Gallagher,2011 The volume covers a range of areas central Africa Nigeria Singapore Taiwan Indonesia Nepal China United Arab Emirates Oman and Mexico and a broad scope of topics from emergency care the AIDS epidemic and women s health care to public health programs and national health care policies

Salo, 1982 Inequality Folke Dovring, 1991 A worsening economic crisis due to the shift in wealth over the past decade is the central concern of this carefully documented study It profiles the current status of income inequality in the United States and discerns disturbing trends for the future A wealth of data are collected evaluated and simplified into a straightforward look at both the economic changes brought on by misguided reforms of the 1980s and a proposed system for measuring income inequality which may help clarify the issues pertinent to the debate Folke Dovring perceives the current U S economy as an imminent threat to our democratic system and urges increased awareness of the variables which will effect its return to a healthy state of balance where income inequality necessary to a certain degree sustains productivity and individual incentives A general overview of the facts and problems associated with income distribution viewed from historical geographical and sociological perspectives establishes the study s priorities and is followed by the development of criteria which can more accurately estimate the nature and extent of income inequality moving the study closer to recommendations for systematic public policy which may promote continued economic growth The urgency with which Dovring addresses this topic and the thoroughness of his presentation will compel scholars and policymakers especially those interested in poverty economics to give immediate attention to the issue of economic inequality through informed meaningful discussion     The Journal of Developing Areas ,1981     *Annual Report ...
