The Scallop; Studies of a Shell and Its Influence on Humankind, by Eight Authors Ian Cox (Ed),1957 Marine Fisheries Review ,2009 The Visual Rhetoric of the Married Laity in Late Antiquity Mark D. Ellison,2023-12-11 This study examines third and fourth century portraits of married Christians and associated images reading them as visual rhetoric in early Christian conversations about marriage and celibacy and recovering lay perspectives underrepresented or missing in literary sources Historians of early Christianity have grown increasingly aware that written sources display an enthusiasm for asceticism and sexual renunciation that was far from representative of the lives of most early Christians Often called a silent majority the married laity in fact left behind a significant body of work in the material record Particularly in and around Rome they commissioned and used such objects as sarcophagi paintings glass vessels finger rings luxury silver other jewellery items gems and seals that bore their portraits and other iconographic forms of self representation This study is the first to undertake a sustained exploration of these material sources in the context of early Christian discourses and practices related to marriage sexuality and celibacy Reading this visual evidence increases understanding of the population who created it the religious commitments they asserted and the comparatively moderate forms of piety they set forth as meritorious alternatives to the ascetic ideal In their visual rhetoric these artifacts and images comprise additional voices in Late Antique conversations about idealized ways of Christian life and ultimately provide a fuller picture of the early Christian world Plentifully illustrated with photographs and drawings this volume provides readers access to primary material evidence Such evidence like textual sources require critical interpretation this study sets forth a careful methodology for iconographic analysis and applies it to identify the potential intentions of patrons and artists and the perceptions of viewers It compares iconography to literary sources and ritual practices as part of the interpretive process clarifying the ways images had a rhetorical edge and contributed to larger conversations Accessibly written The Visual Rhetoric of the Married Laity in Late Antiquity is of interest to students and scholars working on Late Antiquity early Christian and late Roman social history marriage and celibacy in early Christianity and early Christian Roman and Byzantine art

"Architecture and Pilgrimage, 1000-1500" Deborah Howard, 2017-07-05 Although there is an obvious association between pilgrimage and place relatively little research has centred directly on the role of architecture Architecture and Pilgrimage 1000-1500 Southern Europe and Beyond synthesizes the work of a distinguished international group of scholars It takes a broad view of architecture to include cities routes ritual topographies and human interaction with the natural environment as well as specific buildings and shrines and considers how these were perceived represented and remembered The essays explore both the ways in which the physical embodiment of pilgrimage cultures is shared and what we can learn from the differences The chosen period reflects the flowering of medieval and early modern pilgrimage The perspective is that of the pilgrim journeying within or embarking from Southern Europe with a particular emphasis on Italy The book pursues the connections between pilgrimage and architecture through the investigation of such issues as theology liturgy patronage miracles and healing relics and individual and communal memory Moreover it explores how pilgrimage may be regarded on various levels from a physical journey towards a holy site to a more symbolic and internalized idea of pilgrimage of the soul

Max Ernst and Alchemy M. E. Warlick, 2013-05-01 Surrealist artist Max Ernst defined collage as the alchemy of the visual image Students of his work have often dismissed this comment as simply a metaphor for the transformative power of using found images in a new context Taking a wholly different perspective on Ernst and alchemy however M E Warlick persuasively demonstrates that the artist had a profound and abiding interest in alchemical philosophy and often used alchemical symbolism in works created throughout his career A revival of interest in alchemy swept the artistic psychoanalytic historical and scientific circles of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and Warlick sets Ernst's work squarely within this movement Looking at both his art many of the works she discusses are reproduced in the book and his writings she reveals how thoroughly alchemical philosophy and symbolism pervade his early Dadaist experiments his foundational work in surrealism and his many collages and paintings of women and landscapes whose images exemplify the alchemical fusing of opposites This pioneering research adds an essential key to understanding the multilayered complexity of Ernst's works as it affirms his standing as one of Germany's most significant artists of the twentieth century
