Marginalia To Life:

Romanticism and Methodism Helen Boyles, 2016-10-14 Exploring the intense relationship between Romantic literature and Methodism Helen Boyles argues that writers from both movements display an ambivalent attitude towards the expression of deep emotional and spiritual experience Boyles takes up the disparaging characterization of William Wordsworth and other Romantic poets as Methodistical showing how this criticism was rooted in a suspicion of the enthusiasm with which the Methodist movement was negatively identified Historically enthusiasm has generated hostility and embarrassment a legacy that Boyles suggests provoked concerted efforts by Romantic poets such as Wordsworth and the Methodist leaders John and Charles Wesley to cleanse it of its derogatory associations While they distanced themselves from enthusiasm's dangerous and hysterical manifestations writers and religious leaders also identified with the precepts and inspiration of a language and religion of the heart Boyles's analysis encompasses a range of literary genres from the Methodist sermon and hymn to literary biography critical review lyric and epic poem Balancing analysis of creative content with a consideration of its critical reception she offers readers a detailed analysis of Wordsworth's relationship to popular evangelism within an analytical framework that incorporates Samuel Taylor Coleridge Robert Southey and William Hazlitt

Marginalia: Valckenaer to Zwick Samuel Taylor Coleridge, 1969 Life in Christ Mark A. Garcia, 2008-04-01 In three wide ranging case studies Mark A Garcia offers a comprehensive yet focused analysis of the centrality of union with Christ in Calvin's thought It explains not only the distinctive nature of Calvin's response to Rome on justification but why this response must be carefully distinguished from that of his Lutheran counterparts The fruit of these investigations is the first extensive demonstration that Calvin's exposition of union with Christ in relating justification and sanctification points to an emerging Reformed theology of justification that diverges from the Lutheran tradition Calvin's exegetical and theological model of union with Christ accents the importance in the early Reformed tradition of the relationship between Christology and salvation The Secret Life of Things Uncover the Hidden Histories and Strange Origins of Everyday Objects

Naomi Clarke, Generated by EbookAI Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen's Life Writing Julie A. Eckerle, 2016-04-01 Juxtaposing life writing and romance this study offers the first book length exploration of the dynamic and complex relationship between the two genres In so doing it operates at the intersection of several recent trends interest in women's contributions to autobiography greater awareness of the diversity and flexibility of autobiographical forms in the early modern period and the use of manuscripts and other material evidence to trace literacy practices Through analysis of a wide variety of life writings by early modern Englishwomen including Elizabeth Delaval Dorothy Calthorpe Ann Fanshawe and Anne Halkett Julie A Eckerle demonstrates that these women were not only familiar with the controversial romance genre but also deeply influenced by it Romance she argues with its unending tales of unsatisfying love spoke to something in women's experience offered a model by which they could recount their own disappointments in a world where arranged marriage and often loveless matches ruled the day and exerted a powerful pervasive pressure on their textual self formations
