Many Cultures Many Heritages:

The European Heritage Gerard Delanty, 2017-07-06 Gerard Delanty offers a critical interpretation of the European heritage today in light of recent developments in the human and social sciences and in view of a mood of crisis in Europe that compels us to re think the European past One of the main insights informing this book is that a transnational and global perspective on European history can reorient the European heritage in a direction that offers a more viable way for contemporary Europe to articulate an intercultural identity in keeping with the emerging shape of Europe and with its own often acknowledged past He argues that the European heritage is based less on a universalistic conception of culture than on a plurality of interconnecting narratives Such a perspective opens up new directions for scholarship and public debate on heritage that are guided by critical cosmopolitan considerations that highlight contention resistances competition and dissonance He argues that the specificity of the European dimension of culture is in the entanglement of many cultures rather than in an original culture The cultures of Europe are not separated but have been shaped in close interaction with each other and with the non European world Nations are not therefore unique exceptional or fundamentally different from each other The outcome of such intermingling is a multiplicity of ideas of Europe that serve as shared cultural reference points

Digital Libraries for Cultural Heritage Tatjana Aparac-Jelušić, 2022-05-31 European digital libraries have existed in diverse forms and with quite different functions priorities and aims However there are some common features of European based initiatives that are relevant to non European communities There are now many more challenges and changes than ever before and the development rate of new digital libraries is ever accelerating Delivering educational cultural and research resources especially from major scientific and cultural organizations has become a core mission of these organizations Using these resources they will be able to investigate educate and elucidate in order to promote and disseminate and to preserve civilization Extremely important in conceptualizing the digital environment priorities in Europe was its cultural heritage and the feeling that these rich resources should be open to Europe and the global community In this book we focus on European digitized heritage and digital culture and its potential in the digital age We specifically look at the EU and its approaches to digitization and digital culture problems detected and achievements reached all with an emphasis on digital cultural heritage We seek to report on important documents that were prepared on digitization copyright and related documents research and education in the digital libraries field under the auspices of the EU some other European and national initiatives and funded projects The aim of this book is to discuss the development of digital libraries in the European context by presenting primarily to non European communities interested in digital libraries the phenomena initiatives and developments that dominated in Europe We describe the main projects and their outcomes and shine a light on the number of challenges that have been inspiring new approaches cooperative efforts and the use of research methodology at different stages of the digital libraries development The specific goals are reflected in the structure of the book which can be conceived as a guide to several main topics and sub topics However the author s scope is far from being comprehensive since the field of digital libraries is very complex and digital libraries for cultural heritage is even moreso

The politics of heritage regeneration in South-East Europe Bold, John,Cherry, Martin,2016-05-24 Recent developments in cultural heritage policy and practice in South East Europe Since 2003 the Council of Europe European Commission joint initiative known as the Ljubljana Process rehabilitating our common heritage has set out to unlock the potential of the region s rich immovable cultural heritage working with national authorities to accelerate the development of democratic peaceful and open societies stimulate local economies and improve the quality of life of local communities In 2003 the region was overcoming the effects of the traumatic transition to a market economy Since then it has been hit hard by the economic crisis of 2008 and more recently by an unprecedented migration crisis Despite the challenges facing the region in the field of cultural heritage the present situation can be seen as an opportunity to use the lessons learned from the Ljubljana Process to avoid the traps laid by the cumulative and sometimes inconsistent heritage protection legislation of the past 60 years overcoming the legacy of the top down approach that privileges the high art canon rather than the local heritage that reflects the culture of everyday life and which often means more to most people The authors suggest that selecting from innovative practice elsewhere could make heritage management smarter so that it more directly meets the needs of modern society and individual citizens This volume reflects the views of international experts involved in the joint initiative and complements earlier studies on the impact of the Ljubljana Process by experts from within the region Heritage for development in South East Europe edited by Gojko Rikolovi and Hristina Miki 2014 and from the London School of Economics and Political Science The wider benefits of investment in cultural heritage Case studies in Bosnia and Herzegovina and Serbia edited by Will Bartlett 2015
