Picturing Minnesota 1936 1943 Photographs From The Farm Security Administration:

Picturing Minnesota, 1936-1943 Robert L. Reid, 1989 Picturing Minnesota brings together the best of the images taken in Minnesota from the collection of photographs commissioned by the Farm Security Administration during the depression era and the advent of World War II Among the photographers represented here are John Vachon a native of St Paul Russell Lee Jack Delano Arthur Rothstein and Marion Post Wolcott Outstanding as photographic works of art these pictures are unique in their ability to convey the details of life in Minnesota during those years Publisher's description from lensculture.com John Vachon's America John Vachon, 2003-12-12 From 1936 to 1943 John Vachon travelled across America as part of the Farm Security Administration photography project documenting the desperate world of the Great Depression This collection offers a record of his vision and of America's land and people

Bust to Boom Donald Worster, 1996 In this captivating collection some of America's best known documentary photographers provide a valuable glimpse into a tumultuous time These photographs most never before published show the faces and emotions of FSA aided farmers dust bowl debris and tumbleweeds failed banks and thriving stockyards locomotives and Mexican American railroad workers oil derricks wheat country black cavalry troops and 4 H Club fairs Environmental historian Donald Worster provides historical context for these moving pictures

Picturing Migrants James R. Swensen, 2015-10 As time passes personal memories of the Great Depression die with those who lived through the desperate 1930s In the absence of firsthand knowledge John Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath and the photographs produced for the New Deal's Farm Security Administration FSA now provide most of the images that come to mind when we think of the 1930s That novel and those photographs as this book shows share a history Fully exploring this complex connection for the first time Picturing Migrants offers new insight into Steinbeck's novel and the FSA's photography and into the circumstances that have made them enduring icons of the Depression Looking at the work of Dorothea Lange Horace Bristol Arthur Rothstein and Russell Lee it is easy to imagine that these images came straight out of the pages of The Grapes of Wrath This should be no surprise James R Swensen tells us because Steinbeck explicitly turned to photographs of the period to create his visceral narrative of hope and loss among Okie migrants in search of a better life in California When the novel became an instant best seller upon its release in April 1939 some dismissed its imagery as pure fantasy Lee knew better and traveled to Oklahoma for proof The documentary pictures he produced are nothing short of a photographic illustration of the hard lives and desperate reality that Steinbeck so vividly portrayed In Picturing Migrants Swensen sets these lesser known images alongside the more familiar work of Lange and others giving us a clearer understanding of the FSA's work to publicize the plight of the migrant in the wake of the novel and John Ford's award winning film adaptation A new perspective on an era whose hardships and lessons resonate to this day Picturing Migrants lets us see as never before how a novel and a series of documentary photographs have kept the Great Depression unforgettably real for generation after generation

Hope in Hard Times

Mary Murphy, 2003 Arthur Rothstein Russell Lee John Vachon and Marion Post Wolcott became some of the United States best known photographers through their pictures of Depression era America Their assignment as one of their associates described it was to have a long look at the whole vast complicated rural U S landscape with all that was built on it and all those who built and wrecked and worked in it and bore kids and dragged them up and played games and paraded and picnicked and suffered and died and were buried in it In Montana the four photographers traveled to forty of the state s fifty six counties creating a rich record of the many facets of the Depression and recovery rural and urban agricultural and industrial work and play hard times and the promise of a brighter future The photographers captured the dignity of Montanans as they struggled to scratch out livings from dried up fields nurture families in the shadows of Butte head frames and foster communities on the vast expanses of the northern plains Hope in Hard Times features over 140 Farm Security Administration photographs to illustrate the story of the Great Depression in Montana and the experiences of the photographers who documented it Today these striking images from cities like Butte to small towns like Terry present an unforgettable portrait of a little studied period in the history of Montana Selected from the Farm Security Administration Collection at the Library of Congress in Washington D C the photographs in Hope in Hard Times offer viewers an unparalleled look at life in Montana in the years preceding the United States entry into World War II

Minnesota in Our Time George Slade, 2000 In 120 exquisitely reproduced black and white images Minnesota in Our Time A Photographic Portrait showcases the work of twelve talented photographers who sought to capture the essence of the state and its people at the threshold of the new millennium Like the Farm Security Administration photographers of the Depression era these men and women document the details of life in this time and the transformations now taking place in this state This work is a product of the MINNESOTA 2000 Photo Documentation Project a three year effort that has also produced an archival collection of 360 images and a museum exhibition The project s wealth of images provides a multifaceted look at lives and landscapes in Minnesota focusing on common experiences and themes among a diverse population of individuals Edited by photography historian George Slade the book features a selection of the photographs a lucid interpretive essay by Slade and art historian Robert Silberman a preface by exhibition curator Bonnie G Wilson and brief introductions to and commentaries about each photographer s work Minnesota in Our Time features photographs by Joe Allen Tom Arndt Stephen Dahl Chris Faust George Byron Griffiths Terry Gydesen David Heberlein Wing Young Huie Mark Jensen Peter Latner David Parker and Keri Pickett

Main Street in Crisis Catherine McNicol Stock, 1997-09-01 This study of class during the Great Depression is the first to examine a relatively neglected geographical area the northern plains states of North and South Dakota from a social and cultural perspective Surveying the values and ideals of the old midd

Nontimber Forest Products in the United States Eric T. Jones, Rebecca Jean McLain, James F. Weigand, 2002 A quiet revolution is taking place in America s forests Once seen primarily as stands of timber our woodlands are now prized as a rich source of a wide range of commodities from wild

mushrooms and maple sugar to hundreds of medicinal plants whose uses have only begun to be fully realized Now as timber harvesting becomes more mechanized and requires less labor the image of the lumberjack is being replaced by that of the forager This book provides the first comprehensive examination of nontimber forest products NTFPs in the United States illustrating their diverse importance describing the people who harvest them and outlining the steps that are being taken to ensure access to them As the first extensive national overview of NTFP policy and management specific to the United States it brings together research from numerous disciplines and analytical perspectives such as economics mycology history ecology law entomology forestry geography and anthropology in order to provide a cohesive picture of the current and potential role of NTFPs The contributors review the state of scientific knowledge of NTFPs by offering a survey of commercial and noncommercial products an overview of uses and users and discussions of sustainable management issues associated with ecology cultural traditions forest policy and commerce They examine some of the major social economic and biological benefits of NTFPs while also addressing the potential negative consequences of NTFP harvesting on forest ecosystems and on NTFP species populations Within this wealth of information are rich accounts of NTFP use drawn from all parts of the American landscape from the Pacific Northwest to the Caribbean From honey production to a review of nontimber forest economies still active in the United States such as the Ojibway harvest of plants recounted here the book takes in the whole breadth of recent NTFP issues including ecological concerns associated with the expansion of NTFP markets and NTFP tenure issues on federally managed lands No other volume offers such a comprehensive overview of NTFPs in North America By examining all aspects of these products it contributes to the development of more sophisticated policy and management frameworks for not only ensuring their ongoing use but also protecting the future of our forests

Farm Security Administration Photography, the Rural South, and the Dynamics of Image-making, 1935-1943 Stuart S. Kidd, 2004 While previous studies of the photographic images of the U S southern poor produced by the Farm Security Administration FSA have been discussed in the context of individual photographers or the general culture of the Great Depression and the New Deal Kidd American history U of Reading UK situates his examination of the photographs in the institutional context of the FSA and the role played in photographic production by FSA administrator Roy Stryker The photographs emerged according to Kidd from the dialogue between Stryker and his field photographers about the proper way to document disadvantaged and oppressed groups within the framework of a progressive federal government The resulting productions reveal an uneasy dimension to the relationship between individual and the liberal state and its cadres that is partly an outcome of class cleavages between photographer and subject Annotation 2004 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com FSA Gilles Mora, Beverly W. Brannan, 2006-10 For this remarkable volume Mora and Brannan immersed themselves in the vast archive at the Library of Congress and emerged with unknown treasures Theirs is a new view of the achievement of the FSA photographers the most comprehensive in print that gives them their due as the creators of a new

American photographic vision Women, Art and the New Deal Katherine H. Adams, Michael L. Keene, 2016-01-04 In 1935 the United States Congress began employing large numbers of American artists through the Works Progress Administration fiction writers photographers poster artists dramatists painters sculptors muralists wood carvers composers and choreographers as well as journalists historians and researchers Secretary of Commerce and supervisor of the WPA Harry Hopkins hailed it a renaissance of the arts if we can call it a rebirth when it has no precedent in our history Women were eminently involved creating a wide variety of art and craft interweaving their own stories with those of other women whose lives might not otherwise have received attention This book surveys the thousands of women artists who worked for the U S government the historical and social worlds they described and the collaborative depiction of womanhood they created at a pivotal moment in American history The American Midwest Andrew R. L. Cayton, Richard Sisson, Chris Zacher, 2006-11-08 This first ever encyclopedia of the Midwest seeks to embrace this large and diverse area to give it voice and help define its distinctive character Organized by topic it encourages readers to reflect upon the region as a whole Each section moves from the general to the specific covering broad themes in longer introductory essays filling in the details in the shorter entries that follow There are portraits of each of the region's twelve states followed by entries on society and culture community and social life economy and technology and public life The book offers a wealth of information about the region's surprising ethnic diversity a vast array of foods languages styles religions and customs plus well informed essays on the region's history culture and values and conflicts A site of ideas and innovations reforms and revivals and social and physical extremes the Midwest emerges as a place of great complexity signal importance and continual fascination Picturing Texas Robert L. Reid, 1994 This book focuses on some of the most famous photographs ever taken the Farm Security Administration's images of Dust Bowl Texans But there is much more to the FSA photographs than is commonly believed From 1935 to 1943 the critical years of the Great Depression and World War II the photographers in the federal government's Farm Security Administration and later the Office of War Information documented America especially Texas in all its vast complexity Some of the most famous names in documentary photography including Dorothea Lange Russell Lee and Arthur Rothstein took more than five thousand photographs in Texas more than in any other state In addition to the well known pictures of rural poverty and the Dust Bowl these remarkable artists captured a rich panorama of everyday life in Texas's rural areas small towns and big cities By the time they were done there were few areas and aspects of Texas left undocumented Robert L Reid's text traces the history of the FSA and the OWI and discusses the photographers and their work The book also presents more than two hundred magnificent duotone photographs in chapters on cotton cattle oil cities and towns recreation and leisure the Dust Bowl World War II and other themes Readers will be moved by the vast array of images of town meetings and rodeos down and out farmers and prosperous businessmen beer joints and factories black and brown and white BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved History of Photography
