Pictures For Language Learning:

Pictures for Language Learning Andrew Wright, 1989-11-16 This richly illustrated book provides a valuable guide to the role of pictures and other visual materials in language teaching. It brings together a wealth of ideas on how to use pictures in a wide range of language learning situations. The first section discusses the contribution visuals can make to all the classroom settings in providing real opportunities for students to communicate whether they are working as a class in groups or in pairs. Sections B and C contain over 200 practical suggestions for picture generated language work. These make use of visual materials which are readily available to teachers anywhere or illustrations which have been kept simple so that they can be copied easily. The activities can be integrated into all stages of the language teaching process and advice is given on how to adapt the ideas to suit different teaching environments. The final section describes the process of setting up a picture library and offers guidance on where to begin looking for visuals, how to categorise pictures and different methods of storage.

Systems for Foreign Language Learning Merryanna L. Swartz, Masoud Yazdani, 2012-12-06 Multilingual communication within the world community is important for economic, political and cultural interactions. In a global environment where other languages are increasing in importance in addition to recognized international standards, i.e. English and French, language learning is becoming more important for improved international relations. At the same time, recent advances in instructional technology make the promise of building intelligent tutoring systems in advanced technology laboratories to teach these language skills a reality in the near future. These tutoring systems therefore may help us foster improved methods for acquiring languages. As active language learners and instructional technology researchers, we felt an international meeting with similar individuals was needed to discuss how such advanced tutoring systems are to be designed and implemented. We held such a meeting, the results of which are presented in this volume. The purpose of this Advanced Workshop, sponsored by the NATO Scientific Affairs Division, was to bring together a multidisciplinary group of researchers who were active in the development of intelligent tutoring systems for foreign language learning. Participants came from computer science, computational linguistics, psychology and foreign language learning. Washington D.C. was selected for the Workshop site since it is Merryanna's home city, the capital of the United States, and an international multilingual community in its own right. Masoud agreed to the location with a promise to be shown the White House and graciously volunteered to coordinate activities from the European side. (Pushing) the Limits of Neuroplasticity Induced by Adult Language Acquisition Jurriaan Witteman,Leticia Pablos-Robles,Maria Carmen Parafita Couto,Niels Schiller,Yiya Chen,Patrick Wong,2018-11-08 Most adults attempt to learn a second or even third language at some point in their life Since language exposure is one of the most intense cognitive training regimes one can encounter it is not surprising that previous research has shown that multilingualism can induce profound change in the brain or neuroplasticity What remains unclear is the scope of such adult language learning induced neuroplasticity In other words much is yet to be investigated about the factors that limit or promote adult language learning induced neuroplasticity On the one hand the present research topic discusses research that sheds light on neural mechanisms that limit adult language learning induced neuroplasticity such as neural mechanisms of first language interference in the acquisition of a second language and reduced opportunity for language induced neuroplasticity due to aging On the other hand the Research Topic discusses factors that could enhance non native language learning and underlying neuroplastic mechanisms such as the duration of the training regime language aptitude and meta linguistic awareness Therefore the goal of the present Research Topic is to examine both the limits of neuroplasticity in adult language learning and the ways to push beyond those limits Understanding of such limits and frontiers to push beyond the limits is not only theoretically fundamental but could also have practical implications for enhancing language training programmes
