Religion and Radical Empiricism Nancy Frankenberry, 1987-01-01 Rarely in modern times has religion been associated with empiricism except to its own peril This book represents a comprehensive and systematic effort to retrieve and develop the tradition of American religious empiricism for religious inquiry Religion and Radical Empiricism offers a challenging account of how and why reflection on religious truth claims must seek justification of those claims finally in terms of empirical criteria Ranging through many of the major questions in philosophy of religion the author weaves together a study of the varieties of empiricism in all its historical forms from Hume to Quine She finds in James and Dewey in Wieman Meland and Loomer of the Chicago School in Whitehead and in Abhidharma Buddhism constructive elements of a radically empirical approach to the controversial topic of religious experience This work provides a strong counter argument to critics of revisionary theism to caricatures of philosophy as conversation and to any collapse of the category of experience into its linguistic forms Mystical Experiences and Scientific Method Christer Norrman, 1987 The Journal of Religion , 1926 Includes section Book reviews Religious Experience and the Creation of Scripture Mark Wreford, 2021-01-28 This volume examines the reasons that prompted the New Testament writers to create the texts which would become the formation of the Christian religion exploring the possibility that certain religious experiences were understood as revelatory and consequently inspired the writing of texts which were seen as special from their inception Mark Wreford uses Luke Acts and Galatians as test cases within the New Testament reflecting both on the stated importance of religious experiences whether the author's own or others to the development of these texts and the status the texts claim for themselves Wreford suggests that Luke Acts offers a helpful example of the relationship between religious experience and the creation of Scripture as an extensive narrative which reflects on early Christian claims to Spirit inspired witness and which begins with an explicit authorial statement of purpose Similarly in Galatians Paul's autobiographical account of God's revelation of Christ to him is the foundation of a letter that is intended to play an authoritative role in shaping its addressees own faith and practice Wreford argues that religious experiences are presented as the driving force behind the creation of the texts examining how such religious experience links with notions of scripture and canonicity He then asserts that both Luke and Paul understood themselves to be creating new scriptural writings on the basis of their relationship to new religious experiences citing the experience and speech at Pentecost the inclusion of gentiles in the experience and Paul's own conversion experience as key elements behind the self understanding of these New Testament authors The Journal of Philosophy, Psychology and Scientific Methods , 1920 Religious Experience Reconsidered Ann Taves, 2011-10-23 Annotation Ann Taves addresses the subject of religious experience directly and the problems of reductionism and humanistic fears of the sciences indirectly and by example The orientation of this book is practical more than philosophical

Religion and Scientific Method G. Schlesinger, 2012-12-06 I With the immense success of modern science it has generally become accepted that the only way to acquire knowledge is by the use of the method uniformly practiced by working scientists Consequently the credibility of the claims of religion which seem to be based on belief in revelation tradition authority and the like have been considerably shaken In the face of the serious threat provided by the ascendancy of modern scientific methodology religious thinkers have adopted various defensive attitudes Some have retreated into an extreme position where Theism is completely safe from any attack on it by the use of empirical methods of inquiry maintaining that contrary to appearances religion makes no factual claims whatsoever To be religious they say is to subscribe to a certain value system it is to adopt a set of practices and a given attitude to the meaning and purpose of life without making any assertions about this or that empirical feature of the universe Others wishing to remain more faithful to what religion traditionally meant throughout the ages agree that Theism does make factual claims but that these are so radically different from the kind of claims made by science that it is only right that they should be established by a separate method on its own In matters of faith reliance on widely entrenched tradition and sacred authority is not objectionable according to some

The Warfare between Science & Religion Jeff Hardin, Ronald L Numbers, Ronald A. Binzley, 2018-10-15 A very welcome volume of essays questioning the presumption of irreconcilable conflict between science and religion British Journal for the History of Science The conflict thesis the idea that an inevitable irreconcilable conflict exists between science and religion has long been part of the popular imagination The Warfare between Science and Religion assembles a group of distinguished historians who explore the origin of the thesis its reception the responses it drew from various faith traditions and its continued prominence in public discourse Several essays examine the personal circumstances and theological idiosyncrasies of important intellectuals including John William Draper and Andrew Dickson White who through their polemical writings championed the conflict thesis relentlessly Others consider what the thesis meant to different religious communities including evangelicals liberal Protestants Roman Catholics Eastern Orthodox Christians Jews and Muslims Finally essays both historical and sociological explore the place of the conflict thesis in popular culture and intellectual discourse today Based on original research and written in an accessible style the essays in The Warfare between Science and Religion take an interdisciplinary approach to question the historical relationship between science and religion and bring much needed perspective to an often bitter controversy Contributors include Thomas H Aechtner Ronald A Binzley John Hedley Brooke Elaine Howard Ecklund Noah Efron John H Evans Maurice A Finocchiaro Frederick Gregory Bradley J Gundlach Monte Harrell Hampton Jeff Hardin Peter Harrison Bernard Lightman David N Livingstone David Mislin Efthymios Nicolaidis Mark A Noll Ronald L Numbers Lawrence M Principe Jon H Roberts Christopher P Scheitle M Alper Yal inkaya
