Out Of The Kumbula Caribbean Women And Literature:

Out of the Kumbula Carole Boyce Davies, Elaine Savory, 1990 A volume of essays that seeks to give voice to Caribbean women's concerns Out of the Kumbula Carole Davies, Elaine Fido, 1988 Francophone Post-colonial Cultures Kamal Salhi, 2003-01-01 A collection of discussions of literary texts from areas as diverse as Europe and North Africa the Caribbean and South Asia regions of the world that seem to have only their language in common But despite enormous differences among all the countries where French is spoken Francophone literatures tend to deal with a similar spread of issues This volume positions the study of the Francophone world and its cultures as a comparative project in which post colonial Francophone cultures and the specific alterity of these cultures emerge as inextricable from and essential to an understanding of modern France The volume is organized by region with an international roster of contributions and includes summaries of selected creative and critical works and a guide to selected terms and figures Africana Anthony Appiah, Henry Louis Gates (Jr.), 2005 Ninety years after W E B Du Bois first articulated the need for the equivalent of a black Encyclopedia Britannica Kwame Anthony Appiah and Henry Louis Gates Jr realized his vision by publishing Africana The Encyclopedia of the African and African American Experience in 1999 This new greatly expanded edition of the original work broadens the foundation provided by Africana Including more than one million new words Africana has been completely updated and revised New entries on African kingdoms have been added bibliographies now accompany most articles and the encyclopedia's coverage of the African diaspora in Latin America and the Caribbean has been expanded transforming the set into the most authoritative research and scholarly reference set on the African experience ever created More than 4 000 articles cover prominent individuals events trends places political movements art forms business and trade religion ethnic groups organizations and countries on both sides of the Atlantic African American history and culture in the present day United States receive a strong emphasis but African American history and culture throughout the rest of the Americas and their origins in Africa itself have an equally strong presence The articles that make up Africana cover subjects ranging from affirmative action to zydeco and span over four million years from the earliest known hominids to Sean Diddy Combs With entries ranging from the African ethnic groups to members of the Congressional Black Caucus Africana Second Edition conveys the history and scope of cultural expression of people of African descent with unprecedented depth Children's Literature K. Lesnik-Oberstein, 2004-08-31 Children's Literature New Approaches is a guide for graduate and upper level undergraduate students of children's literature It is structured through critics reading individual texts to bring out wider issues that are current in the field Includes chronology of key events and publications a selective guide to further reading and a list of Web based resources Postcolonial Representations Françoise Lionnet, 2018-07-05 Passionate allegiances to competing theoretical camps have stifled dialogue among today's literary critics asserts Françoise Lionnet Discussing a number of postcolonial narratives by women from a variety of ethnic and cultural backgrounds she offers a comparative feminist approach that can provide common ground for debates on such issues as multiculturalism universalism and relativism Lionnet uses the concept of m tissage or cultural mixing in her readings of a rich array of Francophone and Anglophone texts by Michelle Cliff from Jamaica Suzanne Dracius Pinalie from Martinique Ananda Devi from Mauritius Maryse Conde and Myriam Warner Vieyra from Guadeloupe Gayl Jones from the United States Bessie Head from Botswana Nawal El Saadawi from Egypt and Leila Sebbar from Algeria and France Focusing on themes of exile and displacement and on narrative treatments of culturally sanctioned excision polygamy and murder Lionnet examines the psychological and social mechanisms that allow individuals to negotiate conflicting cultural influences In her view these writers reject the opposition between self and other and base their self portrayals on a m tissage of forms and influences Lionnet s perspective has much to offer critics and theorists whether they are interested in First or Third World contexts American or French critical perspectives essentialist or poststructuralist epistemologies Jamaica Kincaid Lizabeth

Paravisini-Gebert,1999-09-30 With the publication of her novel Annie John in 1985 Jamaica Kincaid entered the ranks of the best novelists of her generation Her three autobiographical novels Annie John Lucy and Autobiography of My Mother and collection of short stories At the Bottom of the River touch on the universal theme of coming of age and the female adolescent s need to sever her ties to her mother This angst is couched in the social landscape of post colonial Antigua a small Caribbean island whose legacy of racism affects Kincaid s protagonists Her fiction rewrites the history of the Caribbean from a West Indies perspective and this milieu colors the experiences of her characters Following a biographical chapter Paravisini Gebert traces the development of Kincaid s craft as a writer Each of the novels and the collection of short stories is discussed in a separate chapter that includes sections on plot character theme and an alternate critical approach from which to read the novel such as feminist A complete primary and secondary bibliography and lists of selected reviews of Kincaid s work complete the study The Routledge Companion To Postcolonial Studies John McLeod,2007-10-09 The Routledge

Companion to Postcolonial Studies offers a unique and up to date mapping of the postcolonial world and is composed of essays as well as shorter entries for ease of reference Introducing students to the history of the great European empires and the cultural legacies created in their wake this book brings together an international range of contributors on such topics as the colonial histories of Britain France Spain and Portugal the diverse postcolonial and diasporic cultural endeavours from Africa the Americas Australasia Europe and South and East Asia the major theoretical formulations poststructuralist materialist culturalist psychological With a comprehensive A to Z of forty key writers and thinkers central to contemporary postcolonial studies and featuring historical maps this is both a concise introduction and an essential resource for any student of postcolonial culture whatever their field Sonic Interventions Sylvia Mieszkowski,Joy Smith,Marijke de Valck,2015-07-14 Sonic Interventions makes a compelling case for the importance of sound in theorizing literature subjectivity and culture Sound is usually understood as our second sense and as our belief in a visually dominated culture prevails remains of secondary interest Western cultures are considered to be predominantly visual while other societies are thought to place more importance on the acoustic dimension This volume questions these assumptions by examining how sound differs from and acts in relationship to the visual It moves beyond theoretical dichotomies between the visual and the sonic the oral and literature and instead investigates sonic interventions in their often multi faceted forms The case studies deal with political appropriations of music and sounds they explore the poetic use of the sonic in novels and plays they develop theoretical concepts out of sonic phenomena and pertain to identity formation and the practice of mixing in hip hop opera and dancehall sessions Ultimately the book brings to the fore what roles sound may play for the formation of gendered identity for the stabilization or questioning of race as a social category and the conception of place Their intricate interventions beckon critical attention and offer rich material for cultural analysis

A Companion to Latin American Literature and Culture Sara Castro-Klaren, 2013-06-04 A COMPANION TO LATIN AMERICAN LITERATURE AND CULTURE The work contains a wealth of information that must surely provide the basic material for a number of study modules It should find a place on the library shelves of all institutions where Latin American studies form part of the curriculum Reference Review In short this is a fascinating panoply that goes from a reevaluation of pre Columbian America to an intriguing consideration of recent developments in the debate on the modern and postmodern Summing Up Recommended CHOICE A Companion to Latin American Literature and Culture reflects the changes that have taken place in cultural theory and literary criticism since the latter part of the twentieth century Written by more than thirty experts in cultural theory literary history and literary criticism this authoritative and up to date reference places major authors in the complex cultural and historical contexts that have compelled their distinctive fiction essays and poetry This allows the reader to more accurately interpret the esteemed but demanding literature of authors such as Jorge Luis Borges Mario Vargas Llosa Octavio Paz and Diamela Eltit Key authors whose work has defined a period or defied borders as in the cases of Sor Juana In s de la Cruz C sar Vallejo and Gabriel Garc a M rquez are also discussed in historical and theoretical context Additional essays engage the reader with in depth discussions of forms and genres and discussions of architecture music and film This text provides the historical background to help the reader understand the people and culture that have defined Latin American literature and its reception Each chapter also includes short selected bibliographic guides and recommendations for further reading

Mapping a Tradition Sam Haigh, 2000 In recent years critical interest in francophone literature has become increasingly pronounced In the case of the French Caribbean the work of several writers Aime Cesaire Frantz Fanon Edouard Glissant and Patrick Chamoiseau for example has gained international recognition and has formed a vital part of more general debates on history culture language and identity in the post colonial world The majority of such writers however have been male and perhaps recalling the preference that France has always shown for the island have come in large part from Martinique Mapping a Tradition Francophone Women s Writing from Guadeloupe aims to explore a different side of francophone Caribbean writing through the examination of selected novels by Jacqueline Manicom Michele Lacrosil Maryse Conde Simone Schwarz Bart and Dany Bebel Gisler Placing the work of these writers in the context of that of their better known male counterparts this study argues that it has provided an important mode of intervention in and disruption of a literary tradition which has failed to address questions of sexual difference and has often excluded issues relating to French Caribbean women At the same time this study suggests that Guadeloupean women s writing of the last thirty years may be seen to constitute a tradition in itself replete with its own influences and inheritances At once within and outside the dominant tradition women s writing from Guadeloupe and Martinique has come to occupy a position at the forefront of contemporary efforts to expand and redefine a still burgeoning corpus of literary and theoretical work Stories of Women Elleke Boehmer,2005-09-03 This text combines Boehmer s keynote essays on the mother figure and the postcolonial nation with incisive new work on male autobiography daughter writers the colonial body the trauma of the post colony and the nation in a transnational context Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization Helen C. Scott,2016-04-08

Caribbean Women Writers and Globalization offers a fresh reading of contemporary literature by Caribbean women in the context of global and local economic forces providing a valuable corrective to much Caribbean feminist literary criticism Departing from the trend towards thematic diasporic studies Helen Scott considers each text in light of its national historical and cultural origins while also acknowledging regional and international patterns Though the work of Caribbean women writers is apparently less political than the male dominated literature of national liberation Scott argues that these women nonetheless express the sociopolitical realities of the postindependent Caribbean providing insight into the dynamics of imperialism that survive the demise of formal colonialism In addition she identifies the specific aesthetic qualities that reach beyond the confines of geography and history in the work of such writers as Oonya Kempadoo Jamaica Kincaid Edwidge Danticat Pauline Melville and Janice Shinebourne Throughout Scott s persuasive and accessible study sustains the dialectical principle that art is inseparable from social forces and yet always strains against the limits they impose Her book will be an indispensable resource for literature and women s studies scholars as well as for those interested in postcolonial cultural and globalization studies Women's Labor in the Global Economy Sharon Harley,2007 Examines the ways in which women across the globe individually and collectively are responding to new economic pressures and historical circumstances that are shaping their lives Postcolonial Traumas Abigail Ward,2015-10-12 This collection of essays explores some new possibilities for understanding postcolonial traumas It examines representations of both personal and collective traumas around the globe from Palestinian Caribbean African American South African Maltese Algerian Indian Australian and British writers directors and artists Moving Beyond Boundaries (Vol. 2) Carole Boyce-Davies,Molara Ogundipe-Leslie,1995-04 V

1 International dimensions of Black women s writing Confining Spaces, Resistant Subjectivities Kinana Hamam,2014-08-11 This book represents a significant contribution to academic knowledge making a compelling case for a contemporary analytical re-reading of a number of core postcolonial women's narratives such as Erna Brodber's Jane and Louisa Will Soon Come Home, Buchi Emecheta's The Joys of Motherhood and Mariama B's So Long a Letter. These narratives highlight diversity, contextuality, opposition and metachrony, have a generative literary function and anticipate what have now become postcolonial feminist issues and debates. Bringing together feminist writing from a range of postcolonial contexts, the book contributes to a field represented by the critical writings of Francoise Lionnet, Ketu Katrak and Elleke Boehmer among others. The deconstructive cultural approach of the book is mobilised to support an in-depth literary analysis which focuses on female oppression, difference, voice and agency. Questions of what it means to be a woman and to be postcolonial are read as central debates which emphasise multi-vocal and multi-focal female narratives and perspectives. That is, they highlight the temporal as well as cross-cultural links and implications of the selected narratives which give the project a kind of positive complexity and linkage. Above all, the analysis of several unconventional modes and physical/imaginative spaces of female resistance, such as prison, widow confinement and madness, yields some surprising results that are sustained by a close reading of the texts which are not only attentive to questions of genre, structure, imagery and narrative endings but also oppositional, instructive and reconstructive.

Women's Studies Quarterly (97:3-4) Tuziyline Jita Allan, 1997. Authoritative, creative and groundbreaking original literary essays about an important emerging area of study.

Madness in Black Women's Diasporic Fictions Caroline A. Brown, Johanna X. K. Garvey, 2017-11-04. This collection chronicles the strategic uses of madness in works by black women fiction writers from Africa, the Caribbean, Canada, Europe and the United States. Moving from an over-reliance on the madwoman as a romanticized figure constructed in opposition to the status quo, contributors to this volume examine how black women authors use madness, trauma, mental illness and psychopathology as a refraction of cultural contradictions, psychosocial fissures and political tensions of the larger social systems in which their diverse literary works are set. Through a cultural studies approach, the volume is constructed in three sections: Revisiting the Archive; Reinscribing Its Texts; Slavery and Madness as Historical Contestation. The Contradictions of Witnessing in Conflict Zones; Trauma and Testimony; and Novel Form. Mythic Space; Syncretic Rituals as Healing Balm. The novels under review re-envision the initial trauma of slavery and imperialism, both acknowledging the impact of these events on diasporic populations and expanding the discourse beyond that framework. Through madness and healing as sites of psychic return, these novels become contemporary parables of cultural resistance.

"Colón Man a Come" Rhonda D. Frederick, 2005-01-01. To date, there has been no literary examination of the Colón Man, even though he recurs in 19th and 20th century Anglophone and Francophone Caribbean literatures. Named for Panamá's Caribbean port city, the Colón Man has been the subject of historical, sociological and geographical scholarship. He, however, has escaped the domain of literary investigation until now. Author Rhonda Frederick brings us the first ever book-length study of the literary representations of the Colón Man. Fictive accounts of Panamá migration draw on precisely what has been little documented or not at all. In other words, this region's literature and songs as well as Col n Men s recollections complicate existing studies These first person accounts and creative narratives in the form of song stories literature etc of isthmian migration suggest that fictive renditions of canal work and workers represent Col n Men s undocumented unknown and or ignored realities Col n Man a Come Mythographies of PanamO Canal Migration examines several works of fiction George Lamming s In the Castle of My Skin Michael Thelwell s The Harder They Come Eric Walrond s Tropic Death Claude McKay s Banana Bottom and Maryse Conde s Tree of Life And perhaps most significantly this book relies on the personal narratives and songs of Col n Men to support the forgotten lost ignored and yet imaginable truths of PanamO Canal migration
