Doing History Linda S. Levstik, Keith C. Barton, 2011-01-26 Now in its fourth edition this popular text offers a unique perspective on teaching and learning history in the elementary and middle grades Through case studies of teachers and students in diverse classrooms and from diverse backgrounds it shows children engaging in authentic historical investigations often in the context of an integrated social studies curriculum The central assumption is that children can engage in valid forms of historical inquiry collecting and data analysis examining the perspectives of people in the past considering multiple interpretations and creating evidence based historical accounts In each chapter the authors explain how the teaching demonstrated in the vignettes reflects basic principles of contemporary learning theory thus providing specific examples of successful activities and placing them in a theoretical context that allows teachers to adapt and apply them in a wide variety of settings New in the Fourth Edition Expanded coverage of world history in two new chapters Integration of new technologies to support history instruction Updated classroom examples bibliographies and references

Understand My Muslim People Abraham Sarker, 2004-11-24 For many Americans questions concerns and misunderstandings surround the world s fastest growing religion Islam Abraham Sarker born and raised a devout Muslim knows Islam and understands Muslim people While Sarker was being trained as an Islamic leader God miraculously opened his eyes and touched his heart with the gospel of Jesus Christ He shares his story then provides a clear description of the history beliefs and practices of Islam Sarker concludes by giving us a better understanding of the Muslim mind set and offers practical strategies Christians can use to engage in productive dialogue with Muslims

Power Of Prayer Around The World Glenn Mosley, 2009-07-23 Universally the power of prayer has been recognized by many cultures for immeasurable time Whether it be a part of a formal service recited with a congregation of worshipers or an individual quiet moment prayer is part of the lives of people from a variety of religions There seems to be an innate urge among humanity to connect with a higher source of energy and love when we need guidance or direction and this is called prayer By reading the prayers from religions such as Buddhism Hinduism Christianity and Islam from cultures in Africa India Egypt and China we begin to share the sense of a common experience The deepest inner feelings and longings are similar concern for family assistance in healing a longing for peace or a wish for greater wisdom For some people prayer can be thought of as a way to ask for specific goals or special favors This type of prayer may or may not be effective Another type of prayer exists when all selfish desire is put aside and we feel ourselves in communion with God At this point our greatest wish is that God s will be done There may be pressing concerns that make us turn our sights upward but we learn to let go of the end result At this point prayer becomes a way of opening up to the universal loving creative energy that exists and is far greater than any person could imagine This is the source of miracles of faith and unconditional love Prayer then becomes more than a means to an end it becomes a state of humility and of awe It can exist whether we are washing the floor or composing a symphony Prayer is communion with the Divine a universal loving creative force that exists in a variety of ways for people around the world This book brings together an inspirational collection of prayer suitable for all ages and traditions In addition it offers insight and guidance about the nature of prayer that will be useful for the serious seeker Protestantism Stephen F. Brown, 2009

Examines the history and customs of Protestantism from its beginnings in the 16th century to present day Includes discussions of contemporary issues such as birth control abortion relationship between religion and politics diversity among protestants and more Daughters of the Desert Claire Rudolf Murphy, Megha Nuttall Sayres, Mary Cronk Farrell, Sarah Conover, Betsy Wharton, 2012-05-02 How would the most cherished stories of Christianity Judaism and Islam be different if women were the active central figures This ground breaking collection of short stories brings to life the women daring brave thoughtful and wise who played important and exciting roles in the early days of Judaism Christianity and Islam Join Esther as she stands against injustice and her king to save her people Aisha as she leads hundreds of men into terrifying battle and Mary as she and Elizabeth dream of the new lives growing inside them How must Sarah have felt turning Hagar out into the desert And how must Hagar have felt traveling from the safety and security of Abraham's land toward an uncertain future These stories invite us to come to know and appreciate the struggles and triumphs of these women mothers daughters believers and seekers
