Margery Kempe And Her World:

Margery Kempe A.E. Goodman,2014-07-10 Daughter of a mayor of King's Lynn wife of a burgess there and mother of fourteen children Margery Kempe c 1373 post 1438 was also a religious mystic and hysteric who dictated her autobiography to a scribe at the end of her life In this history of her life Anthony Goodman examines The Book to reconstruct as much of her conventional biography as the materials allow Including her spiritual experiences but focusing most particularly on her day to day life he builds an intriguing picture of bourgeois society in late medieval Lynn and the wider world of late medieval towns in England and Europe more generally Margery Kempe and Her World Anthony Goodman,2002 Margery Kempe is one of the most extraordinary figures in English medieval history Daughter of a mayor of King's Lynn wife of a burgess and mother of fourteen children she was also the author of the first surviving autobiography composed by an Englishwoman The Book of Margery Kempe dictated in the 1430s survives in a single manuscript which was discovered in the 1930s It is an uninhabited exhibitionist outpouring of impassioned religious emotions The Book comprises an account of the mystical intimations of a lady born into Lynn's stately but troubled elite Visionary episodes are interlinked with equally dramatic accounts of mundane experiences in Margery's home town in other parts of England and as far afield as Jerusalem Rome and Brandenburg Book Jacket Mystic and Pilgrim Clarissa W. Atkinson,1983 A biography of the medieval English religious pilgrim Margery Kempe and a social and cultural history of her world Margery Kempe Diane Nadine Dresskell,2000

pilgrim and pioneering memoirist Margery Kempe This is a new account of the medieval mystic and pilgrim Margery Kempe who had fourteen children traveled all over Europe and recorded a series of unusual events and religious visions in her work The Book of Margery Kempe which is often called the first autobiography in the English language Anthony Bale charts Kempe's life and tells her story through the places relationships objects and experiences that influenced her Extensive quotations from Kempe's Book accompany generous illustrations giving a fascinating insight into the life of a medieval woman Margery Kempe is situated within the religious controversies of her time and her religious visions and later years put in context And lastly Bale tells the extraordinary story of the rediscovery in the 1930s of the unique manuscript of her autobiography

The Ties that Bind Katherine L. French, Douglas L. Biggs, 2016-02-17 This collection of essays whose title echoes that of her most well known book celebrates the career of Barbara A Hanawalt emerita George III Professor of British Studies at The Ohio State University The volume's contents ranging from politics to family histories from intimate portraits to extensive prosopographies are authored by both former students and career long colleagues and friends and reflect the wide range of topics on which Professor Hanawalt has written as well as her varied methodological approaches and disciplinary interests The essays also mirror the variety of sources Professor Hanawalt has utilized in her work public documents of the law courts and chancery private deeds charters and wills works of both religious and secular literature The collection not only illustrates and reinforces the influence of Barbara Hanawalt's work on modern day medieval studies it is also a testament to her inspiring friendship and guidance during a career that has now spanned more than three decades

The Power of a Woman's Voice in Medieval and Early Modern Literatures Albrecht Classen, 2012-02-13 The study takes the received view among scholars that women in the Middle Ages were faced with sustained misogyny and that their voices were seldom heard in public and subjects it to a critical analysis The ten chapters deal with various aspects of the question and the voices of a variety of authors both female and male are heard The study opens with an enquiry into violence against women including in texts by male writers Hartmann von Aue Gottfried von Straßburg Wolfram von Eschenbach which indeed describe instances of violence but adopt an extremely critical stance towards them It then proceeds to show how women were able to develop an independent identity in various genres and could present themselves as authorities in the public eye Mystic texts by Hildegard of Bingen Marie de France and Margery Kempe the medieval conduct poem known as Die Winsbeckin the Devout Books of Sisters composed in convents in South West Germany but also quasi historical documents such as the memoirs of Helene Kottaner or Anna Weckerin's cookery book demonstrate that far more women were in the public gaze than had hitherto been assumed and that they possessed the self confidence to establish their positions with their intellectual and their literary achievements

Margery Kempe's Meditations Naoë Kukita Yoshikawa, 2007 The author argues that The Book of Margery Kempe unfolds a creative experience of memory as spiritual progress and explores Margery's meditational experience in the context of visual and verbal iconography

History of Emotions in Europe Susan Broomhall, Andrew Lynch, 2019-06-25 The Routledge History of Emotions in Europe 1100 1700 presents the state of the field of pre modern emotions during this period placing particular emphasis on theoretical and methodological aspects of current research This book serves as a reference to existing research practices in emotions history and advances studies in the field across a range of scholarly approaches It brings together the work of recognized experts and new voices and represents a wide range of international and interdisciplinary perspectives from different schools of research practice including art history literature and culture philosophy linguistics archaeology and music Throughout the book central and recurrent themes in emotional culture within medieval and early modern Europe are highlighted from different angles and each chapter pays specialist attention to illustrative examples showing theory and method in application Exploring topics such as love war sex and sexuality death time the body and the family in the context of emotional culture The Routledge History of Emotions in Europe 1100 1700 reflects the sharp rise in scholarship relating to the history of emotions in recent years and is an essential resource for students and researchers of the history of pre modern emotions Margery Kempe's Dissenting Fictions Lynn Staley, 2010-11-01 Towns in medieval England , 2018-07-30 This is the first collection of translated sources on towns in medieval England It draws on the great variety of written evidence for this significant and dynamic period of urban development and invites students to consider for themselves the challenges and opportunities presented by a wide range of primary written sources The introduction and editorial commentary situate the extracts within the larger context of European urban history against a longer chronological backdrop and in relation to the most up to date research Suggestions for further reading enable the student to engage critically with the materials and encourage new work in the field Collectively the texts and commentary provide an overview of English medieval urban history while the emphasis throughout is on the particular character and potential of each type of written evidence from legal and administrative records to inventories of shops and from letters and poetry to legendary civic histories The Use and Abuse of the Bible Henry Wansbrough, 2010-02-25 Written in an engaging and entertaining manner this new book from leading Catholic biblical scholar Henry Wansbrough charts the use and abuse of scripture throughout the ages. It ranges from the evangelists' engagement with the Hebrew Scriptures to the use of the Bible in present-day politics, perhaps most pertinently in the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. Wansbrough takes as his starting point Frances Young's The Art of Performance. This enables him to creatively display how the Bible is performed differently in different ages. Wansbrough demonstrates the variety of these performances and their different emphases in the history of Christianity to glimpse the different ways in which great figures within the Christian tradition have used and abused the Bible. Indirectly, therefore, it attacks the ever-present danger of fundamentalism and single-minded interpretation of the Bible. Viewing the interpretation of the Bible against the background of various historical periods gives a valuable insight into the long and rich history of the Church. A final chapter provides a worked example of Lectio Divina, providing a window into the author's personal life of praying the Bible.

Generations of Feeling Barbara H. Rosenwein, 2016. An exploration of emotional life in the West considering the varieties, transformations, and constants of human emotions over eleven centuries.

Medieval English Travel Anthony Bale, Sebastian Sobiechowski, 2019. Medieval English Travel: A Critical Anthology is a comprehensive volume that consists of three sections: concise introductory essays written by leading specialists; an anthology of important and less well-known texts grouped by destination; and a selection of supporting bibliographies organised by type of voyage. This anthology presents some texts for the first time in a modern edition. The first section consists of six companion essays on Places, Real and Imagined; Maps; the Organisation of Space; Encounters; Languages and Codes; Trade and Exchange; and Politics and Diplomacy. The organising principle for the anthology is one of expansive geography. Starting with local English narratives, the section moves to France, en route to destinations: the Holy Land and the Far East. In total, the anthology contains 26 texts or extracts, including new editions of Floris Blanchefleur, The Stations of Rome, The Libelle of Englyshe Polycye, and Chaucer's Squire's Tale, in addition to less familiar texts such as Osborn Bokenham's Mappula Angliae, John Kay's Siege of Rhodes (1480), and Richard Torkington's Diaries of Englysshe Travell. The supporting bibliographies, in turn, take a functional approach to travel and support the texts by elucidating contexts for travel and travellers in five areas: commercial voyages, diplomatic and military travel, maps, rutters, and charts, practical needs, and religious voyages.

Cultural Histories of Noise, Sound and Listening in Europe, 1300-1918 Kirsten Gibson, Ian Biddle, 2016-11-18. Cultural Histories of Noise, Sound and Listening in Europe, 1300-1918 presents a range of historical case studies on the sounding worlds of the European past. The chapters in this volume explore ways of thinking about sound historically and seek to understand how people have understood and negotiated their relationships with the sounding world in Europe from the Middle Ages through to the early twentieth century. They consider, in particular, sound and music in the later Middle Ages; the politics of sound in the early modern period; the history of the body and perception during the Ancien Régime; and the sounds of the city in the nineteenth century and sound and colonial rule at the fin de siècle. The case studies also range in geographical orientation to include considerations not only of Britain and France the countries most considered in European historical sound studies in English language scholarship to date but also Bosnia Herzegovina British Colonial India Germany Italy and Portugal Out of this diverse group of case studies emerge significant themes that recur time and again varying according to time and place sound power and identity sound as a marker of power or violence and sound physiology and sensory perception and technologies of sound consumption and meaning
