Dyck,2005-02-08 As members of various and often conflicting communities how do we reconcile what we have come to understand as our human rights with our responsibilities toward one another With the bright thread of individualism woven through the American psyche where can our sense of duty toward others be found What has happened to our love even our concern for our neighbor In this revised edition of his magisterial exploration of these critical questions renowned ethicist Arthur Dyck revisits and profoundly hones his call for the moral bonds of community In all areas of contemporary life be it in business politics health care religion and even in family relationships the right of individuals to consider themselves first has taken precedence over our responsibilities toward others Dyck contends that we must recast the language of rights to take into account our once natural obligations to all the communities of which we are a part Rethinking Rights and Responsibilities at the nexus of ethics political theory public policy and law traces how the peculiarly American formulations of the rights of the individual have assaulted our connections with and responsibilities for those around us Dyck critically examines contemporary society and the relationship between responsibilities and rights particularly as they are expressed in medicine and health care to maintain that while indeed rights and responsibilities form the moral bonds of community we must begin with the rudimentary task of taking better care of one another Municipal Management Annelise Venter,2007 Book the constitutional dispensation as it affects municipalities the strategic orientation of municipalities within the global and national contexts the capacities and resources available best practices as far as management processes procedures and methods are concerned The book explores the multifaceted nature of municipal management in South Africa and focuses the readers attention on selected key strategic issues such as local economic development local democracy disaster risk reduction COVID-19: Individual Rights and Community Responsibilities J.
