Abstract: we are preparing another translation of Leviathan and the first part of it, Of the Sovereign Power, is now ready for the press. Since the second part of it is now nearly completed, we have thought it best to publish the whole of it in one volume, and to add to it the Tracts of the Learned, which we have now translated from the Latin of the same author. The Tracts are now ready for the press, and we have thought it best to add them to the same volume, and to add to it the Tracts of the Learned, which we have now translated from the Latin of the same author. The Tracts are now ready for the press, and we have thought it best to add them to the same volume, and to add to it the Tracts of the Learned, which we have now translated from the Latin of the same author.

Emmerson, 2013-10-18 From emperors and queens to artists and world travelers from popes and scholars to saints and heretics Key Figures in Medieval Europe brings together in one volume the most important people who lived in medieval Europe between 500 and 1500 Gathered from the biographical entries from the on going series the Routledge Encyclopedias of the Middle Ages these A Z biographical entries discuss the lives of over 575 individuals who have had a historical impact in such areas as politics religion or the arts Individuals from places such as medieval England France Germany Iberia Italy and Scandinavia are included as well as those from the Jewish and Islamic worlds A thematic outline is included that lists people not only by categories but also by regions For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Routledge Encyclopedias of the Middle Ages website Maps and the Writing of Space in Early Modern England and Ireland B. Klein, 2001-01-11 Maps make the world visible but they also obscure distort idealize This wide ranging study traces the impact of cartography on the changing cultural meanings of space offering a fresh analysis of the mental and material mapping of early modern England and Ireland Combining cartographic history with critical cultural studies and literary analysis it examines the construction of social and political space in maps in cosmography and geography in historical and political writing and in the literary works of Marlowe Shakespeare Spenser and Drayton Hebrew between Jews and Christians Daniel Stein Kokin, 2022-12-19 Though typically associated more with Judaism than Christianity the status and sacrality of Hebrew has nonetheless been engaged by both religious cultures in often strikingly similar ways The language has furthermore played an important if vexed role in relations between the two Hebrew between Jews and Christians closely examines this frequently overlooked aspect of Judaism and Christianity s common heritage and mutual competition Maps and Travel in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Period Ingrid Baumgärtner, Nirit Ben-Aryeh Debby, Katrin Kogman-Appel, 2019-03-04 The volume discusses the world as it was known in the Medieval and Early Modern periods focusing on projects concerned with mapping as a conceptual and artistic practice with visual representations of space and with destinations of real and fictive travel Maps were often taken as straightforward objective configurations However they expose deeply subjective frameworks with social political and economic significance Travel narratives whether illustrated or not can address similar frameworks Whereas travelled space is often adventurous and speaking of hardship strange encounters and danger city portraits tell a tale of civilized life and civic pride The book seeks to address the multiple ways in which maps and travel literature conceive of the world communicate a Weltbild depict space and or define knowledge The volume challenges academic boundaries in the study of cartography by exploring the links between mapmaking and artistic practices The contributions discuss individual mapmakers authors of travelogues mapmaking as an artistic practice the relationship between travel literature and mapmaking illustration in travel literature and imagination in depictions of newly explored worlds The Executioner's Journal Frantz Schmidt, 2016-09-02 During a career lasting nearly half a century Meister

Frantz Schmidt 1554-1634 personally put to death 392 individuals and tortured, flogged or disfigured hundreds more. The remarkable number of victims as well as the officially sanctioned context in which they suffered at Schmidt's hands was the story of Joel Harrington's much discussed book The Faithful Executioner. The foundation of that celebrated work was Schmidt's own journal, notable not only for the shocking story it told but in an age when people rarely kept diaries for its mere existence. Available now in Harrington's new translation, this fascinating document provides the modern reader with a rare firsthand perspective on the thoughts and experiences of an executioner who routinely carried out acts of state brutality yet remained a revered member of the local community, widely respected for his piety, steadfastness, and popular healing. Based on a long lost manuscript thought to be the most faithful to the original journal, this modern English translation is fully annotated and includes an introduction providing historical context as well as a biographical portrait of Schmidt himself. The executioner appears to us not as the frightening brute we might expect but as a surprisingly thoughtful, complex person with a unique voice, and in these pages his world emerges as vivid and unforgettable. Studies in Early Modern German History

The Four Articles of Prague within the Public Sphere of Hussite Bohemia Kamila Veverková, Angelo Shaun Franklin, 2021-02-17. The Hussites' contribution to the transformation of the Czech state and its influence upon constitutional development were substantial. Various Hussite factions united over a program known as the Four Articles of Prague. In The Four Articles of Prague within the Public Sphere of Hussite Bohemia, Kamila Veverková situates the Four Articles presented here in a new translation by Angelo Franklin in their political and economic context, emphasizing the societal reforms stimulated by the Hussite theological program. The Hussites demanded free proclamation of God's word, advocated public punishment of sins for all estates, rejected the secular rule of the church, and proclaimed the need to receive communion under both kinds. With no royal government in the country, the Czech Land Diet and its appointed administrators exercised practical power. The Czechs' arduous negotiations at the Council of Basel ultimately succeeded; the Council adopted the Four Articles of Prague in the form of the Compactata, which later became part of Czech law. 1436: The Religious Peace of Kutná Hora. 1485 expressed the new constitutional situation, allowing religious freedom. This unheard-of principle preceded other related legal developments by several centuries. Hussites permanently changed the form of the state and law, becoming a model for Europe in the transition from feudalism to a bourgeois society. Routledge Revivals: Trade, Travel and Exploration in the Middle Ages (2000) John Block Friedman, Kristen Mossler Figg, 2017-07-05. First published in 2000, Trade, Travel and Exploration: An Encyclopedia covers the people, places, technologies, and intellectual concepts that contributed to trade, travel, and exploration during the Middle Ages, from the years C.E. 525 to 1492. This comprehensive reference work contains entries on a large number of subjects, including familiar topics such as the voyages of Columbus and Marco Polo, and also information that is more difficult to find, for example, the traditions of travel among Muslim women and the influence of Viking travel on navigation and geographical knowledge. Bringing together more than 175 scholars from a variety of disciplines it minimizes Eurocentric bias and offers extensive coverage of such topics as travel within Inner Asia Mongol society and the spread of Buddhism Including an extensive map program and more than 125 illustrations as well as bibliographies a comprehensive index and see also references Medieval Trade Travel and Exploration is a valuable reference guide for undergraduate and graduate students scholars and also the general reader A Companion to Albert the Great Irven Resnick,2012-11-23 Contributions to this omnibus volume from twenty seven internationally renowned scholars will introduce students of philosophy science and theology to the current state of research and multiple perspectives on the work of Albert the Great German Conquistadors in Venezuela Giovanna Montenegro,2022-12-15 This fascinating study traces sixteenth century German colonialism in Venezuela through the lens of racialized capitalism and the subsequent memorialization of the period through to the twentieth century Giovanna Montenegro investigates one of the strangest and often ignored episodes in the conquest and colonization of the Americas the governance of the Province of Venezuela by the Welsers a German banking family from Augsburg in the sixteenth century Using a comparative and interdisciplinary approach the book chronicles the Welsers business expansion beyond banking to colonization and the slave trade in the Spanish Indies and the eventual failure of the colony Montenegro follows the money that financed the Habsburg empire tackling a multifaceted multilingual corpus of primary documents She examines numerous legal documents from contracts granting colonization and slave trade rights capitulaciones asientos to complex financial transactions interests exchange rates She also analyzes maps literary texts and various chronicles and poems of the period The book examines a history of violence perpetrated upon enslaved Indigenous and African people but it is also the story of how different generations across the Atlantic up to Nazi Germany in the twentieth century have remembered and recalled this Welser period of governance in Venezuela to serve other social and political purposes Montenegro positions her research in relation to current critical discussion on inequality slavery white supremacy and neoconservative nationalist movements in contemporary Latin America and Germany Tree of Jesse Iconography in Northern Europe in the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries Susan L. Green,2018-10-26 This book is the first detailed investigation to focus on the late medieval use of Tree of Jesse imagery traditionally a representation of the genealogical tree of Christ In northern Europe from the mid fifteenth to the early sixteenth centuries it could be found across a wide range of media Yet as this book vividly illustrates it had evolved beyond a simple genealogy into something more complex which could be modified to satisfy specific religious requirements It was also able to function on a more temporal level reflecting not only a clerical preoccupation with a sense of communal identity but a more general interest in displaying a family s heritage continuity and or social status It is this dynamic and polyvalent element that makes the subject so fascinating Feudalism in Medieval Europe Pliny O'Brian,2015-07-15 Legends have been written about it films have been made but what really happened during the Middle Ages Learn about feudalism popes leaders and wars in this informative book Revolutions in Communication Bill Kovarik,2025-09-18 This new and expanded edition of Revolutions in Communication the 3rd edition explores printing imaging electronic and digital media history within a framework of technological change and social impacts Using key figures in history to benchmark the chronology of technical innovation Kovarik's scholarship narrates the story of revolutions in printing electronic communication and digital information while drawing parallels between the past and present This edition builds on the success of the previous two editions as a leading media history textbook The 3rd edition includes Digital media technology impacts and expectations that have changed since 2015 Updated and additional information that has become recently available including declassified histories of super computers the US news media's record on civil rights Gutenberg's printing experiments in the 1440s the role of the 1796 invention of lithography and improving the printing and culture of music A sharper international focus and effort to avoid the impression that Europe is more or less at the center of mass media history

The Bayeux Tapestry and Its Contexts Elizabeth Carson Pastan, Stephen D. White, Kate Gilbert, 2014 A full and provocative reappraisal of the Bayeux Tapestry its origins design and patronage Aspects of the Bayeux Tapestry in fact an embroidered hanging have always remained mysterious despite much scholarly investigation not least its design and patron Here in the first full length interdisciplinary approach to the subject the authors an art historian and a historian consider these and other issues Rejecting the prevalent view that it was commissioned by Odo the bishop of Bayeux and half brother of William the Conqueror or by some other comparable patron they bring new evidence to bear on the question of its relationship to the abbey of St Augustine's Canterbury From the study of art historical archeological literary historical and documentary materials they conclude that the monks of St Augustine's designed the hanging for display in their abbey church to tell their own story of how England was invaded and conquered in 1066 Elizabeth Carson Pastan is a Professor of Art History at Emory University Stephen D White is Asa G Candler Professor of Medieval History emeritus Emory University and an Honorary Professor of Mediaeval History at the University of St Andrews

Red Hearts and Roses? Rhiannon Ifans, 2019-01-09 Who was Saint Valentine the saint who gave his name to the festival of lovers in Wales Where do red hearts and roses fit in Or do they This volume addresses these questions but focuses more specifically on the previously unpublished Welsh poetry written over the centuries on the feast day of Saint Valentine in mid February the one saint's day in the Christian calendar of saints that does not depend on the Church for a celebration of the feast day far from resembling anything else on offer in any other part of Britain these Welsh songs are lyrical expressive and often in cynghanedd the concept of sound arrangement within a line This volume analyses the first extant Welsh Saint Valentine's Day poems and advances a new understanding of societal propriety in settings where citizens paid great attention to tradition In so doing it offers new insights into the tradition of observing Saint Valentine's Day in Wales and indeed argues that although it is the fifth century Dwynwen who is today considered to be the patron saint of Welsh lovers Saint Valentine also handed out aid and sympathy to lovers in Wales over many centuries To read Rhiannon Ifans article on her volume visit Parallel Cymru website <https://parallelcymru.com/rhiannon-ifans-red-hearts-and-roses/>

Hildegard of Bingen and Musical Reception Jennifer Bain, 2015-05-14 Since her death in 1179 Hildegard of Bingen has commanded attention in every century In this book Jennifer Bain traces the historical reception of Hildegard focusing particularly on the moment in the modern era when she began to be considered as a composer Bain examines how the activities of clergy in nineteenth century Eibingen resulted in increased veneration of Hildegard an authentication of her relics and a rediscovery of her music The book goes on to situate the emergence of Hildegard's music both within the French chant restoration movement driven by Solesmes and the German chant revival supported by Cecilianism the German movement to reform Church music more generally Engaging with the complex political and religious environment in German speaking areas Bain places the more recent Anglophone revival of Hildegard's music in a broader historical perspective and reveals the important intersections amongst local devotion popular culture and intellectual activities
