Marginal Woman Autobiography:

Women, Autobiography, Theory Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 1998 The first comprehensive guide to the burgeoning field of women's autobiography Essays from 39 prominent critics and writers explore narratives across the centuries and from around the globe A list of more than 200 women's autobiographies and a comprehensive bibliography provide invaluable information for scholars teachers and readers

The Marginal Woman Shirley White Pearl, 2016-09-30 Shirley White Pearl was raised in an era when women stayed home and raised children took care of the house and husband But Shirley is anything but typical In 1952 she set out to start her adult life at the University of Iowa She marched in protests and diligently studied the science of the mind She also got married and had a child Young and in love she suddenly finds herself doing battle with what it means to be a mother and wife when her heart is telling her she wants to be so much more Shirley abandons the simple life for a life of academia meeting new friends expanding her mind and eventually divorcing As a single mother she pursues a doctorate in psychology and specializes in special education With a new marriage under her belt she and her husband move to St Paul Minnesota where Shirley develops and directs a groundbreaking school for children with learning disabilities As she watches her third marriage crumble Shirley soon finds the life she always wanted A whirlwind romance turns into a lifetime of travel with a new love named Fred who takes her to places she only dreamed of Middle age descends upon Shirley and she grapples for what it means to be a woman on her own a mother who could have done better and an aging human who continually reinvents herself as her loved ones die The Marginal Woman Loving Living and Breaking Boundaries in a Pre Feminist World is a study in the human spirit and what it means to find new life when the odds are stacked against you

Representing the Marginal Woman in Nineteenth-Century Russian Literature Svetlana Grenier, 2001 Gender oriented studies of 19th century Russian literature have struggled with how to determine the feminism or misogyny of particular authors This book argues that in order to make this determination we need to engage with the poetics of the text rather than rely on the author's stated views By focusing on the character type of the ward or young female dependent this book examines the narrative strategies used by such writers as Pushkin Zhukova Tolstoy Herzen and Dostoevsky to represent socially marginal women in their works Drawing on the theories of Bakhtin the volume analyzes the degree to which female characters are presented as subjects who actively think and perceive rather than as passive objects who are thought of and perceived by men In a polyphonic novel authors enter into dialogic relationships with their characters they depict them as unfinalizable persons unfathomable and unpredictable capable of the full range of human activity and emotion The extent to which this polyphony incorporates women's voices is an accurate gauge of the feminism or misogyny of individual writers

American Women's Autobiography Margo Culley, 1992 Focus on the works of Harriet Jacobs Elizabeth Cady Stanton Gertrude Stein Mary McCarthy Maxine Hong Kingston and others

Feminisms Robyn R. Warhol, Diane Price Herndl, 1997 In the landmark 1991 edition of Feminisms Robyn Warhol and Diane Price Herndl assembled the most comprehensive collection of American and British feminist literary criticism ever to be published In this revised edition the editors have updated the volume in keeping with the expanded parameters of feminist literary discourse With the inclusion of more than two dozen new essays along with a major reorganization of the sections in which they appear Warhol and Price Herndl have again established the measure for representing the latest developments in the field of feminist literary theory Believing that the feminist movement can only move forward where difference commands attention not dismissal or negativism they have continued the original collection's mission of providing a multiplicity of perspectives and approaches This anthology contains three new sections Conflict Gaze and Practice and includes more selections by and about women of color and lesbians Aimed at academics and the general public alike this collection is an indispensable guide to the range of practice on campus today in the field of feminist literary criticism

Girls, Autobiography, Media Emma Maguire, 2018-04-05 This book investigates how girls automediate selves are constituted and consumed as literary or media products in a digital landscape dominated by intimate though quite public modes of self disclosure and pervaded by broader practices of self branding In thinking about how girlhood as a potentially vulnerable subject position circulates as a commodity Girls Autobiography Media argues that by using digital technologies to write themselves into culture girls and young women are staking a claim on public space and asserting the right to create and distribute their own representations of girlhood Their texts in the form of blogs vlogs photo sharing platforms online diaries and fangirl identities show how they navigate the sometimes hostile conditions of online spaces in order to become narrators of their own lives and stories By examining case studies across different digital forms of self presentation by girls and young women this book considers how mediation and autobiographical practices are deeply interlinked and it highlights the significant contribution girls and young women have made to contemporary digital forms of life narrative

The Literary Subversions of Medieval Women Jane Chance, 2007-08-06 This study of medieval women as postcolonial writers defines the literary strategies of subversion by which they authorized their alterity within the dominant tradition To dismantle a colonizing culture they made public the private feminine space allocated by gender difference they constructed unhomey spaces They inverted gender roles of characters to valorize the female they created alternate idealized feminist societies and cultures or utopias through fantasy and they legitimized female triviality the homely female space to provide autonomy While these methodologies often overlapped in practice they illustrate how cultures impinge on languages to create what Deleuze and Guattari have identified as a minor literature specifically for women as displaced Women writers discussed include Hrotsvit of Gandersheim Hildegard of Bingen Marie de France Marguerite Porete Catherine of Siena Margery Kempe Julian of Norwich and Christine de Pizan

Medieval Women in Their Communities Diane Watt, 1997-01-01 Ten interdisciplinary essays provide detailed small scale studies of a variety of medieval female communities from Germany to Wales between 1200 and 1500 examining a range of social economic and cultural groups both religious and secular

The Culture of Autobiography Robert

Folkenflik,1993 Focusing primarily on the period from the eighteenth century to the present this interdisciplinary volume takes a fresh look at the institutions and practices of autobiography and self portraiture in Europe the United States and other cultures

Women and Autobiography Martine Watson Brownley,Allison B. Kimmich,1999 An overview of women s autobiography providing historical background and contemporary criticism along with selections from a range of autobiographies by women It seeks to provide a broad introduction to the major questions dominating autobiographical scholarship today

Maverick Autobiographies Cathryn Halverson,2004 Halverson examines why and brings their texts back to light through a weaving of biography literary analysis and cultural history in the process urging us to reformulate our notions of what it means to be a western writer Halverson s discoveries will appeal to scholars and critics of Western American literature and women s studies

BOOK JACKET Feminism & Autobiography Tess Coslett,Celia Lury,Penny Summerfield,2002-01-04 Featuring essays by leading feminist scholars from a variety of disciplines this key text explores the latest developments in autobiographical studies The collection is structured around the inter linked concepts of genre inter subjectivity and memory Whilst exemplifying the very different levels of autobiographical activity going on in feminist studies the contributions chart a movement from autobiography as genre to autobiography as cultural practice and from the analysis of autobiographical texts to a preoccupation with autobiography as method

Between Sorrow and Strength David Lazar,Sibylle Quack,Christof Mauch,2002-11-07 Many refugees of the Nazi period have attracted considerable scholarly attention Einstein Thomas Mann Hannah Arendt among others are all famous examples In contrast little is known about the lives of more typical refugees their everyday lives in exile and emigration their daily pain sorrow and underlying strength This study shows for the first time how refugee women during the Nazi period endured examining their important role in the survival of their families and the meaning of exile and emigration for their future lives and careers Between Sorrow and Strength combines essays by noted scholars in the field with eyewitness reports from contemporaries It reveals a great deal about the role of women in the history of Jewish as well as non Jewish emigration from Europe during the Nazi era

Feminist Approaches to the Body in Medieval Literature Linda Lomperis,Sarah Stanbury,1993 Feminist Approaches to the Body in Medieval Literature forges a new link between contemporary feminist and cultural theory and medieval history and literature The essays establish crucial historical connections between feminist theorizing about the body and specific accounts of gendered bodies in medieval texts

Women's Autobiographies Nancy A. Walker,1991 First Published in 1991 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Popular Music Autobiography Oliver Lovesey,2021-12-02 The 1960s saw the nexus of the revolution in popular music by a post war generation amid demographic upheavals and seismic shifts in technology Over the past two decades musicians associated with this period have produced a large amount of important autobiographical writing This book situates these works in the forms of formal autobiographies and memoirs auto fiction songs and self fashioned museum exhibitions within the context of the recent expansion of interest in autobiography disability and celebrity studies It argues that these writings express anxiety over musical originality and authenticity and seeks to dispel their writers celebrity status and particularly the association with a lack of seriousness These works often constitute a meditation on the nature of postmodern fame within a celebrity obsessed culture and paradoxically they aim to regain the private self in a public forum

Authority and the Female Body in the Writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe Liz Herbert McAvoy, 2004 The three archetypal representations of woman in the middle ages as mother as whore and as wise woman are all clearly present in the writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe in examining the ways in which both writers make use of these female categories Dr McAvoy establishes the extent of their success in resolving the tension between society's expectations of them and their own lived experiences as women and writers Jacket

(Un)masking Bruno Schulz, 2009-01-01 Whatever critical scalpel one selects for dissecting the literary works of Bruno Schulz 1892 1942 there will always be a certain degree of textual resistance which cannot be broken Or in other words taking off one of Schulz's many masks one will probably never avoid the impression that a new mask has emerged This book contributes to the three most typical critical strategies of reading Schulz's works combinations fragmentations reintegrations being fully aware of course of the relativity of each particular approach In addition the book sets out to explore all of Schulz's creative output i e his stories as well as his graphic epistolary and even literary critical works as one of Schulz's main goals was exactly to cross artificially set up boundaries between among other things different artistic media of expression The book for the first time brings together leading Schulzologists Jarzbski Robertson Sproede and their prospective successors Augsburgers Gorin Kato Suchaska Dray ska Underhill Wojda established Polish academics D browski Markowski Skwara Weretiuk and their foreign counterparts De Bruyn Gall Meyer Fraatz Schulte Zielski scholars primarily working on other authors Anessiliwa urek and those focusing on other art forms S nchez Pardo Watt The editors introduction offers an overview of seven decades of Schulzology The book is of interest for both readers with a general interest in world literature and or a particular interest in Polish and Jewish studies

The Book of Margery Kempe Marea Mitchell, 2005 The history of The Book of Margery Kempe from its first production in 1334 is also part of the history of English literary studies Marea Mitchell traces some of the fascinating stories behind the proliferation of productions since then including the involvement of Hope Emily Allen and other independent women scholars popular receptions of the Book in World War II and current productions that locate it as part of a medieval literary canon Working from a cultural materialist perspective Mitchell focuses on the materiality of the text itself and of the bodies of scholarship that have arisen around it
