International Handbook of Research in Arts Education Liora Bresler, 2007-01-26 Providing a distillation of knowledge in the various disciplines of arts education dance drama music literature and poetry and visual arts this essential handbook synthesizes existing research literature reflects on the past and contributes to shaping the future of the respective and integrated disciplines of arts education While research can at times seem distant from practice the Handbook aims to maintain connection with the live practice of art and of education capturing the vibrancy and best thinking in the field of theory and practice The Handbook is organized into 13 sections each focusing on a major area or issue in arts education research International Handbook of Research on Children's Literacy, Learning and Culture Kathy Hall, Teresa Cremin, Barbara Comber, Luis C. Moll, 2016-10-31 The International Handbook of Research in Children s Literacy Learning and Culture presents an authoritative distillation of current global knowledge related to the field of primary years literacy studies Features chapters that conceptualize interpret and synthesize relevant research Critically reviews past and current research in order to influence future directions in the field of literacy Offers literacy scholars an international perspective that recognizes and anticipates increasing diversity in literacy practices and cultures Critical Dispositions Greg Dimitriadis, 2012-06-12 Set against the current proliferation of global difference and economic realignment Critical Dispositions explores the notions of evidence and expertise in times of material scarcity Both have come to the forefront of national and international debate in education as evidence and evidence based research and pedagogical practices continue as major trends in educational policy Author Greg Dimitriadis maintains this debate is best understood as part of a broader rise in professional and managerial discourses in various aspects of educational research and practice Each aims to control and contain some aspect of research and practice in ways that are increasingly specific and targeted As demonstrated through examples from critical intellectuals and artists outside the field of education this current proliferation of specific autonomous fields of inquiry and practice marks a much deeper ambivalence about our contemporary moment and how we understand it Following Bourdieu and other theorists Dimitriadis argues that educational researchers and practitioners today must be increasingly self reflexive about the positions they take up in various fields of inquiry what they allow us to see and to understand what they blind us to This kind of self reflexivity however is becoming increasingly difficult today as material demands and dislocations are forcing educators to occupy particular fields in more specific ways Unpacking this tension and offering alternative thinking tools is at the core of this volume
