Maritime Transport Liberalization and the Challenges to Further Its Implementation in Chile José Carlos Mattos, María José Acosta, 2003 Maritime Cabotage Law Aniekan Akpan, 2018-12-17 This is the most comprehensive review of maritime cabotage law It introduces the new theory of Developmental Sovereignty to jurisprudence The maritime cabotage law provisions and approaches as adopted in many states and jurisdictions has been extensively scrutinised This book challenges the established and accepted wisdom surrounding maritime cabotage by presenting new reasoning on the underpinning principles of the concept of maritime cabotage law The book offers a vibrant discussion on the adjustment in the regulatory approaches of maritime cabotage from one that was intrinsically premised on the idea of national sovereignty to one that now embraces the broader ideology of development It investigates what the common understanding of the law of maritime cabotage should be and on what intellectual basis it can be justified It reduces the inconsistencies and confusion that surround the concept and application of maritime cabotage law to provide a more certain and more robust concept of maritime cabotage Chile's integration strategy : is there room for improvement ? financialised economies the impact on deindustrialisation its effect on inequality external capital movements and monetary policies The second section analyses the failure of comparative advantages of the export led model in Colombia Argentina and Mexico Finally the last section deals with the growth of financial balance sheets in small and developing economies such as Chile how growth investment and big corporation evolution were affected in Brazil and Mexico and the effects of foreign exchange activity in Mexico Through these discussions this book aims to deepen the understanding of the crisis of financialisation and the export led model raising the question of whether it is possible for this model to continue or if it requires major readjustments to unfold economic growth This book provides a distinctive analysis of the financialisation mechanisms in developing countries in order to emphasise affinities and differences between the countries of the region in productive and financial terms It will be of great interest to economic and social science scholars and students to journalists specialising on economic and development issues and more importantly to policy makers

Latin America and Asia Pacific Trade and Investment Relations at a Time of International Financial Crisis Mikio Kuwayama, José Elías Durán Lima, Marcelo LaFleur, 2010 The global economic crisis has put an end to a period of worldwide expansion and halted the integration of Latin America and developing Asia with the international economy Current and expected economic weakness in the advanced economies has led us to look elsewhere for sources of growth Emerging economies in Asia and Latin America have increased their contributions to world production finance and trade in the past decades In doing so the two regions have deepened their economic ties with significant implications for the recovery of their respective economies In this paper we discuss the impact of the crisis on the commercial patterns inside and outside the Forum for East Asia Latin American Cooperation FEALAC bloc We describe the FEALAC economy and identify existing trade and investment structures and find important structural shortcomings such as a high dependence on inter industry trade between Asia and Latin America We argue that this is also an opportunity for greater integration into bi regional value added chains and that trade and cooperation between the two regions can be an effective means to counterbalance the adverse effects of the current financial turmoil
