Scandalous Knowledge Science Truth And The Human:

Scandalous Knowledge Barbara Herrnstein Smith, 2006 Throughout the recent culture and science wars the radically new conceptions of knowledge and science emerging from such fields as the history and sociology of science have been denounced by various journalists scientists and academics as irresponsible attacks on science absurd denials of objective reality or a cynical abandonment of truth itself In Scandalous Knowledge Barbara Herrnstein Smith explores and illuminates the intellectual contexts of these crude denunciations A preeminent scholar theorist and analyst of intellectual history Smith begins by looking closely at the epistemological developments at issue She presents a clear historically informed and philosophically sophisticated overview of important twentieth century critiques of traditional rationalist realist positivist accounts of human knowledge and scientific truth and discusses in detail the alternative accounts produced by Ludwik Fleck Thomas Kuhn Michel Foucault Bruno Latour and others With keen wit Smith demonstrates that the familiar charges involved in these scandals including the recurrent invocation of postmodern relativism protect intellectual orthodoxy by falsely associating important intellectual developments with logically absurd and morally or politically disabling positions She goes on to offer bold original and insightful perspectives on the currently strained relations between the natural sciences and the humanities on the grandiose but dubious claims of evolutionary psychology to explain human behavior cognition and culture and on contemporary controversies over the psychology biology and ethics of animal human relations Scandalous Knowledge is a provocative and compelling intervention into controversies that continue to roil through journalism pulpits laboratories and classrooms throughout the United States and Europe

The Cambridge Companion to Literature and Science

Steven Meyer, 2018-05-03 In 1959 C P Snow lamented the presence of what he called the two cultures the apparently unbridgeable chasm of understanding and knowledge between modern literature and modern science In recent decades scholars have worked diligently and often with great ingenuity to interrogate claims like Snow's that represent twentieth and twenty first century literature and science as radically alienated from each other The Cambridge Companion to Literature and Science offers a roadmap to developments that have contributed to the demonstration and emergence of reciprocal connections between the two domains of inquiry Weaving together theory and empiricism individual chapters explore major figures Shakespeare Bacon Emerson Darwin Henry James William James Whitehead Einstein Empson and McClintock major genres and modes of writing fiction science fiction non fiction prose poetry and dramatic works and major theories and movements pragmatism critical theory science studies cognitive science ecocriticism cultural studies affect theory digital humanities and expanded empiricisms This book will be a key resource for scholars graduate students and undergraduate students alike

Handbook of British Romanticism Ralf Haekel, 2017-09-11 The Handbook of British Romanticism is a state of the art investigation of Romantic literature and theory a field that probably changed more quickly and more fundamentally than any other traditional era in literary studies Since the early 1980s Romantic studies has widened its scope significantly

The canon has been expanded hitherto ignored genres have been investigated and new topics of research explored After these profound changes intensified by the general crisis of literary theory since the turn of the millennium traditional concepts such as subjectivity imagination and the creative genius have lost their status as paradigms defining Romanticism The handbook will feature discussions of key concepts such as history class gender science and the use of media as well as a thorough account of the most central literary genres around the turn of the 19th century The focus of the book however will lie on a discussion of key literary texts in the light of the most recent theoretical developments Thus the Handbook of British Romanticism will provide students with an introduction to Romantic literature in general and literary scholars with a discussion of innovative and groundbreaking theoretical developments Posthumanism Stefan Herbrechter,2013-08-01

What does it mean to be human today The answer to this question which is as old as the human species itself is becoming less and less certain Current technological developments increasingly erode our traditional humanist reflexes consciousness emotion language intelligence morality humour mortality all these no longer demonstrate the unique character and value of human existence Instead the spectre of the posthuman is now being widely invoked as the inevitable next evolutionary stage that humans are facing Who comes after the human This is the question that posthumanists are taking as their starting point This critical introduction understands posthumanism as a discourse which in principle includes everything that has been and is being said about the figure of the posthuman It outlines the genealogy of the various posthuman scenarios in circulation and engages with their theoretical and philosophical assumptions and social and political implications It does so by connecting the philosophical debate about the future of humanity with a range of texts including examples from new media popular culture science and the media The Routledge Companion to the Environmental Humanities Ursula

Heise,Jon Christensen,Michelle Niemann,2017-01-06 The Routledge Companion to the Environmental Humanities provides a comprehensive transnational and interdisciplinary map to the field offering a broad overview of its founding principles while providing insight into exciting new directions for future scholarship Articulating the significance of humanistic perspectives for our collective social engagement with ecological crises the volume explores the potential of the environmental humanities for organizing humanistic research opening up new forms of interdisciplinarity and shaping public debate and policies on environmental issues Sections cover The Anthropocene and the Domestication of Earth Posthumanism and Multispecies Communities Inequality and Environmental Justice Decline and Resilience Environmental Narratives History and Memory Environmental Arts Media and Technologies The State of the Environmental Humanities The first of its kind this companion covers essential issues and themes necessarily crossing disciplines within the humanities and with the social and natural sciences Exploring how the environmental humanities contribute to policy and action concerning some of the key intellectual social and environmental challenges of our times the chapters offer an ideal guide to this rapidly developing field

Ingram,2011-11-04 The interdependence of boundary questions and the experience of cognitive dissonance reveal that knowledge in all fields of inquiry is always incomplete and tentative The issues are particularly acute for Christian theological reflection Ingram illustrates the importance of boundary questions and cognitive dissonance as a means of creatively transforming contemporary Christian theological reflection through dialogue with the natural sciences and the world s religions particularly Buddhism filtered through the lenses of Whiteheadian process philosophy The Mangle in Practice institutions and intellectual projects that shape the humanities within and beyond the university The collection which is written by a group of highly distinguished scholars from around the world is divided into two sections In the first part authors engage in depth with Latour s work while also rethinking the ties between the humanities and the sciences Essays argue for greater attention to the nonhuman world the urgency of climate change and more nuanced views of universities as institutions The second half of the volume contains essays that reflect on Latour s influence on the practices of specific disciplines including art the digital humanities film studies and political theory Inspiring conversation about the relevance of actor network theory for research and teaching in the humanities Latour and the Humanities offers a substantial introduction to Latour s work while discussing the humanities without falling back on the genres of either the sermon or the jeremiad This volume will be of interest to all those searching for fresh perspectives on the value and importance of humanistic disciplines and thought Contributors David J Alworth Anders Blok Claudia Breger Dipesh Chakrabarty Yves Citton Steven Connor Gerard de Vries Simon During Rita Felski Francis Halsall Graham Harman Antoine Hennion Casper Bruun Jensen Bruno Latour Heather Love Patrice Maniglier Stephen Muecke Barbara Herrnstein Smith Nigel Thrift Michael Witmore     Artful Experiments Philipp Erchinger,2018-09-30 Reads Victorian literature and science as artful practices that surpass the theories and discourses supposed to contain them     Managing Knowledge in the Construction Industry Alexander Styhre,2009-05-07 Knowledge management presents a new way of understanding organizations and companies and is especially suited to sophisticated and highly technical firms and operations such as those in the construction industry This new book draws on hard data from three separate research programs in Sweden and shows how the concept of knowledge can make sense in the construction industry an industry which can be viewed in essence as being engaged in the material transformation of nature into buildings In particular it explores and examines three different businesses a medium sized construction firm Wing rdh Architecture Sweden s most prestigious architecture firm and BESAB a specialist concrete injection firm working on underground construction An emerging theme is the situational and context bound nature of knowledge in the construction industry thus showing knowledge to be a remarkably heterogeneous concept A range of readers should find the book useful from students and construction managers through to researchers     Climate Realism Lynn Badia,Marija Cetinić,Jeff Diamanti,2020-12-28 This book sets forth a new research agenda for climate theory and aesthetics for the age of the Anthropocene It explores the challenge of representing and conceptualizing climate in the era of climate change In the Anthropocene when geologic conditions and processes are primarily shaped by human activity climate indicates not only atmospheric forces but the gamut of human activity that shape these forces It includes the fuels we use the lifestyles we cultivate the industrial infrastructures and supply chains we build and together these point to the possible futures we may encounter This book demonstrates how every weather event constitutes the climatic forces that are as much social cultural and economic as they are environmental natural and physical By foregrounding this fundamental insight it intervenes in the well established political and scientific discourses of climate change by identifying and exploring emergent aesthetic practices and the conceptual project of mediating the various forces embedded in climate This book is the first to sustain a theoretical and analytical engagement with the category of realism in the context of anthropogenic climate change to capture climate s capacity to express embedded histories and to map the formal strategies of representation that have turned climate into cultural content
