within contemporary Europe patterns which may not necessarily amount to a European identity but rather to a European mode of identification The chronological structure of the volume demonstrates the increasingly problematic nature of national collective memories and past imaginaries in light of emergent marginal voices and images and suggests that it is both from beyond and within the national paradigm that new challenges are now reshaping the cultural imaginary of European communities Focusing on cultural images within film literature national narratives and myths museum exhibitions and architecture this volume is of interest to a wide variety of disciplines in the humanities and presents an interdisciplinary approach to questions of cultural memory and identity formation The Margins of European Law Ian Ward,1996-09-18 The Margins of European Law attempts to provide a critical and sceptical approach to European law The related themes of the book attempt to introduce a historical and theoretical context for European law Ultimately it is suggested that the new European order requires a very different legal and jurisprudential approach one which is distinctively post modern European Community law at its margins is a mass of inconsistencies and injustices and a post modern model can better effect the erasing of the margins of European law European Studies and Europe: Twenty Years of Euroculture Janny de Jong,Marek Neuman,Senka Neuman Stanivuković,Margriet van der Waal,2020 In 1998 the Master s programme Euroculture started with the aim to offer amid the many existing programmes that focused on European institutional developments a European studies curriculum that puts the interplay of culture society and politics in Europe at the heart of the curriculum Among other topics the programme focused on how Europe and European integration could be contextualised and what these concepts meant to European citizens In June 2018 Euroculture celebrated its twentieth anniversary with a conference to discuss not only the changes within the MA Euroculture itself but also to reflect upon the changes in the field of European studies over the last two decades writ large This volume brings together the main findings of this conference Since its start Euroculture has engaged with European studies by providing a space for cooperation between more mainstream oriented research on the one hand and a variety of sociological historiographical post structuralist and post colonial perspectives on Europe on the other This has enabled Euroculture to contextualise the emergence and development of European institutions historically and in relation to broader socio political and cultural processes Its methodology that treats theoretical and analytical work classroom teaching and engaged practice as integral parts of critical inquiry has significantly contributed to its ability to continuously enhance scholarly discussions The volume is divided into two parts which are intrinsically linked The first part contains reflections on the field of European studies and on concepts analytical perspectives and methodologies that have emerged through interdisciplinary dialogues in Euroculture European studies The second part contains contributions that reflect upon the Euroculture programme itself discussing both changes and continuities in the curriculum and didactic methods outlining possible venues for further developing the educational and research programme that is firmly embedded in a network of partners that have been closely cooperating over a span of no less than two decades Sustainable Development of the North Atlantic Margin Reginald Byron,James Walsh,Proinnsias Breathnach,2019-01-22 First published in 1997 this timely collection of papers takes an interdisciplinary approach to examining sustainable development in a wide range of countries such as Ireland Norway and Wales on the North

Atlantic Margin It features specialists in geography social anthropology tourism sociology regional studies business municipality studies health policy and the rural economy The contributors argue that a free marketplace and natural resource sustainability are not always incompatible for green policies to be successful
