Maritime Heritage:

Maritime Heritage Amelia Khatri, AI, 2025-03-19 Maritime Heritage unveils the often overlooked maritime history of Africa asserting its central role in global maritime heritage rather than a peripheral one The book challenges Eurocentric narratives by exploring ancient African shipbuilding traditions and extensive pre colonial trade networks It highlights the ingenuity of African societies in crafting vessels suited to various environments and reveals how these networks facilitated the exchange of goods ideas and cultural practices reshaping our understanding of early technological innovation A key insight is the significant contribution of African sailors in global exploration often overshadowed in mainstream historical accounts The book is structured into three major sections beginning with African Shipbuilding Traditions then Maritime Trade Networks and finally African Sailors in Global Exploration It uses a range of sources including archaeological findings and oral histories to give voice to African experiences By adopting an Afrocentric perspective Maritime Heritage challenges prevailing biases and promotes a more inclusive understanding of world history emphasizing the need to critically examine power dynamics that have shaped historical narratives and offering a more nuanced and accurate account of the past

S, Captain. P. Rajendran, 2025-07-15 Revisiting the Coast: New Practices in Maritime Heritage Joan Lluís Alegret Tejero, Eliseu Carbonell Camós, 2014-07 The texts in this book examine the processes that are currently transforming maritime features into cultural heritage More than the state of maritime culture per se the book focuses on the way in which this heritage is being constructed and used today The authors set out their respective approaches based on ethnographic and historical case studies from all over the Iberian Peninsula Catalonia Galicia Andalusia and the Basque Country and from Yucatan Mexico and Brittany France The aim of presenting these different outlooks on maritime culture as heritage is to help bring together the theory and the practice of maritime heritage n n Threats to Our Ocean Heritage: Deep Sea Mining Charlotte Jarvis, 2025-10-21 This open access brief is a pioneering work that is one of the first book publications to cover underwater cultural heritage and deep seabed mining Bringing together a variety of perspectives the work is designed to serve several purposes and educate a few different types of readers The work introduces and offers a history on deep seabed mining the legal context and how it fits into the new UN Convention on Law of the Sea on the Conservation and Sustainable Use of Marine Biological Diversity of Areas beyond National Jurisdiction BBNJ treaty the International Seabed Authority DSM governing body and the ecological impacts of deep seabed mining The brief is also aimed at marine ecologists and other ocean scientists who may already be aware of the DSM and the ecological impacts but not of the cultural heritage at risk It introduces deep water archaeology to them and a few case studies of heritage at risk like in New Zealand or polluting wrecks Finally the book offers suggestions for steps forward and case studies of cultural heritage being included in environmental impact assessments By the end of the book all parties should feel educated enough to begin championing a ban on or more regulations for seabed mining One additional strength of the book is that it gives voice to those without a traditional academic background Intangible cultural heritage has been a hotbed issue in mining regulations and many indigenous voices especially from the Pacific have been loudly outspoken at the ISA While writing thousand word academic journal articles was not in their wheelhouse they have given permission for their speeches to be transcribed and included in the book This will bring a new set of voices into the scientific discourse on the issue The book is also set up to have many images to de mystify the deep and show readers the beauty that must be protected
